HORSEMEN IN MAN HUNT AT STOCK YARDS

Friends of William Fillman and Police Seek William Jennings.

STABBED AFTER QUARREL

$200 REWARD OFFERED

Police Called In and Systematic Search for Fugitive Is Begun.

Twenty horsemen from the National Stockyards and six policemen are participating in an excited man hunt in East St. Louis. A reward of $200 has been offered for the capture of William Jennings, a stockyards night watchman, who stabbed William Fillman—popularly known as "Whitie"—in a quarrel Monday afternoon over a tip.

Fillman, a buyer for a Philadelphia concern and for many years a conspicuous figure in the yards, lies in a critical condition at the Henrietta Hospital. The wound is in his right side, and the lung cavity is penetrated. The chances are said to be against his recovery.

The systematic search Tuesday followed a chase late Monday in which nearly 40 men, including a dozen policemen, took part, in buggies and on horseback. Jennings eluded his pursuers by his cleverness in dodging into a house and running through the rear door, and repeating the artifice at his own home, emerging safely less than five minutes before the house was surrounded by a cordon of Fillman's angry friends.

Quarreled About a Tip.

Fillman left a string of horses at the Stockyards Sunday night and called for them at 5 p. m. Monday. It is customary for the horsemen to tip the night watchman when they do this, and Fillman gave Jennings $1. Jennings was 40 years old that day, and he said that in view of the anniversary he thought he ought to have more. Fillman refused to give it, and the night watchman retorted by telling Fillman he was "cheap."

Angered at the epithet, Fillman struck Jennings. The night watchman stepped back, opened a pocket knife and sprang at the buyer. In the sharp struggle which followed Fillman gave a cry. Jennings leaped back, still clasping the open knife, and Fillman sank to the floor, fainting.

Friends Heard His Cry.

A large number of horsemen were congregated, according to their custom, along the thoroughfare on which the sale stables, offices and auction ring face. The Western Sale Stable, in which the affray occurred, is near the auction ring. Fillman's cry was heard by idlers outside, who rushed into the stable. In the rear door Jennings stood in indecision. On the floor near the entrance was the figure of a wounded man.

Martin Farrel, an employe at the stable and a witness of the fight, pointed at Jennings.

"There's the man that did it," he cried. "Let's get him."

Jennings turned and fled through the stock pens, dodging in and out with great agility. He ran east until he left the yards and then made his way to a boarding house at Second and Baugh streets. A crowd of half a dozen men on foot was in pursuit.

Jennings dashed into the front door of the boarding house and without hesitation continued through the back door into the yard. He scaled the rear fence, ran through an alley and thence by a devious course through vacant lots and across fields made his way in a general southeasterly direction to his home at 714 North Sixth street.

Followed on Horseback.

Some of the pursuers, suspecting that Jennings would go home when they found that he had left the boarding house, obtained horses and galloped to the house. In the meantime a telephone message to police headquarters brought a patrol wagon full of men to the scene. The dwelling was surrounded and searched. Jennings was not there. John Roberts, the brother-in-law with whom he lived, said he had not seen him. The police supposed that he had run through the house without stopping, as at the boarding house.

A searching party was then systematically organized. The policemen were taken into buggies with the stockmen, all of whom knew Jennings well. The stockyards company offered a reward of $100 and a subscription among friends of the wounded man resulted in doubling that amount.

The hunt continued until long after dark, parties riding through the streets, dismounting to search saloons and the homes of Jennings' friends, darting through alleys and peering into barns. The Willows, a tract of waste land covered with a thicket of heavy growth north of East St. Louis, was searched, but not thoroughly.

The search was renewed with increased ardor Tuesday. The horsemen from the yards declared they enjoyed the excitement. The Willows were again the object of close scrutiny, but the undergrowth there is so thick that the movements of the hunters is greatly impeded.

Fillman is known as "White" on account of his gray hair and his custom of wearing a white hat. He is 45 years old, married, and lives at 634 North Seventh street, East St. Louis. Jennings has two sons. His wife is dead.

Rebate Cases Appealed.

Records of appeal in the Kansas City rebate cases were filed Tuesday in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis. The cases were brought by the Government. Three appeals were filed. They were in the cases of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, which was fined $15,000 for giving rebates to the Armour Packing Co.; George L. Thomas, fined $6000 and sentenced to six months in the Henry County Jail for conspiring to obtain rebates, and L. B. Taggart, fined $4000 and sentenced to three months in Jail on a similar charge.

FINK NOT TO BE PROSECUTED BY HILDEBRAND

Wounded Man Says He Won't Proceed Against Friend's Husband.

WOMAN CARES FOR HIM

Mrs. Fink's Story Shows Man Made Mistake in Marrying Younger Person

HILDEBRAND MAY LIVE

Wounded Letter Carrier Vows on Cot He Is Through "Chasing Around."

Edward Hildebrand of 8524 Water street, who was shot early Monday by Samuel Fink of 119 East Schirmer street as he was leaving Ehlinger's wine garden in St. Louis County with Mrs. Sophia Fink, wife of Fink, declined Tuesday to make any statement to the county authorities about the shooting, further than to say that he would not prosecute Fink.

A man who would not give his name called on Fink at the Carondelet Police Station Tuesday and told Fink that he had done right and promised to give him all the financial assistance he might need for defending charges against him.

Mrs. Sophia Fink has not made up her mind whether she will stand up for her husband or for Hildebrand.

She likes both of them, she says, and it will be rather hard for her to decide which to favor when it becomes necessary for her to testify.

Just now, as Hildebrand is fighting for his life on a City Hospital cot with a bullet in his lung, she sympathizes more with him than with her husband, in a First District Police Station cell, and is devoting her attention to him. She accompanied him to the hospital early Monday and was back at noon to see him and stayed as long as the nurses would allow, but she has not been to see her husband. She is inclined to censure him for shooting Hildebrand without giving him a chance to defend himself.

"If he had done it in a fair fight it wouldn't have been so bad," she says.

If Hildebrand lives it is not probable that Mrs. Fink will help her husband's case very much. Concerns of the present rest rather lightly on Mrs. Fink's spirits and she is not disposed to deal with contingencies until they arise.

In Doubt Over Testimony.

She has heard about the "unwritten law" and knows that her husband pleads it in justification of his act and appreciates what the effect would be if she should testify that her husband had reason to be jealous of Hildebrand, but she does not know whether she will so testify.

Mrs. Fink is decidedly pretty, with large blue eyes, set well apart, a broad brow, rounded cheeks, a well-formed nose, small mouth and attractive figure. She is capricious and wilful, but good-natured and light-hearted. What anxiety she indulges is for Hildebrand.

"If he should die I would feel awful bad," she told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I would think that I was to blame for it."

According to Mrs. Fink's own story, Fink himself of quiet tastes and temperate, settled habits, made the mistake of marrying a girl 10 years younger than he, too pretty and too fond of pleasure and admiration to be contented with the easy-going domestic life which satisfied all his requirements.

"My husband is 30," said Mrs. Fink, "and I am 20. We were married three years ago. We had known each other only two months. We got along well together until lately. He always treated me well. He never beat me or anything like that. And he provided well enough for me.

"But he isn't like me. He is so settled. Regular old grandpa, you know. He wanted to stay home evenings and I wanted to go out and have some fun. He would go with me, but he doesn't dance, you know, and he would just sit around all evening and I would have to dance with other men. I hated to do it, but I'm crazy to dance. That was the whole trouble between us. He

FIRE DESTROYS A MINING TOWN IN CALIFORNIA

Two miners were killed and 25 buildings were destroyed.

PAID BILL THEN DIED.

Money Given to Landlord Had Odor of Carbolic Acid

Leonard Collins, 40 years old and without relatives or close friends, committed suicide Tuesday in his room at 1426 Cass avenue. He drank about four ounces of carbolic acid and died while Dr. O. L. Wolter of 1446 Blair avenue worked over him. Collins lived at 2847 Montgomery street.

A few minutes before Collins fell across the bed dying he handed his landlord a $5 bill. The landlord noticed Collins looked pale then, but never thought of suicide. Afterwards he noticed the money smelled of acid. He believes Collins drank the poison, gave him the bill and then collapsed.

Cullom Controls 15 on State Committee.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—The new State Committee stands 9 Deneen men, 10 Cullom men, 3 Busse, 1 Lowden, 1 Sherman and 1 Hopkins.

As between Deneen and Cullom, the Busse following will stand with Cullom, as will both Hopkins and Lowden representatives, giving the Cullom men 15 of the 20 members on the committee.

Wathier, Vail, Healy, Severson, Snively, Kinney, Springer, Potter and Pease are out-and-out Deneen men.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Republican platform adopted this afternoon opens by proclaiming a new faith by the party in Illinois to the cardinal principles of Republicanism as expressed in its national platform of 1904.

Of the tariff the platform says:

"We do not hold that any particular schedule of tariff duties must be of endless duration, but, on the contrary when changing business and industria conditions shall be benefited by a modification of any existing tariff schedule, the Republican party holds itself ready to make such needed changes. The necessity for such changes, however, must not arise from any special interest, but must arise from a fair and candid consideration of all of the business and industrial interests of the whole country."

Full approval to the legislation of the last session of the national Congress was given, this plank concluding as follows:

"Believing as we do that interests of the American people are best safeguarded and accelerated by the policies of the Republican party, and believing that a Democratic House of Representatives would block those policies and the course of administration, and that a Republican Congress is essential to the continued successful national administration, we call upon the people of Illinois to see to it that the Republican delegation in Congress from this State shall not be lessened by a single member."

The policy of the national administration was commended and President Roosevelt was characterized "as one of the bravest, most fearless and most just men who ever held the high office of the President of the United States."

Rain Cools Delegates.

Promptly at noon Roy O. West, chairman of the State Central Committee, attempted to call the Republican State Convention to order, but the delegates were slow in taking their seats and 10 minutes elapsed before order was secured.

Andrew Russell, who carried the State on popular vote for State Treasurer, brought a band into the hall at noon and for several minutes it whooped up things for Russell.

Thomas Williamson, the strong-lunged statesman from Madison County, was made reading clerk, and Senator O. F. Berry was elected temporary chairman.

Chairman Berry took a rap at Roosevelt when he said:

"Don't persecute the corporations just because they are corporations."

Reference to Speaker Cannon's brilliant leadership over the last Congress, "making him an illustrious candidate for President," produced loud cheers.

Almost without warning a heavy downpour of rain broke over the convention hall. Upper windows that had been taken out because of the heat were hastily replaced when the water poured through upon the delegates. Quickly the heat temperature was relieved by a cool atmosphere that brought comfort and relief to the 5000 persons in attendance.

By the adoption of the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization, Edward Shurtleff of Marengo, Speaker of the last General Assembly, was made chairman, and Homer J. Galpin of Cook was made secretary.

Means Hopkins' Elimination.

Shurtleff's selection upon Deneen's insistence means much in Illinois politics, chiefly the elimination of United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, whose term expires two years hence. It means that Deneen will seek renomination as Governor, with a view to succeeding Hopkins, and that Shurtleff will be the nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, to succeed Deneen in the gubernatorial chair, if the latter is successful in his aspirations. Shurtleff comes from Hopkins' district, but his selection as permanent chairman at Deneen's behest and his acceptance concludes his allegiance to Hopkins and makes him a factor in the new State machine.

The nomination of a candidate for State Treasurer was the first order of business. Chairman Shurtleff stated that under the law the delegates should vote their county instructions on the first rollcall. Because there were four candidates no choice resulted on the firs tballot, and another rollcall was ordered. This insured the nomination of John F. Smulski of Cook, the Deneen candidate, despite the fact that Andrew Russell of Morgan carried the State on the popular vote by a plurality of 7000. The other two candidates were Joseph B. Messick of East St. Louis and Aden Knopf of Olney, Richland County.

RAVENS IN TIE; RAIN DELAYS GAME

HARTSEL SCORES FIRST

He Singles, Is Advanced to Third and Scores on Seybold's Bunt.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The Ravens and Athletics were tied in the seventh inning of the first game of the double-header this afternoon.

Koehler's great running catch of yesterday is said to be the star catch of the season. After a long run, he barely touched the ball, but managed to hold it, turned a somesault and completed a double play at first.

The weather was threatening today and but 6000 fans were on hand at the opening of the first game.

Hartsel got the first run of the game in the fourth on his Texas leaguer, an out, a confused signal between Wallace and Howell allowing him to go to third, and Seybold's safe bunt, which belonged to Howell, but which Jones tried to get.

Knight's poor judgment allowed the visitors to tie the score in the seventh, for Hemphill, who had doubled, scored when Knight threw Wallace's hit to Davis.

The batting order:

Ravens—	Philadelphia—
Niles 3b.	Hartsel lf.
Jones 1b.	Lord cf.
Stone lf.	Davis 1b.
Hemphill rf.	Seybold rf.
Wallace ss.	Oldring 3b.
O'Brien 2b.	Cross ss.
Koehler cf.	Knight 2b.
Spencer c.	Powers c.
Howell p.	Bender p.

Umpire—O'Loughlin.

FIRST INNING.

RAVENS—Oldring threw to Davis in time to nip Niles. Hartsel was waiting for Jones fly. When Bender struck out the hard-hitting Stone, the fans went wild NO RUNS.

PHILADELPHIA — Hartsel fanned. Lord was out on fast work, O'Brien to Howell, who covered first. O'Brien's throw to Jones beat Davis. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

RAVENS—Hemphill was easy for Cross and Davis. Knight was under Wallace's fly. Knight was again there on a quick throw to first of O'Brien's grounder. NO RUNS.

PHILADELPHIA—Seybold was several yards shy on a grounder to O'Brien. Oldring was an easy proposition for Wallace and Jones. Niles ran to catch Cross' foul. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

RAVENS—Koehler was Bender's second strike-out victim. Spencer's drive, deflecting from Bender's glove, landed within Monte's reach and he threw him out. Oldring and Davis settled Howell. NO RUNS.

PHILADELPHIA—Stone was the real thing here, making easy catches of three flies from Knight, Powers and Bender. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

RAVENS—After Niles had been retired, Oldring to Davis, Jones got on base, being hit. Stone flied to Lord. Monte threw Hemphill out after a sensational one-handed stop, robbing Charles of a hit. NO RUNS.

PHILADELPHIA—The first hit off Howell and the first of the game went to Hartsell, a Texas Leagues over second. Lord died on a great throw by Wallace to Jones. A mixup on the signal between Howell and Wallace to catch Hartsell napping at second enabled "Topsy" to make third. Davis walked. Jones ran in for Seybold's bunt, which would have been easy for Howell, giving "Socks" a hit and allowing Hartsell to race home with the first run. Oldring and Cross fanned. ONE RUN.

TWO DAYS' RAIN TO BRING RELIEF FROM RECORD HEAT WAVE

Scattered Raindrops Come Opportunely After Day of Discomfort, During Which Two Die and Eight Are Overcome—Aged Man Dies After Suffering in Humidity.

THE TEMPERATURE.

8 a. m. 79	11 a. m. 80
9 a. m. 80	Noon 80
10 a. m. 79	1 p. m. 80

Tuesday's forecast: Partly cloudy, with occasional showers tonight and Wednesday; slightly cooler. Southerly winds, becoming variable.

IT'S A GOOD THING IT RAINED OUR SOCIETY HAD THE WEATHER MAN'S HOUSE MARKED.

St. Louis breathed a profound sigh of relief when rain began pattering down on streets, lawns and housetops at 9 a. m Tuesday. The general sentiment was compactly expressed in the exclamation, "Fine!" Joy beamed more brightly from human countenances as the beams from the sun were obscured by clouds.

The relief was opportune. The break in temperature came just in time to save the health, and perhaps, the lives, of hundreds, whose vitality had been sapped by the protracted hot wave. For days St. Louis had sweltered, intense humidity adding to the discomfort of the robust and multiplying the sufferings of the weak. Nights during which almost no breeze stirred and the temperature clung tenaciously to figures close to 80, gave little surcease.

Then the rain came, not much of it—but every drop was precious to the hot, tired city. The first big scattered drops soon became a straight-falling drizzle, cooling dusty streets and piles of brick and stone, and refreshing trees and grass.

Thanks for the decrease in temperature is due, the weather man says, to alterations in the areas of high barometric pressure. That over the Southeast is gradually dissipating, while another is forming and moving eastwardly along the Canadian border.

In the Rocky Mountain region and the Northern States cooler weather prevails, but it is still as hot as ever in the Central and Eastern States.

The temperatures in St. Louis were high all Monday night, but they compared favorably with other surrounding places. Beginning with 85 degrees at 3 p. m. Monday, the thermometer gradually registered lower figures. At midnight it showed 80 degrees, at 4 a. m. 77 and at 6, 76. Then it began climbing, until at 9 a. m. it stood at 80 degrees.

The maximum in St. Louis Monday was 89 degrees. In Mexico, Mo., it was 95, in Jefferson City 93, in Warrenton 94, in Ironton 90 and in Unionville 91.

Aged Man Dies From Heat.

Truett White, 61 years old, father of Calvin White, a desk man at the Carr Street Police Station, died at 4 a. m. Tuesday of heart disease, superinduced by heat. White lived at 1330 Merchant street. He awoke his wife early with a cry of pain, and rose to a sitting posture. "I'm dying," he gasped in reply to her frightened question. A physician was summoned, but White was dead when he reached the house. White was a skilled cabinet maker.

Although the highest temperature reported by the Weather Bureau in St. Louis Monday was 89 degrees, the number of heat prostrations was greater than on any preceding day of the summer. Two deaths Monday are supposed to have been partly due to the heat. There were eight prostrations in St. Louis and six others in the vicinity.

The body of a man found early Monday in a vacant lot at 1120 St. Charles street was identified at the Morgue as that of John Schultzky of 1405 Papin street. His death is thought to have been caused by the heat.

A man supposed to be Fred Schaffer was found dead in bed by Jacob Wackworth, proprietor of a rooming house at 321 South Second street. He had been at the rooming house only a few days and was a laborer. He had not been in good health. His death is thought to have been hastened by the warm weather.

Those prostrated by the heat in St. Louis were: Chester Conant, 15 years old, of 224 South Beaumont street, taken to City Hospital; Thomas Phillips, 13, of 16 South Ninth street, taken to the City Hospital; John Hamilton of 2214 Clark avenue, taken to the City Hospital and later to his home; Frank Gemker of 3129 North Twenty-third street, taken to the City Hospital; Edward Cook of 737 South Second street, taken to the City Dispensary and sent home; Mrs. Cora White of 624 South Sixth street, taken home after being treated at the City Dispensary; Loretta Connors, overcome at the Union Market and sent home in an ambulance, and Hugh Gaffney of 2100 North Broadway, sent to the City Hospital.

HEAT IN CHICAGO KILLS 1, PROSTRATES MANY.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—One death and a number of prostrations as a result of heat were reported before noon today. The temperature at 9 o'clock was 85 degrees.

BRYAN MEN LOSE CHAIRMANSHIP OF STATE CONVENTION

Sullivan, After Announcing That He Would Down the Nebraskan's Faction on the First Ballot, Seats Judge Boggs, and Says He Controls the Convention.

CHAIRMAN LAUDS BRYAN; DELEGATES CHEER HIM

Sullivan Declares He Will Defeat Resolution Demanding His Resignation as National Committeeman, and Says, "I'll Indorse Bryan Whether He Likes It or Not."

PEORIA, Il., Aug. 21.——Roger C. Sullivan won the first skirmish in the State convention today whenn his candidate for permanent chairman, Judge Carrol C. Boggs of Fairfield, was elected. The name of Congressman Rainy had beenn presented by the Bryan faction, but Rainey stated that he hd decided to retire and would not accept the nomination.

On the rolcall all the counties voted their entire strength for Boggs, with the exception of Fulton, which challenged the vote on the ground that the delegates had been instructed for Rainey. Rainey later withdrew the challenge, and Boggs' election as permanent chairman was unanimous.

Just before the covention was called to order, Sulivan, whom Bryan is trying to eliminate from national politics, anounced that he controled a majority of the delegates and would put the Bryan faction out of business on the first roll call.

Judge Boggs, upon assuming the gavel, promised that all delegates should have an equal opportunity to be heard and that roll-calls would be granted when asked.

"Among the business that will come before the permanent organization of this convention," continued Chairman Boggs, "the chairhopes, will be an indorsement of that native son of Illinois, that great commoner, William Jennings Bryan."

Amid loud applause following the name if Mr. Bryan, which closed his speech, the chairman announced that the convention was ready for the transaction of business.

At 1:40 p. m. the convention took a recess until 3 o'clock.

"They can bring in any sort of a resolution they want," said Sullivan. "What will happen to their resolutions is another matter. We have the votes to control the convention, and we propose to do it. When it is over, there will be no complaint about gag rule, and the overthrowing of the will of the majority. Everybody will get all the chance he wants."

Before the convention both sides predicted success, Sullivan claiming that he controlled 1400 out of the 1665 delegates and the Bryan people, who are headed by Judge Owen Thompson of Jacksonville and Congressman William T. Rainey, giving no figures, but asserting confidently that they controlled the situation.

They declared that unless the convention followed the wishes of Mr. Bryan and repudiated Sullivan, they would fight to the last against any indorsement of Bryan by the convention. Sullivan declared on the other hand that Bryan would be indorsed whether he liked it or not.

The first skirmish in the Bryan-Sullivan warfare, which is to be waged in the Democratic State Convention here today, was fought outside of the convention hall and was a negative victory for Bryan.

A hard fight was expected over the introduction of the resolution demanding Sullivan's resignation as National Committeeman. The Sullivan men, claiming to control 1400 of the 1665 delegates, were expected to throw all their strength against the consideration of this resolution.

The Rainey-Thompson forces, Bryan's workers, declared positively that they controlled enough votes to place the resolution before the convention. The Sullivan men held a caucus before the convention opened and announced they would not oppose the introduction of the resolution, but would confine their fighting to an attempt to beat it when it goes before the delegates for final action.

Bryan Message Opens Fight.

A dispatch from William J. Bryan declaring that Illinois, if it cares to ride in the Bryan bandwagon at the Democratic National Convention, must oust Roger Sullivan as National Committeeman, was the opening gun in what promises to be the hottest political battle in the history of Illinois State conventions.

Bryan has declared today's convention of national importance. The Rainey-Thompson organization, which is leading the fight for Bryan, took the tip, and throughout last night they worked among the country delegates in an effort to force through the convention today a resolution demanding Sullivan's resignation.

Sullivan's lieutenants were equally active, but when the Bryan men rested at dawn for a breathing spell they announced that the victory was theirs

The success or defeat of the Rainey-Thompson faction depends solely upon the course of the Cook County delegates. Reports say that Mayor Dunne has agreed to deliver 200 of Chicago's delegates to the anti-Sullivan men. With Peoria Convention Is Held Nationally Important by Bryan.

"I deeply regret that I cannot hear the result of today's convention at Peoria while on the ocean. I feel that this is a test case and that it is of national importance.

"While many leaders in politics hold stock in ordinary corporations, the case is vastly different and I want to make the distinction clear to everybody.

"Organization leaders cannot serve the Democratic party while they are personally interested in franchise-holding corporations. Party leadership for the benefit of the people is not possible while the leader is seeking franchises from the national or State legislatures.

"I regard Mr. Sullivan as a man of this type, and the Illinois situation a pivotal case."—W. J. Bryan.

this strength the opponents of Sullivan will be in a position to swing the whole of the down-State representation in line.

The attitude of Mayor Dunne has never been doubted, but his announcement of several days ago created the impression that he would take no part in the fight on Sullivan.

That Mayor Dunne is to stand neutral is no longer the belief. He is not attending the convention, but is represented by several members of his cabinet.

With the organization back of him, it is expected that Sullivan will control the Resolution Committee and hence the Rainey-Thompson resolution will come in as a minority report. This will precipitate the fight upon the floor of the convention. For this reason, the chairmanship of the convention stands out as a leading issue, and one upon which both factions have held frequent conferences during the night.

The Sullivan programme is labeled "Harmony." The resolutions, which it is understood have been prepared for several weeks, will declare for Mr. Bryan for the presidency. The Illinois primary law will be condemned, together with the Republican administrations. A plank declaring for municipal ownership of utilities is considered certain.

Whether the Sullivan programme included an indorsement of the National Committeeman is not known to those outside of the Sullivan organization. That Sullivan will have the hardihood to offer a resolution indorsing himself is not believed. Sullivan wants only to be "let alone." He is advising harmony with every breath, promising Cook County to Democracy. His wish is to have nothing said about the committeemanship, and his efforts are all directed toward hiding the real issue of the convention—silent indorsement or repudiation of his leadership—behind other matters of minor importance.

The Cook County crowd, 2000 strong, arrived yesterday by special train, headed by a band. A parade followed and the Sullivan forces carried transparencies bearing inscriptions: "United Democracy in Cook County Gave Us John P. Altgeld;" "Bryan Was All Right Until Dunlap Got to Europe;" "Partner Dunlap Is for Partner Russell," and "Let Us Have Home Rule."

The Dunlap-Russell transparency has reference to the candidacy of Andrew J. Russell, a member of the firm of Dunlap, Russell & Co. of Jacksonville, for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer before the Springfield convention.

Judge Thompson last night gave out the substance of his resolution. It is worded as follows:

"Resolved, That this convention approves the course of William J. Bryan in requesting the resignation of Roger C. Sullivan as national committeeman for this State, and that this convention joins with Mr. Bryan in making such a request."

GALBRAITH IS AIDED IN ALIBI BY YOUNG SON

State Suddenly Rests Case and Defense Begins Calling Witnesses.

TESTIMONY IS CONTRARY

Prisoners in the Springfield Jail Identify Man Now on Trial.

SAY HE BATTERED DOOR

Others Tell of Seeing Him in the Crowd With a Rope on His Arm.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 21.—The defense in the Doss Galbraith lynching trial had its inning today, from the moment court convened, as, after looking for some witnesses that failed to put in an appearance, the State rested its case. The State's attorneys made the formal announcement that all their evidence was in as soon as court opened, but were induced to withdraw it long enough for the defense to recall two of the State's witnesses who testified yesterday.

Then the defense began the task of establishing an alibi- for Doss Galbraith up to 10:30 o'clock on the night of the lynching and an explanation of his acts on the square after that time. When court adjourned for the noon recess his movements had been explained by the defense witnesses up to the time at which the alibi ends.

He is placed at a second-hand store away from the square during the time the mob was forming, at the house of a friend for an hour during the time that the mob was making the attack on the Jail and with his 13-year-old boy during the rest of the evening on the square until after midnight, when he is claimed by the defense to have gone home with that son and stayed there.

The State did not succeed in breaking into the sequence of events as explained by these witnesses to any purpose. The evidence against their story is principally the testimony of the negro convicts brought to Springfield yesterday from the Penitentiary at Jefferson City.

For their first recall witness, the attorneys for Galbraith examined L. V. B. Rucker, the newspaper reporter who testified for the State yesterday and established the fact that, though he was at the Jail all through the attack by the mob and on the tower in the square until the ropes were rigged to hang the first two negroes, he did not see Galbraith at either place.

Did Not See Galbraith.

"I did not know Galbraith at that time," said Rucker, "but I have met him since and I cannot identify him as a man that I saw that night."

Following Rucker's new testimony there was a long delay while a search was made for Mrs. Bertha Hall, who was also one of the prosecution's witnesses yesterday.

When almost an hour had gone by and there was no news of Mrs. Hall, Val Mason, chief attorney for Galbraith, consented to put on some of his regular witnesses.

He called Virgil Barker, a clerk in a second-hand store, by which the mob passed on their way to the Jail. He testified that Galbraith was in that store when the mob passed; that Galbraith did not leave the store until some time after, and that when he did leave he went in the opposite direction from that in which the mob had gone.

The State made a hard effort to shake this testimony, but failed.

By the time the examination of Barker was completed Mrs. Hall was in court. The defense forced her to admit that she had been tried and convicted twice. Then they tried to get the charge on the record, but failed.

Mrs. Hall was the witness who testified for the State that she was on the square until midnight when the negroes were hanged and heard Galbraith call to a crowd of men to come with him, and then saw him depart in the direction of the Jail.

Douglas Cornelius helped the early evening alibi for Galbraith by sustaining the defense's contention that about 11 o'clock Galbraith was on the city market lot a block and a half away from the public square, talking to his oldest boy. Cornelius swore that he saw Galbraith there.

William Bothman continued the alibi chain by declaring he also saw Doss Galbraith on the City Market just before Both man came to the City Square. The defense having developed the fact that Bothman came to the City Square. The afer seeing Galbraith, and that one of the negroes was hanging when he got there, they will maintain that Galbraith could have had nothing to do with that hanging at any rate.

Galbraith's Son Called.

The calling of Virgil Galbraith, elder son of Doss, precipitated a battle. The State objected to his being allowed to testify, as he had been with his father in the courtroom when the other witnesses had been excluded. The objection was overruled, and the boy, who is 13 years old, was allowed to tell his story to the jury. Virgil told of being out at play late the night of the mob and of meeting his father on the City Market lot. This was between 10:30 and 11 o'clock, he thought.

"I talked with father a minute," he continued, "and then I ran down to the house. I was only there a minute and father waited for me. I came to the square with him and when we got there one negro had been hanged and they were hanging the second one."

Virgil was present at the altercation between Galbraith and Williamson, the story of which was told in court yesterday. The boy's version of this is that Williamson said: "The men who are hanging these negroes are not as good as the negroes they are killing," and that his father threatened to "smash Williamson in the mouth" if he "talked that way again."

The boy insisted that his father went home with him about half-past 12 and did not leave the house again that night. Young Virgil told his story in a straightforward manner and a long cross-examination by Prosecutor Patterson failed to weaken it in any detail.

Boy Could Not Remember.

During the boy's cross-examination, the State made the first attempts at connecting defense witnesses with the mob. This action was predicted several day ago. When Virgil Galbraith passed into their hands they tried to draw from the boy information as to men whom he saw or did not see on the square while he was there the night of the lynching. Some of the names mentioned are supposed to be on the list of secret indictments in conection with the lynching.

The State got no information from Galbraith's son, as he could not remember seeing any of the men mentioned. Virgil also told of seeing his father near the Jail before the negroes were taken from the Jail.

With these two meetings, one before the taking of the negroes and the other after, as a basis, Prosecuting Attorney Patterson went after the boy, hammer and tongs, in an effort to show that he was mistaken in the time that he met his father on the market lot. But it was useless. He could only get one answer from him—the one the boy first made—"I saw my father at Booneville and Center streets before the negroes were taken from the Jail, and I met him on the city lot afterward and came to the square with him."

Galbraith's movements on the night of the mob were further explained by Mrs. Mattie Tallmann, who furnished his alibi from about 9:15 to 10:15 by testifying that he was at her house with her husband during that time.

John Flory was the witness selected by the defense to pick up the alibi thread with the departure of Galbraith from the Tallmann house. Flory testified that he met the defendant on the square at about 10:30 o'clock. This part of the alibi, with what went before, keeps Galbraith away from the Jail at the time the mob first went there and made the attack.

Flory declared that he and Galbraith went to the Jail together after they met on the square. The defense intended to prove further by him that they went on a suggestion from Galbraith that they go and see if they could be of any aid to the officers, but the State's lawyers fought against the introduction of the conversation between Flory and Galbraith and they were successful, as Judge Lincoln excluded this portion of Flory's testimony.

"Did you see Galbraith on the tower in the square while the lynching was going on?" boldly asked Attorney Mason.

"No, sir, I did not," said Flory.

Flory testified that after the negroes had been burned he got a small piece of the rope which had hanged them.

One of the most interested spectators of today's proceedings was Mrs. Mary Duncan, mother of Horace Duncan, the second negro who was hanged. Mrs. Duncan slipped into the courtroom by a side door just before court convened and sought a seat in the rear of the room.

All were taken, however, and the old woman, clad in deep mourning, was taken in tow by a Deputy Sheriff and given a seat in front of the Judge's bench in the space reserved for attorneys and court officers.

There she sat during the morning session listening to every word and shaking her head violently whenever mention was made of the death of her son at the hands of the mob.

The State has established what looks like a strong case against the prisoner, though he may shatter it by the alibi that he will interpose as a defense. Galbraith admits being in the crowd after the first two negroes were hanged, but declares that he was raising his voice in the interest of law and order. He denies that he was at the Jail or in the crowd before the first negroes were taken from their cells.

Several prisoners in the Jail have sworn that Galbraith was one of the first men to enter the prison, and other witnesses have testified that they saw Galbraith in the crowd with a rope over his arm.

SIX OF JURORS SAID THEY HAD OPINIONS

The fate of Doss Galbraith is in the hands of a jury, most of whom qualified after stating plainly that they had an opinion regarding the lynching cases. Generally, it is a jury of middle-aged and elderly men and most of them are farmers. Following is a digest of their attitude toward the mob, according to the testimony they gave when they were being examined for qualification:

GEORGE FLANNERY—Has formed an opinion. It would require strong evidence to remove it. Said that in his opinion he could not try the case fairly.

J. P. SNEED—Has both formed and expressed an opinion. Believed himself biased from hearing so much talk about the lynchings.

GEORGE SMITH—Has formed an opinion, but believed he could try the case fairly and impartially.

C. J. DIEMER—Has no opinion.

M. P. ROGERS—Has formed an opinion from reading the newspapers, and also did not want to sit in this case because he knew Galbraith.

P. C. FREEMAN—Has no opinion regarding guilt or innocence of Galbraith, but has a fixed opinion regarding the mob.

WM. JUSTICE—Has not formed an opinion and will be governed by law and the evidence.

E. E. HUSSEY—Must be perfectly satisfied with evidence before he will convict.

J. C. JOHNSON—Has no opinion.

E. F. WILSON—Has heard much talk about the mob, but formed no opinion.

GEORGE VANZANT—Has an opinion, but says it will not interfere with his verdict.

FRED PECK—Has no opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of Galbraith.

FLANAGAN AND STONE.

"Fire Alarm" Resents Senator's Attack on Roosevelt.

Politicians have just heard of an interesting incident that occurred at a political meeting at Barnard, Mo., a few days ago, at which Senator Stone and "Fire Alarm" Flanagan of Carthage were the principal speakers.

Flanagan is a Republican. Senator Stone spoke first, and in the course of his address took occasion to lambast the administration of President Roosevelt and to attack the President personally.

Senator Stone is quoted as saying: "Mr. Roosevelt is a hypocrite, an admitted falsifier and a man entirely unworthy of the confidence of the American people. He is the greatest bluffer and the biggest grandstand player we ever had in the White House."

Several of the spectators applauded the Senator's remarks, but others, among them Flanagan, did not.

"Get up and answer him, John," said a Republican who had listened with disgust to Senator Stone's effort.

"All right, I will, if they give me a chance," said Flanagan, and he was invited to the platform later.

Bowing graciously, he began:

"Ladies and gentlemen—I did not come here prepared to make a speech. But I am glad I was present. I heard all that Senator Stone said. All I have to say in answer is that there are two men in Missouri who have no right to attack the personal character of anybody.

"You all know them well, 'Bill' Stone and 'Fire Alarm' Flanagan."

FOLK VOTE THE BASIS.

Delegate Primary Question Debated by Committee.

The Democratic City Central Committee will meet next Monday night to decide whether the Democratic candidates are to be chosen by a delegate or dirct primary. At the meeting of the committee Monday night, Dr. Simon's motion for a delegate primary was tabled by a vote of 15 to 10. If the delegate primary is adopted it was suggested that one delegate be allowed for every 200 votes cast for Gov. Folk in 1904. The City Central Committee will be chosen by direct vote, no matter what manner of primary is held.

Robert H. Kern, president of the Jefferson Club, announced to the committee the appointment of James A. Smith, Building Commissioner, as chairman of the Ward Organization Committee, in place of Excise Commissioner Mulvihill, resigned.

The Meaning of the Wedding Finger!

The symbols adopted by man to express his deeper sentiments and emotions sometimes are grounded more deeply in nature than appears on the surface. The wedding-ring is a pretty symbol, and its significance is well understood. But how many people know why the third finger is the ring finger. An anatomist has given this explanation:

It is the only finger where two principal nerves belong to two distinct trunks; the thumb is supplied with its principal nerves from the radical nerve, as are also the forefinger, the middle finger, and the thumb side of the ring finger, while the ulnar nerve furnishes the little finger and the other side of the ring finger, at the point or extremity of which a real union takes place; it seems as if it were intended by nature to be the matrimonial finger.

FLAME-PENNED FIREMEN JUMP THROUGH BLAZE

Flats, Offices, Stables and Warehouses Destroyed in East Side Fire.

HORSES CLUBBED AWAY

Members of Awakened Families Given No Time to Save Furniture

A girl's scream and a dog's bark at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday gave the alarm of fire that completely destroyed a block of buildings and rendered 50 persons homeless in East St. Louis. A row of frame flats, occupied by nine families, the lumber yard and offices of the Mississippi River Lumber Co., the offices and warehouse of the M. E. Meyers Coal and Feed Co. and Silas Coon's coal office, burned to the ground, no property being saved except several horses and two wagons. The loss is estimated at $80,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

Margaret Elson, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eckelberry, who occupied the flat at 1425 Market avenue, was sleeping on a quilt in front of the rear door. She was awakened by the barking of a dog belonging to Thomas Ratcliffe, who occupied the next flat. She saw flames in the rear, seemingly in the northwest corner of the lumber sheds.

She woke the family with her cries of fire.

Walter Eckenrodd, who lives across the street, saw the flames and awakened William Lathrop, his next-door neighbor. Lathrop leaped out of bed, putting on his shoes as he ran, and kicked at the doors of the flats to wake the sleeping occupants. Eckenrodd turned in an alarm at a nearby box.

As the families occupying the buildings saw the flames they hurriedly began to carry out their goods. Before any articles of furniture could be removed it was impossible to re-enter the building, which now seemed ablaze from one end of the row to the other. B. V. Ratcliffe attempted to enter a second time to save more of his belongings and was badly burned about the hands and arms. Several men ran to the stables of the lumber company and the Meyer Coal Co. and untied the horses, running them out into the open lot.

As Engine Company No. 5 came down the street the loosened horses became frightened and dashed back towards the fire. Ed Meehan, captain of No. 5's, jumped from the reel, ran between the fire and the stampeding horses, shut the stable doors, and, with clubs, drove the 10 horses into vacant lots. All the fire companies were called out, and seeing that the block of buildings and the flats were doomed, they turned to saving the surrounding buildings.

Firemen Are Surrounded.

Ed Meehan and Tim Donohue climbed to the roof of the cottage at 1418 Walnut avenue, occupied by William Schwartz, to direct the men, but that building was on fire and they were surrounded by the flames before they realized their danger. Both were compelld to jump through the flames 20 feet to the ground. Neither was injured. The cottage was almost totally destroyed.

The burned buildings were situated in the block bounded by Fifteenth street, Walnut avenue, Fourteenth street and the Southern Railroad tracks. Two of the cottages east of Fourteenth street were saved. The Mississippi River Lumber Co.'s buildings, of which L. D. Abbott is president, occupied about half of the burned territory. The offices and lumber yard occupied the ground floor and the upstairs was all flats. The building was a two-story frame and was 150 by 100 feet.

The E. M. Meyers Coal Co. occupied another two-story frame building immediately adjoining. The ground floor and part of the second floor was used as offices and coal and feed warehouses. Meyers and his family occupied part of the second floor. A large amount of inflammable material from the World's Fair grounds was piled in the rear yards. The Coons Coal Co. office was in the southwest corner, and a small building occupied by Zelman Suppleman was in the southeast corner of the burned area. All of these were a total loss. The flats extended from 1422 to 1436 Walnut avenue.

This block of buildings is surrounded on the west and north sides by numerous cottages, separated only by narrow streets. The Bradford Coal and Feed Co., across the street, was on fire, but was saved. Cottages across the street occupied by A. Donnelson and Thomas Cauliffe, 1425 and 1427 Walnut avenue, were on fire several times, but were only slightly damaged.

Hose Burst When Laid.

Two cars standing on the railroad tracks, one loaded with coal and the other empty, were destroyed. Several other cars were pulled out before they were burned. For some time the buildings of the Hezel Milling Co. were in danger.

The heat was so intense and the street were so narrow that the Fire Department had trouble in keeping streams playing on the fire. When the lines of hose were laid along the street, the hose burst, and new hose had to be brought.

The families occupying the burned flats, and who lost all of their property, were those of B. V. Ratcliffe, A. D. Dodson, Tipton Bell, George Eckelberry, M. E. Meyers, Amian Rosell, William Schwartz and Zelman Suppleman.

Wanted Son Locked Up.

Miles Holesworth of Webster Groves tried to have his 13-year-old son, Allen, locked up in the Clayton Jail Tuesday because the boy is sometimes untruthful, and sometimes takes money from his mother's purse. Holesworth took the boy to Clayton and requested Deputy Jailer Morrison to lock him up. Morrison told him that he could not do so. Holesworth insisted, saying that the boy was incorrigible and he could do nothing with him and he ought to be locked up. Morrison finally convinced him that the Jail was not for such purposes and he reluctantly went back to Webster, taking the boy with him.

MAN SHOT WHILE WITH WOMAN NOT TO PROSECUTE

didn't want me to go to dances so much, and I would go.

"I didn't know that he was jealous of Hildebrand, though. He never told me so, and if he ever warned Hildebrand I never heard of it. I got acquainted with him last winter at a dance. After that we often met accidentally at dances and I danced with him, but that was all.

Gives Her $6, Departs.

"Saturday night my husband complained again about my going so much to dances. He said something about that fellow that I was running with, but I told him I wasn't running with any fellow. We kept on talking and at last he said if I didn't quit going to dances he would leave me. I said I wouldn't quit going to dances. 'Then I'll leave you,' he said, and I said 'All right.' He gave me $6 to pay the rent and went away.

"Sunday night I went to Klausmann's Garden. I did not know Hildebrand was going to be there, but he was and went to Ehlinger's Cave. As we were coming back we met my husband. It was pretty dark and I did not see him until he was right in front of us. He said this thing had gone far enough, or something like that, and fired two shots. I don't think he gave Hildebrand a fair chance. Of course, though, I guess he had a right to be mad when he saw us together, and he didn't shoot Hildebrand from behind.

"I went with Hildebrand in the ambulance to the hospital and stayed around there some time, but I couldn't hear anything about him and I came away.

"I went back at noon and sat with him until they came and told me I would have to leave. The time passed so quick. It wasn't regular visitors' day, you know. I'm going back visitors' day.

"I don't know yet which one I'm going to stick up for. I like both of them. Of course, Fink is my husband and Hildebrand is only a friend, but he has been kind to me. I don't think my husband ought to have shot him the way he did. If he dies—yes, I've heard of the 'unwritten law.' Well, as I say, I don't know whom I'd stick up for if it came to that. I don't know whether I would testify that my husband had a right to be jealous of Hildebrand or not. I'll make up my mind about that when the time comes. But Hildebrand and I have only been good friends."

Mrs. Fink was dressed in black. She said her somber attire had no reference to recent events. She smiled cheerily as she talked and manifested no depression of spirits. Her pet dog ran out the front door and capered down to the Broadway corner. Mrs. Fink followed solicitously and rounded him up and romped back to the house with him. "He has no license," she explained.

Her husband, who gave himself up Monday afternoon, pleading the "unwritten law" in justification of his act, is still locked up at the Carondelet station. His wife has not been to see him. A warrant will be asked for against him Tuesday and he will then be transferred to the Four Courts.

Hildebrand Has Chance.

Physicians in charge of Hildebrand at the City Hospital stated Tuesday that the man has about an even chance to live, with the odds possibly slightly in his favor. Hildebrand himself said he was feeling much better Tuesday, and could talk with little trouble, whereas it gave him intense pain to speak Monday.

The wounded man talked freely of the shooting to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday. He said:

"I guess I have met Mrs. Fink 15 or 20 times before, but I have never made an engagement with her previous to meeting her. Nor have I ever called at the Fink home on any pretense. I knew her pretty well, having first met her about six months ago. Our meetings were always accidental. She is a frequenter of the park, and I go there often, as I live not far away.

"I went to the park early Sunday evening, stayed for a short time and then went back to town. An hour or so later I returned to the park. As I passed the cave I saw Mrs. Fink and two companions standing at the entrance. I joined them and the four of us entered the park. We had several drinks, but none of us was under the influence of liquor. After sitting around for a short time Mrs. Fink and myself danced a time or two. During one of these dances she said, 'Sam has left me. He said this morning he was going away.' I asked her why he left her. She replied, 'Oh, because he thinks I run around too much.'

"'Well, I don't blame him,' I told her. I thought she ran around a great deal for a married woman, although that seemed to be her only failing.

"We left the park shortly before midnight for home. She and I were walking ahead of the other two. Suddenly a man jumped from behind a clump of bushes about 15 feet away. He said, 'You've gone as far as you're going to, Hildebrand.' Not until then did I recognize him. As he spoke he shot twice. I think it was the first shot that hit me. No, I don't think he was aiming at his wife—I think he meant it for me.

Companions Ran Away.

"As soon as he shot, all the others ran off, and I also started to run. Mrs. Fink must have stayed behind, but I was thinking of something else, not of her. I walked to the loop at Mannion's Park and sat down on a box in an alley near a saloon. I don't know how long I sat there. Pretty soon a man came along and saw me. He asked me what was the trouble and I told him. He took me into the saloon. A woman in there, whom I never before saw, volunteered to take me home on a car. I got off the car and walked about a block and a half to my home.

"Fink and I have had no trouble before. In fact, we know each other only by name, and say 'Hello' on the street. He has always seemed to regard me as a friend."

"Did you know he had threatened to kill you if you did not stop 'running around with his wife?' he was asked.

"Did I? Well, I should say not! If I had, I wouldn't be here! And another thing is that he will never get a chance to do this again."

In explanation he said he was through "chasing" around. Hildebrand denied that he was married—and refrained from discussing his reported engagement.

SALLOW FACES

Often Caused by Coffee Drinking.

How many persons realize that coffee so disturbs digestion that it produces a muddy, yellow complexion?

A ten days' trial of Postum Food Coffee has proven a means, in thousands of cases, of clearing up bad complexions.

A Washn. young lady tells her experience:

"All of us—father, mother, sister and brother—had used tea and coffee for many years until finally we all had stomach troubles more or less.

"We were all sallow and troubled with pimples, breath bad, disagreeable taste in the mouth, and all of us simply so many bundles of nerves.

"We didn't realize that coffee was the cause of the trouble until one day we ran out of coffee and went to borrow some from a neighbor. She gave us some Postum and told us to try that.

"Although we started to make it, we all felt sure we would be sick if we missed our strong coffee, but we were forced to try Postum and were surprised to find it delicious.

"We read the statements on the pkg., got more, and in a month and a half you wouldn't have known us. We were all able to digest our food without any trouble, each one's skin became clear, tongues cleaned off and nerves in fine condition. We never use anything now but Postum. There is nothing like it."

SHE WILL WED CHINESE.

St. Louis Girl to Be Married on East Side.

Charley Lum, a Chinese, and Grace McKay, a St. Louis girl with auburn hair, were granted a marriage license in East St. Louis Tuesday. Announcement was made that the ceremony would take place Thursday, and that Rev. M. E. Meyer, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, would perform the ceremony.

Grace McKay went to East St. Louis Saturday to visit Mrs. Lee Troy, who, as May DePung of St. Louis became the wife of a Chinese three weeks ago. Lee Troy operates a laundry at 607 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis. Charley Lum and Grace McKay were acquainted in St. Louis, but Lum was not acquainted with Troy. Grace McKay said nothing about her Chinese sweetheart following her, but he was made welcome, and all have shared the Troys' hospitality since they arrived on the East Side.

GOT WARRANT FOR MAX GUMPERTS

John Scherrer Says Saloonkeeper Assisted in Vicious Attack on Him.

WAS USING TELEPHONE

Says Deputy Constable Refused to Make an Arrest After the Fight.

John Sherrer, a saloon keeper at 6303 Olive Street road, was attacked by several men and beaten severely in Max Gumperts' saloon in the county early Tuesday after he had called upon a deputy Constable to arrest a man who was kicking a woman who had been knocked down. Scherrer swore out a warrant before Justice Preiss at Clayton for thet arrest of Gumperts. He said the proprietor was the only one of his alleged assailants he knew.

Scherrer was one of a number of invited guests at a chicken supper in the saloon, which is just east of Delmar Garden. Between 12 and 1 Tuesday mornign several men engaged in a saloon fight. One of the fighters, more sturdy than hte others, knocked several men down and then floored a woman. When he kicked her repeatedly as she lay upon the floor Scherrer, according to his version of it, as told Judge Preiss, called upon George Walthers, a deputy Constable, to arrest the man who was maltreating the woman.

"I can't arrest him unless Gumperts says so," said Walthers, according to Scherrer.

"I am a citizens and demand that you as an officer arrest that man," said Scherrer.

"Well, I can't do it unless Max will stand for it," reiterated the county Constable, according to Scherrer.

"If you won't take a hand I will call Sheriff Herpel myself," said Scherrer.

As he stepped to the telephon eto call Sheriff Herpel some one who he did not see struck him a hard blow upon the head. As Scherrer turned he was struck again. This time it was Gumperts who hit him, he alleges. Four or five men knocked him down, punched and beat him for several minutes, he says, during which Gumperts said: "You're trying to run my place, ain't you—calling up the Sheriff? Trying to run my place, eh?"

Scherrer had not changed his clothing when he appeared before Justice Preiss. He still wore the same blood-stained shirt and clothes and he called the Judge's attention to the appearance of his garments as well as the gash over one eye. The warrant was turned over ot Sheriff Herpel for service.

TENNENT INSURANCE.

Western Travelers' Association Asks Court to Decide.

An interpleader's suit was filed Tuesday in the Circuit Court by the Western Commercial Travelers' Association against Louisa H. Tennent, Christina May Tennent and John H. Tennent, mother, widow and minor son respectively of the late John H. Tennent Jr., who killed himself in May, 1906, following the failure of the Tennent Shoe Co., of which he had been an officer, his father being its president.

The petition sets forth that "Jack" Tennent became a member of the Western Commercial Travelers' Association May 5, 1895, holding a certificate entitling the beneficiary to $4000 benefit at the time of his death. He named his mother as beneficiary. Feb. 8, 1896, he made his wife the beneficiary instead of his mother, and June 25, 1898, named his father as beneficiary. May 15, last he again changed back to his mother, naming her in place of his father. He died in Webster Groves May 28 last.

The petition states that the Western Commercial Travelers' Association wants to know to whom the $4000 must be paid, and alleges that the mother and the wife and son of the late "Jack" Tennent have demanded it. The wife's claim, the petition explains, asserts that the mother is not entitled to be the beneficiary, as she was not a member of the immediate family of the deceased, and that the two families had lived separate from each other since Feb. 8, 1896.

The association states that it holds the money subject to payment, but does not desire to be defendant in suits that might arise concerning its payment, wherefore it asks permission to pay the $4000 to the Clerk of the Circuit Court and let the interested parties come into court and plead. It also asks that a next friend be appointed for the minor son of "Jack" Tennent, to represent him in the legal proceedings.

POLICY HOLDERS SEEKING CONTROL

Missourians, With Others, Organize to Oust Big Managements.

ELECT TRUSTEES OCT. 18

Movement Threatens Francis, Chosen by the Officers in Control.

A vigorous campaign, featured with all the intensity and excitement of a political contest, is being conducted in Missouri among the policy holders of the New York Life Insurance Co. and the Mutual Life Insurance Co. for the purpose of ousting the present management of those corporations. Directing the fight in this State is former Congressman F. G. Niedringhaus, a member of the International Committee of Policy Holders.

Richard Olney of Boston is chairman of the International committee and Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, is the secretary. The prize of victory involves control of $900,000,000 of assets.

There are 15,000 policy holders of the Mutual Life in Missouri, while the New York Life Insurance Co. has written insurance on the lives of 27,000 Missourians. These policy holders will be asked to vote for a new board of trustees for each of the two big companies. Agents of both companies are opposing the movement, which will be carried on in every county of the State.

C. A. Williard is president of the Missouri Association of New York Life Policy Holders. He has opened offices in the Frisco Building.

The Missouri committee is now engaged in the work of transcribing from the official records the names of all policy holders in Missouri of the two companies named.

Other States meanwhile are carrying on a similar campaign.

Charles A. Peabody of New York is president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. and William Orr holds a similar position with the New York Life Co. Both are closely associated with J. Pierpont Morgan and other Wall street financiers.

Movement Against Francis.

Former Gov. Francis is one of the trustees selected by the present management. The movement of the policy holders' committee therefore threatens the official decapitation of Mr. Francis. Mr. Niedringhaus is said to be the favorite candidate of the opposition. The New York Life Co. has 24 trustees and the Mutual 36. About one-half are residents of New York and the others residents of outside States.

Under the Armstrong law, recently enacted by the New York Legislature, the policy holders are entitled to vote at the election. The polls will open for the election Oct. 18 and will remain open for two months. Voting will be by ballot and by mail. In marking ballots, policy holders will have the opportunity of choosing between the candidates nominated for directors by the present insurance managements and those nominated by the policy holders through the international committee.

A letter has been sent to each policy holder, cautioning him not to authorize any agent of the companies to vote for him. This communication is signed by the following: Napoleon P. Broward, N. C. Blanchard, Russell E. Conwell, Edgar E. Clark, George Gray, J. Frank Hanly, J. C. Hemphill, Harlow W. Higginbotham, John A. Johnson, Z. A. Lash, Nicholas Longworth, Frederick G. Niedringhaus, Samuel Newhouse, Fremont Older, Charles C. McCabe, Richard Olney, Samuel W. Pennypacker, Alton B. Parker, Henry Roberts, A. M. Shook, Charles Emory Smith, Benjamin F. Tracy, Thomas B. Wanamaker, Heinrich Weigand, Lord St. Oswald and Charles Roux.

Would Vote by Mail.

It is the purpose of the international committee to have the voting conducted by mail, thereby obviating the necessity of giving any proxies, hence the committee advise against giving proxies to anyone and especially to agents soliciting them. Policy holders in both the New York Life and the Mutual of New York, where they have either associations or organized committees, have been asked to suggest names to represent their localities as candidates for members of the Board of Directors to be elected.

From this list of names the committee, after a careful canvass, will select a ticket, which, together with instruction blanks, will be submitted to the policy holders for their approval by ballot as the law provides.

The fight of the International Committee is not against the interests of these mutual companies, but to protect the interest of the policy holders by remedying the evils that grew out of a vicious practice on the part of the officers to continue themselves in power.

Embroideries at Half Price

Flouncings and Wide Edges

DESIRABLE lengths of beautiful embroidery, which are "manufacturers' ends"—not remnants, but no remnants could be marked at lower prices than these fresh embroideries just imported from St. Gall. Prices are exactly half those at which these same goods sell from the pieces.

WOMEN ACCUSE TWO POLICEMEN

File Affidavits Charging Them With Accepting Meals and Presents.

GILLASPY IS DOUBTFUL

Men Declare That Stories Are Result of Their Official Activity.

Acting Chief of Police Gillaspy is investigating affidavits filed against Policemen George M. Kinsey and Andrew J. Matlock of the Central District in which the officers are charged with accepting presents and favors from women in a house conducted by Lottie Craig, alias Henry, at 1002 Walnut street. The accused officers emphatically deny the charges.

The affidavits, seven in number against each officer, are sworn to by Lottie Craig and six other persons. They allege that Kinsey and Matlock have spent a great deal of their time in the Walnut street house, eating and drinking at the expense of the women, when they should have been attending to police duty, and that the women bought one of the policemen a gold ring with a red stone setting when he expressed a wish that he had one like his brother officer.

Lottie Craig is the same woman who a few months ago called on Chief Gillaspy and threatened to "spiel on" him if he did not order his policemen to let her alone. She said she would tell things she knew about the Chief when he was a Sergeant. Chief Gillaspy ordered the woman taken before the grand jury with the injunction that she be made to tell everything she knew. On the way to the grand jury room the woman broke down and cried and said she was only bluffing.

Chief Gillaspy says he is not satisfied with the affidavits against Kinsey and Matlock and will investigate them thoroughly before filing charges against the policemen.

Records of the City Hall Police Court show that Officers Kinsey and Matlock have been waging an active campaign against the house conducted by Lottie Craig. She has been fined $50 time and again by Judge Tracy, while fines of $10 have been frequently assessed against others arrested there. Matlock and Kinsey both declare that the affidavits against them are the result of spite. They say the women threatened to "get even" with them if they did not quit raiding the house. The previous records of the accused policemen are good. Neither of them has ever been before the board on charges.

"Since the police graft investigation women like Lottie Craig have an idea that they can swear an officer's life away if they don't like him," said Chief Gillaspy. "It would be a rank injustice to Kinsey and Matlock if I were to file charges against them without investigating these affidavits. If I find there is any truth in the charges I will not hesitate to send the men before the board, but on the other hand if my investigation develops the fact that the affidavits sworn to are false I will not only decline to send the men before the board, but I will see to it that the women are punished for making false affidavit."

The officers concerned declare that their accusers cannot support their charges by the statement of one creditable witness.

MINERAL WATER HERE.

Belcher Baths Use Liquid From Medicinal Spring and Are Luxuriously Furnished.

Resulting from a strange and remarkable discovery St. Louis now has in its business center a bathing establishment, the Belcher Water Bath and Hotel Co., Fourth and St. Charles streets, not excelled in magnificence or completeness in the world.

It has been quite customary for the wealthy to spend millions annually in visiting universally known baths for medicinal benefits, such as the famous Carlsbad Sprudel Springs of Austria, the Spa of Belgium or the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Fifty years ago Mr. Belcher, who owned a large sugar refinery in North St. Louis, discovered mineral water underneath his plant and after spending a fortune and three years of drilling through the rock struck one of the finest mineral springs ever discovered.

This water is now recommended by physicians and is used in the Turkish baths and also as a healthy and delightful beverage. The large hotel and bathing house is beautifully furnished and decorated, with an entrance for ladies and one for men.

SHOOTS SELF ON FLOOR.

After making two unsuccessful attemps at suicide within a month, Jacob Zercher, formerly a professor of science in a German university and later an African explorer, ended his life by sending a rifle ball through his brain at Maryville, Ill., a few miles south of Edwardsville.

For two years Zercher has been suffering with asthma and kidney trouble. He has been unable to travel and works most of the time as weighman for the Donk Bros. Coal Co. at one of its mines at Maryville. When he was told by physicians that there was no chance for his recovery he declared he would commit suicide. His first attempt was made with morphine, the second with laudanum. Monday he lay down on the floor of his room and, placing the muzzle of a rifle in his mouth, fired.

Belated French Flag Arrives.

The Franco-American Society of St. Louis received Saturday, from the French Government, a large silk flag. Official recognition in this manner from the native land is an honor unprecedented in the history of such organizations. The flag was originally intended to be presented to the society at the annual fete, July 14, but it did not reach St. Louis until Aug. 18. It will be kept at the home of President Emile Karst until Sept. 6, Lafayette's birthday. On this date the celebration for the flag will be held at the Alps.

HEED THE WARNING!

Bar all infectious diseases out of your home and keep it healthy by the systematic use of

CN DISINFECTANT

It prevents disease entering—or banishes it if it has already entered. It is not only a disinfectant and deodorizer but an antiseptic, powerful and effective, yet non-poisonous and non-explosive. Kills all germs and foul odors, indispensable in the sick-room. Use CN now! Use it in dark corners and hallways, on floors, carpets and curtains, in sinks and bathrooms. Flush your plumbing with it—sink pipes, water closets, washtubs, bathtubs, etc. A teacupful of CN added to the water you scrub with will do wonders in killing the disease germs and leaving the air pure and refreshing.

3 KILLED, 20 HURT IN TROLLEY WRECK

Interurban Car, Running High Speed, Jumps Track at Cridersville, O.

CRASHES INTO RESIDENCE

Young Woman Crossing Street Is Run Down and Dies Beneath Debris.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAPAKONETA, O., Aug. 21.—A Western Ohio Interurban car jumped the track while going at full speed at Cridersville, five miles south of here, last night, killing three persons and injuring over twenty.

The dead:

John Van Clapper, motorman, Lima.
Otto Koch, passenger, Vapakoneta.
Miss Iva Rinard, aged 18 years, Cridersville.

The car ran off the curve and crashed into a residence. Motorman Van Clapper was instantly killed and Otto Koch, a passenger, who was in the smoking compartment at the time, was so badly injured hat he died an hour laer.

Miss Rinard was crossing the street when the car struck her, burying her beneath the debis. All of the injured will recover.

WOMAN'S FISTS ROUT A MASHER

When Hatpin Sticks Fast, Mrs. Bieger Uses Nature's Weapons.

With her fists alone, Mrs. Mamie Bieger, 25 years old, of 821 South Seventh street routed a masher who accosted her at the corner of Broadway and Papin street.

The man, who Mrs. Bieger described as being about 40 years old, was first noticed by her at Fourth and Olive streets.

Mrs. Bieger had just left a physician's office Sunday night, after getting some medicine for her aged mother, who is ill. No car being in sight, she started to walk home.

The man followed her, and she varied her route home to avoid him. He followed her, frequently passing her in the middle of a block and waiting on the next corner for her to pass.

When they reached Papin street, at a very dark corner, he moved as if to stop her, exclaiming:

"Say, lady, I want to talk to you, I—"

He got no farther. Mrs. Bieger reached for her hat pin, and when it held fast in her hat, struck him in the face with both hands. She drove him off the sidewalk into the street, pummeling him with all her might. The man seemed dazed and made little resistance.

A horse and buggy driven by two men approached on Broadway; seeing them, the man took to his heels, darting down a dark by street. The occupants of the buggy offered to escort Mrs. Bieger to her home, but she declined assistance, and walked the remainder of the distance alone.

BOYS CUT COPPER WIRE.

Junk Men Accused of Receiving Stolen Goods.

Warrants will be sought against Morris Geeser of 1403 North Fifteenth street and Morris Weisman of 1424 North Fifteenth street, junk dealers, charging them with receiving wire from a band of boys said to have stolen it from the St. Louis & Suburban Co.

The boys are held at the Four Courts for the authorities of St. Louis County, where the alleged thefts were committed. They are George Schaeffer, 13 years old, Tenth and Chambers streets; Teddy Brennan, 13, 1226 North Sixteenth street; James O'Rourke, 14, 710 North Ninth street; Elmer Moore, 14, 1629 O'Fallon street; John Byrne, 14, 1226 North Fourth street.

The street railroad company has complained of continued thefts of feed wire in the county. County officers saw several boys cutting away wire Sunday, but were unable to catch them. Later George Schaeffer was captured. He confessed to Capt. Johnson of the Carr Street Station, and implicated the other boys. The junk men were then arrested.

County Primaries Sept. 8.

The Democratic Central Committee of St. Louis County has called primary mass meetings for Sept. 8, at which delegates will be elected to the county convention. The delegates are to be in the ratio of one for every 50 Democratic votes, or major part thereof, cast in the last presidential election. A committeeman from each precinct is to be elected.

The Loftis Credit System

Is the best in the world for buying Diamonds and Watches on time. Easy terms arranged. Loftis Bros. & Co., Jewelers, second floor, Carleton Building, Sixth and Olive streets.

Negro Caught After Chase.

Will Thomas, a negro, was captured after a most exciting chase on the part of the police and some half hundred men, many of whom thought the negro had committed a murder. He had snatched a $5 bill from the hands of an old negress who was standing at Fourth and Olive streets. The chase led past the Chestnut Street Station, where the negro was several lengths ahead, with a fair chance of escaping. Just then he was seen by two other policemen, who allowed him to run into their arms.

Cousin of Dean Stanley Dies.

The funeral of Henry Stanley, 74 years old, first cousin of the late Dean Stanley of Westminster Abbey, was held Tuesday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral. Rev. Benjamin T. Kemerer officiated. The Mercantile Library Board acted as honorary pallbearers. The active pallbearers were: Alphonse de Figueiredo, Brazilian Consul; L. D. Kingsland, James Arbuckle, Wallace Delafield, Robert Lee, Hinman H. Clark and Robert de Figueiredo, brother of the Consul. The burial was in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mr. Stanley and his wife, Margaret Iden Stanley, have been received in European court circles. They lived at 3905 West Belle place.

Politicians Treat Children.

Two politicians gave 800 little children of the Twentieth Ward the time of their lives Monday night. Speaker John J. O'Brien of the House of Delegates and Thomas J. Ward, secretary of the Police Board, hired a merry-go-round at Glasgow and Cass avenues and gave tickets to every child in the ward. William Maguire, Michael Murray, Con Maloney, William Daugherty and Gus Colligan assisted them.

EARTHQUAKES LEVEL ANOTHER TOWN IN CHILE

Quillota, With a Population of 11,000, Destroyed at Night.

TREMOR AT VALPARAISO

Slight Shocks Are Felt at Lima and Huacho, Peru.

ROOT TO AID VICTIMS

Secretary of State on Way to Assist Santiago Sufferers.

LIMA, Aug. 21.—There was another heavy earthquake shock at Valpairaiso late last night.

The town of Quillota, situated about 26 miles from Valparaiso, and having a population of some 11,000 persons, has been completely destroyed.

At Lima this morning there was a slight shock. Huacho was shaken by an earthquake yesterday.

ROOT ON WAY TO AID SUFFERERS.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 21.—A slight earthquake shock at 7:40 o'clock last night threw Santiago into a panic, but the disturbance soon subsided and no damage was done.

Word has been received that Secretary Root will reach Santiago soon, to render all possible official and personal assistance to the stricken inhabitants.

Brief messages today do not tend to reduce the estimates of the loss of life and damage to property. On the other hand, the latest report says the loss of life at Valparaiso is greater in proportion than at San Francisco, and a conservative estimate places the figures at over 3000 deaths. A conservative estimate gave 5000 dead Saturday, and it is believed that it will be near this number. In the prison alone there are over 250 dead or injured, and in one church over 60 bodies have b[illegible] counted.

With every report th[illegible]netary losses are increased by thousands of dollars, and the latest report gives £6,000,000, or $30,000,000, at Valparaiso alone, and this is said to be a minimum estimate. For the entire section it is said the loss will foot $300,000,000, and there is no way of ever calculating the actual loss in dollars and cents.

Curepto, about 125 miles south of Valparaiso, with 3000 inhabitants, is mentioned as having suffered greatly with heavy loss of life, but no figures are given. Molina, 155 miles below Valparaiso, with over 4000 population, is also mentioned as partly destroyed and many people homeless and the refugees suffering. San Carlos is reported damaged by three consecutive shocks Friday morning, with some loss of life. This is something like 300 miles south of Valparaiso, with a population of nearly 6000. Intermediate settlements are known to have been entirely destroyed.

Food supplies have arrived at Valparaiso, but it is still scant, and the poor and homeless are suffering.

Raze Tottering Buildings.

Only now can the seriousness of the ruin wrought by the recent earthquake begin to be appreciated. Most of the modern houses are unsafe for habitation and the authorities have organized a special corps to pull down the tottering buildings. In most of the streets it is not safe to walk on the pavements, owing to falling debris.

Santiago resembles a camp. The public squares and the principal avenues are crowded with people sleeping in the open. All kinds of carriages and carts have been requisitioned to sleep in.

The night of Aug. 16 was rendered dreadful flashes of lightning and pouring rain, the electric cables and wires snapping as a result of the constant, strong earth shocks which occurred all that night, causing the greatest consternation, which was heightened by the pealing of the fire bells announcing the breaking out of fires in various quarters of the city. Each earth shock was followed by wails and prayers from the people, who were kneeling in the mud.

The first great shock lasted four minutes and fifty seconds. Such a long shock had never occurred before in the memory of any inhabitant of Santiago. It caused the bells of the churches to ring, pictures swung from the walls and there was a great heaving motion of the ground. Experts say that the only thing which saved Santiago from complete ruin was that the motion was circular. The principal shock was from Valparaiso to Santiago and Meripilla, with its center at Limache. The last two mentioned towns were destroyed, as also were Quillota and Llaillai.

Shocks Predicted.

The statement that the approach of the earthquake was announced by the Naval Observatory at Valparaiso two days previous to its occurrence is confirmed. The news was published in the Chilean press on Wednesday, Aug. 15, the day before the earthquake occurred.

Santiago is still practically isolated telegraphically from all other parts of Chile, but an improvised line to Los Andes, connecting it with the European cables, is working.

NEGRO ROBBER STABS LABORER

Man Is Attacked in Lot on His Way Home at Night.

While returning to his home, 3730 North Twenty-first street, about 2 a. m. Tuesday, John Zrinn, a laborer, was perhaps fatally stabbed by a negro highwayman. Zrinn was passing through a vacant lot on Newhouse avenue, between Ninth and Eleventh streets.

The negro, Zrinn told the police, jumped up from a clump of weeds and said something to him, which he could not understand, knowing no English. He said the negro then hit him in the chest. He was pained, but did not know he was stabbed. Although the knife barely missed his heart, Zrinn managed to get to his home. He was later sent to the hospital.

He could give no description of his assailant.

MAN IS FINED $300.

Peter McBride, 56 years old, was fined $300 in the City Hall Police Court Tuesday morning for annoying Adele Bauer, the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. J. T. Bauer of 3545 Pine street, Sunday afternoon.

McBride, who is watchman of the vacant house next door to the Bauer residence, attracted the attention of the girl who was seated upon a bench in the front yard of her house, and attempted to persuade her to enter the vacant house with him.

McBride was fined $50 for a similar offense about a year ago.

WHERE CONSUMPTION GETS MOST VICTIMS.

Third Sanitary District, East of Jefferson Avenue and Between Franklin and Chouteau Avenues, Has Much Tuberculosis —One Person in 359 Dies From Plague.

Public baths are to be established in those parts of St. Louis where consumption is most prevalent, and F. A. J. Hiller, clerk of the Board of Health, has compiled a table showing the number of persons in each of the seven sanitary districts, the number of tuberculosis cases and the number of deaths. As the ordinance requiring physicians to report cases of the disease has been in effect only a little more than a year, these statistics cannot be compared with former years.

The table was compiled at the request of Eugene S. Wilson, a member of the Public Bath Commission, who wrote to the Health Department that the commission intended to establish new baths in crowded centers and wished to take into account those where tuberculous persons were more numerous.

According to this table the third sanitary district has the greatest death rate from consumption—one person out of every 359 dying from the disease. The third district extends from the river to Jefferson avenue, between Franklin and Chouteau avenues, and comprises the heart of the business section. In this district are many crowded lodging houses and dwellings not equipped with sanitary conveniences.

The first district is second in the tubercular death rate, one of every 423 persons dying from the disease. This district comprises all St. Louis south of Arsenal street.

The table is as follows:

Dist.	Population.	Cases.	Deaths.
1	77,075	243	182
2	98,336	249	178
3	68,159	267	190
4	119,056	264	183
5	77,522	192	130
6	130,975	271	187
7	123,895	260	162

PRAYERS ANSWERED.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Because of damage done by drough to crops, especially in the Niagara fruit belt, prayers for rain were offered Sunday in every church in Niagara County.

Rain followed and the farmers are happy.

New Head for Smith.

Smith Academy will be presided over the coming year by Frank Hamsher, principal of the Academy of Illinois University, and assistant professor of education in the university. He will succeed the late Charles P. Curd. Mr. Hamsher will move his family to St. Louis Sept. 1. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, is 33 years old and was formerly principal of the Decatur (Ill.) High School.

HE LOOKED LIKE DWIGHT L. MOODY.

EUGENE C. WRIGHT.

The wedding of Miss Beulah Reverta Harkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Harkins of 2517 Texas avenue, and Eugene C. Wright will take place at the First Christian Church, 3126 Locust street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A reception will be given at the Harkins home immediately after the ceremony.

Miss Harkins is well known among the congregation of the Olive Branch Church, Sidney street and Missouri avenue, at which place the young couple first met, the occasion being a valentine party.

Mr. Wright is an employe of the Union Electric Light and Power Co. He created considerable interest at one time by being photographed in a pose imitating one of Evangelist Dwight L. Moody's characteristic attitudes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be at home after Sept. 1 at 1715 South Eighteenth street.

TAFT WILL NOT DON JUDICIAL ERMINE

War Secretary to Decline Appointment to National Supreme Bench.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—In a short time Secretary Taft will formally tell the President that he does not desire the honor of an appointment to the Supreme Court bench.

It will be proper for him to send notice to that effect in September, because the fall term of the Supreme Court begins in October and the President ought to know by that time how the Secretary of War feels about the proffered honor.

It will delight Speaker Cannon, Secretary Shaw and probably Secretary Root to know that the Secretary of War is not going on the bench for that means the Ohio Republican Convention will have to indorse him for the presidency, not probably because the organization loves Taft, but because it is believed Foraker will be out of the question by that time on account of his stand on the rate bill before Congress.

Vice-President Fairbanks is probably the only candidate who will not like the fact that the big Secretary has decided that the judicial robes will not look well on his shoulders. He, being Ohio born, has a thought that if the two home-staying sons of Ohio would only keep out of the race, the delegation could be captured for him.

TOWNS DESTROYED BY FOREST FIRES

Two Canadian Villages Practically Wiped Out, Many Persons Homeless.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., Aug. 21.—Forest fires are raging in various parts of New Brunswick and Quebec provinces. A Campbellton dispatch says that the village of St. Charles de Captan, in Quebec Province, and another village near by have been practically destroyed. Seventy buildings have burned in the two villages, and many persons are homeless.

The damage to crops and timber lands in that vicinity is heavy. The fire is still spreading. Other fires are burning near Balmoral and Campbellton.

4 DESPERADOES ARE REARRESTED

Released From Prison, They Are Taken to Dent Co., Mo., for Trial.

LANSING, Kan., Aug. 21.—Four members of the outlaw gang that for several years terrorized Southern Missouri and the northern portion of the Indian Territory, James Blackburn, D. D. Kelley, James Wallace and Nicholas Gardner, were rearrested here yesterday at the Penitentiary gates, from which they had just been released.

They will be taken to Dent County, Mo., where they are wanted for alleged complicity in a robbery committed six years ago.

CAPTAIN LED HIS CREW IN MUTINY

Pamyat Azova Commander Killed Himself When He Faced Failure.

MEANT TO SHELL PALACE

Dissension Among Leaders Brought Collapse of Russian Rebellion.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1906, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 21.—The Post-Dispatch correspondent with the Revolutionaires writes as follows regarding the part played in the mutiny at Sveaborg, Finland, by the Russian armored cruiser Pamyat Azova, 18 of whose men were put to death last Saturday:

"Amerine, who took part in the mutiny, assures me that it was not organized by the crew, as has been reported by the newspapers, but was instigated by the cruiser's commander, Capt. Isvolsky. His design was to bring all the Baltic fleet under his command, and, co-operating with garrisons at Sveaborg and Cronstadt, to capture the cities of Rima, Reval, Lidau and Pernan.

"This would have given the revolution a great impetus, and would have been the signal for a general uprising.

"When that came it was his intention to sail to Peterhof and bombard the palace, at the same time sending arms from Cronstadt to be distributed among the peasants in the neighborhood of the palace.

"The scheme would not have been difficult to carry out, for a majority of the people are only waiting for some such opportunity. It failed because of dissensions among the revolutionary leaders, who, instead of co-operating, were stupidly fighting among themselves.

"Realizing that the daring enterprise was hopeless, Isvolsky took a revolver and killed himself.

"Seeing their leader dead, the crew decided, after much quarreling, to surrender to the Government, fearing the effect, if it became known that Isvolsky was the leader of the mutiny, and it should be said that they killed him.

"The marine who told me these facts had a letter from the dead commander, which Isvolsky had intrusted to him to deliver to his wife."

ICE FAMINE GRIPS PLANO IN DOG DAYS

Illinois Town of 4,000 Simmers and Melts Without Any Cooling Beverages.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Saloons and soda fountains and ice cream parlors in Plano, Ill., a town of 4000, 40 miles west of here, are closed down because of an ice famine.

Mayor Stewart came to Chicago today and pleaded with the Ice Trust to sell him some ice. He had a talk with President Field of the Knickerbocker Ice Co., but received very little encouragement. Then Mr. Stewart tried to melt the iceman's reserve by drawing a picture of a city in which the churn of the ice cream freezer no longer sounds, the lemonade at the church socials no longer tinkles in pitcher and glass, and the vicinity of the soda water fountain looks like a summer hotel in the winter.

The young women of the village are complaining of the great ice cream drought, the young men are at a loss for the means of "treating" the girls after the show at opera house, and the men of family are loud in their denunciations of the necessity of running up and down stairs, putting the milk and eggs on the "cellar bottom."

Mr. Field said he would see what he could do, and the Mayor returned to the iceless town.

PAT CROWE ARRESTED.

New York Police Nab Him, Then Release Him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Pat Crowe of Omaha, who was acquitted of the Cudahy kidnaping, and who recently came to the city, was arrested last night, charged with being a suspicious person. He was taken to police headquarters. The police, however, were unable to find a record of a case for which they believed he was wanted and and he was released.

NEW BOOK

"A MAN WITH A PURPOSE"

By JOHN T. M. JOHNSTON, D. D.

Beautifully illustrated by HARRY LEWIS BAILEY.

Second edition in both English and German now in press.

"An altogether unusual book, devoted to an account of the life and achievements of A. D. Brown. Dr. Johnston has known Mr. Brown thirty years. Has had access to all the documents in evidence, and has given an almost photographic picture of his subject from the earliest years of his life. A large audience will be interested in learning just how one of the biggest enterprises west of the Mississippi has grown amazingly under the direction of a man who has succeeded in everything he ever attempted."—Globe-Democrat. YOUNG RUNAWAY HAS GONE AGAIN

Harold Runyan, Four Years Old, Has Disappeared Thirty Times.

HAS LIKING FOR TRAINS

Is Usually Found In or Near the Union Station Watching Engines.

Mischievous little Harold Runyan, 4 years old, and living with his parents at 1811 Olive street, ran away again Tuesday morning. Monday afternoon, after Harold had roamed at will about town for five hours, he was found by a policeman and taken to the Four Courts. His mother went to the matron's office and took Harold home. Since last May, when Harold first scampered away, he has run away more than 30 times.

Harold's greatest desire is to be where there is an engine or a fast-moving car. The first time he ran away Harold was found in the train yards at Union Station. Policeman Ward found Harold standing on a network of tracks, his eyes set on a big engine that was steaming up and about to move out of the station.

Harold was taken home and tied to a post in the back yard by a long clothes line. He soon persuaded his mother to undo the rope, and before the day was over had run away again.

Mrs. Frank A. Runyan, Harold's mother, said Tuesday morning that she had stopped worrying so much about Harold. She said he had run away so often that it did not cause her so much fear as it did at first.

Searching Near Trains.

Harold's disappearance Tuesday morning was reported to the police, and several policemen started on the rounds of the tracks in and about Union Station, searching for Harold.

For awhile Mrs. Runyan tagged Harold, and in that way he was soon brought back home, but he did not have any tag Tuesday when he left home immediately after breakfast.

Monday, for the first time, Harold told the police his name, and said he lived at Eighteenth and Olive streets. He wore the same pink waist and blue overalls when he left Tuesday morning that he had on Monday.

Engineers, firemen and street car men have come to know Harold, and watch for him, as he does for them.

When Mrs. Runyan went to the Four Courts Monday afternoon and got Harold he repeated the statement, she says, he has made often of late, when he said he "Wanted to be a big man and work for mamma."

The only accident Harold has ever encountered happened two months ago. He jumped on the back step of a vegetable wagon that happened to be passing his home, and, before the driver knew the little fellow was on the step, fell off, but was not badly hurt.

NINE MEN SLAIN IN MOUNTAIN BATTLE

Natives Rush Railroad Construction Gangs' Camps in Virginia Fastnesses.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 21.—Claud Miller, formerly of this city, but who has more recently been engaged in railroad construction work in Virginia, has arrived here with the bodies of Charles Smith of Asheville and Al Powers of Laurens, S. C., both of whom were killed in a bloody battle in the mountains of Virginia between a railroad construction gang and mountaineers.

The scene of the fight was one of the railroad camps, 20 miles from the nearest railroad station. Miller was unable to give full details of the fight or state the exact number of killed and wounded, but says that at least nine men were left for dead on the field of battle.

The mountaineers attempted to rush the camp. A number of men were engaged and the firing on both sides continued with unabated fury for several hours. Smith and Powers, who were foremen in the Sam Doggett camp, were killed early in the engagement. Smith was shot while directing his men and Powers rushed to his assistance, when he, too, was shot down. Archer Miller, also formerly of this city, was desperately wounded. The names of others killed or wounded could not be ascertained. The mountaineers are said to have suffered heavy losses.

FLY FAST AS TRAIN.

Aeroplane Built to Go Fifty-Four Miles an Hour.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 21.—Maj. Chas. J. S. Miller announced today that he and Dr. Julian P. Thomas of New York had invented an aeroplane that will mark an epoch in aerial navigation.

"With our machine a person will be able to fly any distance he desires," said Maj. Miller.

"Flying from here to New York will be an easy task. We expect to be able to attain a speed of 54 miles an hour or more."

Maj. Miller said that he and Dr. Thomas had been working on an aeroplane for some time and the machine they have hit upon is a combination of their ideas. The experiments have been sufficiently far to satisfy them that it will be a success. The final experiments will be made in New York this fall and winter. Maj. Miller would not go into details of this machine except to say that the difficulties which other inventors had encountered in the way of failing to keep the aeroplane level had been overcome.

SHOOTS LARGE EAGLE.

Farmer Fires as Bird Swoops on Hen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WINSTED, Conn., Aug. 21.—Atracted by the cackling of his hens, C. H. Hover, a farmer living near Hartford road, rushed outdoors and saw a large eagle circling in the air directly above a baby carriage in the yard.

He carried the sleeping infant indoors, and, returning with a rifle, shot and killed the eagle just as it was about to carry off a good-sized hen. The eagle, of the bald-headed species, was the largest seen in these parts for years.

WILL ORGANIZE "CANNON CLUBS"

Parent Organization to Start Smaller Ones and Boom "Uncle Joe."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Republicans from nearly every State in the Union, who are temporarily residing in the national capital, will meet in the Ebbitt House parlors next Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, to organize a "Cannon Club."

James W. Crooks of Danville, Ill., Mr. Cannon's home town, and a personal friend of the Speaker, will preside over the meeting and Albert S. Brown will act as temporary secretary. Congressman Blackburn of North Carolina, Mr. Cannon's native State, and J. W. Matthews of Indiana, will address the meeting. Officers will be elected and a commission named to encourage the organization of clubs throughout the United States to boom the candidacy of "Uncle Joe."

Daily Train to Mexico.

Officials of the Iron Mountain, Texas & Pacific, International & Great Northern and several Mexican railroads met Tuesday at the Southern Hotel to arrange for a daily through train service from St. Louis to the City of Mexico and from Mexico to St. Louis. Daily through trains are expected to be running by Nov. 1. President Diaz and the Transportation Department of Mexico have requested the railroads to put on the service.

DIVORCE DEFECTS ARE DISCOVERED

Many Flaws in 120,000 Divorces Granted in New York and Kings County.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Amazing and disquieting irregularities in many of the divorces granted in New York within 20 years have been developed. So far, there is a flaw in one divorce out of every five examined. These defects were found by Wm. H. Jarvis of the Census Bureau, and his corps of 15 "divorce girls" sent from Washington for statistics of divorce. If made known they would make bigamists of many couples married in good faith and illegitimates of many children. The trouble seems to be that lawyers failed to file the formal decree after the Court had verbally announced its decision. Unsuspecting clients since then have married again and raised other families.

During the last 20 years in the two counties of New York and Kings, 120,000 or more divorces have been granted. In most of the imperfect cases one or both parties have been married and children have been born to second "marriages." The only way to legitimatize such children is by act of the Legislature.

Javanese Prince Departs.

C. A. Guldenaar, said to be a Prince from Java, left St. Louis Tuesday with his bride for Chicago. He said before leaving that he expected to call on D. R. Francis, and was disappointed to learn that the latter was in Europe. He is said to be the head of the railway supply stores of Java.

DIVINE CHARGED WITH GRAFTING

Moderator of General Presbyterian Synod Center of Government Scandal.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Rev. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, former Moderator of the Presbyterian General Synod—the highest authority in the church—is the storm center of a government scandal just uncovered in Alaska.

Dr. Jackson is United States General Agent of Education in Alaska and is also manager of the Government reindeer herds there. Odd facts in connection with his two offices have been secured by Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock through Agent Frank C. Churchill.

Mr. Churchill finds that while the Government has spent about $250,000 for reindeer and the Alaskan herd numbers 10,234, there are only 2500 in the possession of the Government. The largest herd of Government reindeer in Alaska is found at Cape Prince of Wales, 1419 in all. Through Jackson's instrumentality 987 of the deer were, according to his own statement, "loaned" to the Presbyterian Mission.

But the mission has been selling back to the Government young deer raised from this big herd at $25 each. In a single year the Government has bought back the offerings from its own herd to the tune of $6000.

Money appropriated for schools never built was one of the many alleged means of graft.

Only 9 more Days of our Removal Sale

August 1906
Sunday Monday Tuesday Wednesday Thursday Friday Saturday
Full Moon 4th
Last Quar. 11th
New Moon 19th
First Quar. 26th

We haven't a moment to lose. Just realize it—there are but nine days in which to dispose of our remaining stocks of merchandise, aggregating in value approximately $200,000, and this is considered the dullest period of the year.

We have adopted the right method, however, and are sacrificing all lines of goods from basement to garret. Go where you may throughout the entire establishment—pick up any article of merchandise that you will—and you will find it marked a fourth to three-fourths lower than its original price. It's undoubtedly the greatest money saving opportunity St. Louis has ever known.

This Removal Sale is now well into the sixth week, and there has been no abatement of interest at any period. The final days promise to be the most remarkable from the attendance point of view, they are unquestionably the most remarkable from the value-giving point of view, for only last Saturday we went through the entire establishment and placed a final price on everything. It is impossible to mention details from day to day as lots are beginning to get small, and goods displayed on the tables sell out fast.

On the 4th Floor You will find House Furnishing Goods of all kinds: Willowware, Woodenware, Graniteware, Tinware, Copper Utensils, Bathroom Fittings, Fancy Baskets, Trunks, Valises, Chinaware, Cut Glass, Bric-a-Brac, Artware, Gas Fixtures, Toys, Dolls, etc., etc., and every article is offered at a final price, which means that it is priced so low that you will not be able to resist the temptation to buy.

On the 3rd Floor You will find Carpets of every description, Rugs in all sizes, colorings and weaves, and every grade of Linoleum; Lace Curtains of every sort, very moderate-priced lines to the best qualities; Drapery Goods of all kinds, Portieres of every description, Fancy Goods, Art Needle Work, Pictures, Frames, etc., etc. Reductions on these goods range from 25 to 75 per cent.

On the 2d Floor You will find Women's and Misses' apparel, Suits, Skirts, Waists, Dressing Sacques, Kimonos, etc.; French and domestic Undermuslins, Infants' Wear, Petticoats of every description, Corsets, Millinery, etc. Reductions on these goods range from 25 to 75 per cent. We are determined to dispose of everything in the few remaining days.

On the 1st Floor You will find Silks of all kinds, Dress Goods of every description, Laces, Embroideries, Shoes for women, misses, children and boys; Hosiery, Knit Underwear, Men's Furnishings, Notions, Jewelry, Toilet Articles, Ribbons, Leather Goods, Trimmings, Gloves, etc., etc. Reductions on these goods range from 25 to 75 per cent; nothing is reserved.

In the Basement You will find Linens of all sorts, Sheets and Sheeting, Pillow Cases, Muslins, Domestics, Wash Goods, White Goods, Blankets, Comforts, Wrappers, Cameras and supplies etc., etc. Everything is offered at an immense saving. Positively the greatest bargain opportunity St. Louis has ever been offered.

CHIEF'S WIFE ROBBED.

Mrs. O'Conner of St. Paul Loses Her Purse on Boat.

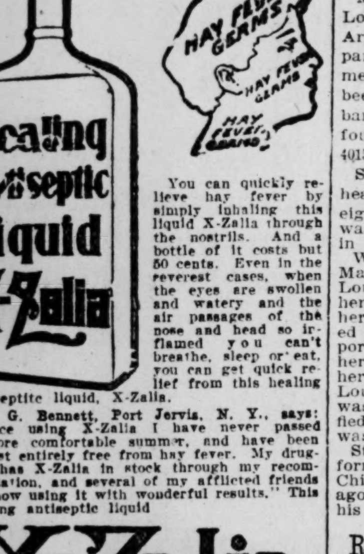
Mrs. John O'Connor, wife of the Chief of Police of St. Paul, Minn., has reported to the St. Louis police the loss of her purse, containing $60 and jewelry of considerable value, which was taken from her stateroom in the steamer Sidney just before arrival at St. Louis. Three negroes and one negress, all employed on the boat, have been arrested, and are being held pending the investigation.

Mrs. O'Conner was on her way to St. Louis to visit Justice James H. Cronin and family at 2818 Lawton avenue, especially the Justice's mother, who is seriously ill. Just before landing Monday, she left her purse in her stateroom for a short time while she went on deck. When she returned to the room the purse had been taken.

Seems Strange.

From Yonkers Statesman.

Egbert: That seems odd. You'd think there was a good deal more canned stuff consumed in times of war now, wouldn't you?



Hay Fever

Rose Colds Hay Asthma

You can quickly relieve hay fever by simply inhaling this liquid X-Zalia through the nostrils. And a bottle of it costs but 50 cents. Even in the severest cases, when the eyes are swollen and watery and the air passages of the nose and head so inflamed you can't breathe, sleep or eat, you can get quick relief from this healing antiseptic liquid, X-Zalia.

H. G. Bennett, Port Jervis, N. Y., says: "Since using X-Zalia I have never passed a more comfortable summer, and have been almost entirely free from hay fever. My druggist has X-Zalia in stock through my recommendation, and several of my afflicted friends are now using it with wonderful results." This healing antiseptic liquid is perfectly harmless and easy to use. You just inhale or snuff it through the nostrils. In severest cases a cloth wet with X-Zalia spread across the face penetrates quickly to the inflamed membrane. Get a 50c bottle from your druggist and give this healing antiseptic liquid a trial. It's a new departure in the treating of hay fever, but a very effective one.

WILL LABEL CANNED EDIBLES IN FUTURE

Beef Trust Jolted by Report of Army Commander in Philippines.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Beef Trust has received another bump in the annual report of Col. C. A. Williams, in command of the Department of the Visayas, Philippine Islands.

Col. Williams declares that nearly all canned edibles deteriorate with age and recommends that all such purchases by the subsistence department in future be required to bear a label, showing name and place of cannery and month and year of canning.

It is recommended that specifications for such stores be provided by the commissary-general to insure the canning of a sound, healthful article in a cleanly manner and free from preservative and coloring matter as a safeguard to the many officers and soldiers who must often subsist largely on canned goods in the Philippines.

THOUGHT HER BABY DEAD.

Husband Finds Mrs. Stone Whom the Heat Affected.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stone have left St Louis for their home in Fayetteville, Ark., from which place Mrs. Stone departed a week ago while suffering from mental derangement thought to have been brought on by the heat. Her husband followed her to St. Louis and found her at the home of L. MacClose, 4015 Morgan street.

Stone said his wife had been in poor health since the birth of their child eight weeks ago. She believed the baby was dead, and her husband had trouble in convincing her that it was alive.

When Mrs. Stone sought refuge at the MacClose home on her arrival in St. Louis, she said her husband knew of her being in St. Louis and would follow her in a short time. MacClose suspected that the woman was suffering temporary mental derangement and gave her a room until her husband joined her. When he learned through the St. Louis newspapers Monday that Stone was here looking for his wife, he notified the police at once that Mrs. Stone was at his house.

Stone is a wealthy lawyer, and was formerly a well-known practitioner in Chicago. He left that city a short time ago and went to Arkansas to manage his father's plantation.

Reception to Father Hueber.

Upon his return Friday evening from New York, where he has been visiting his aged mother, Rev. Father S. P. Hueber, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's Church, will be tendered a reception and presented with a beautiful chalice, decorated with jewels, costing $600. It will be presented by Henry Kersing on behalf of the parish, which Father Hueber has served for 18 years. The Young Men's Sodality will make a gift of $100 in gold. Father Hueber will leave Saturday for Perryville, Mo., where he will be vice-president of St. Mary's Seminary and pastor of the church.

PRODIGAL HEIR DIES A FOUNDRY WORKER

Franz Mueller, With Estate of $40,000, Driven to Become Day Laborer.

Franz C. Mueller, whose death was caused by heat, is reputed to have owned an estate valued at $40,000 in Germany.

Although a graduate in pharmacy, Mueller worked as a day laborer for the Western Foundry and Sash Co., 135 Miller street. He applied there for work Monday morning. Soon after being put to work he began to act strangely. Suddenly he fell to the floor unconscious. He died at the City Hospital two hours later.

Gus Menecke of 508 Market street, who has known Mueller for 13 years, says that Mueller has only one relative, Mrs. Ferd Breitfeld, a sister, who is at Crimtschau-Sachsen, Germany. Menecke says Ferd Breitfeld is a wealthy brewer.

"Mueller came to me about fourteen years ago," said Menecke, "and we were friends ever since. He was a graduate in pharmacy, but did not follow the profession. He lived entirely on the interest of his estate in Germany and squandered most of his money. He went back to Germany 13 years ago, and was at home only one day. The day he arrived he quarreled with his sister and departed the same day for this country. He corresponded with his brother-in-law, but his letters to his sister were only to ask for his money."

FRANK C. MUELLER

Mueller lived with Herman J. Krembe, a notary public, of 620 Park avenue, for two years. Krembe says Mueller became angry at him and left about two weeks ago because Krembe rebuked him for drinking. He rented a room at 1205 South Seventh street.

Krembe says that Mueller told him he left Germany because his sister scolded him for drinking. Mueller was a member of the Belmont Club and of a number of German societies.

The police of the Soulard Street Station carried his trunks to the station. A number of deeds of trust were found, and receipts for money amounting to $800.

Menecke will bury the body.

HE TOOK WRONG ROUTE.

German Paper Says Francis Should Have Visited Berlin.

The Westliche Post printed Tuesday a cablegram from Berlin stating that President D. R. Francis of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition has not been able to deliver in person to Emperor William the World's Fair medal which he went there to deliver. The Post gives the explanation, heretofore given by the St. Louis English dailies, that the Emperor sent word through Charlemagne Tower, the American Ambassador that he was anxious to grant an audience to Mr. Francis, but would be unable to do so until after the autumn review, two weeks hence.

Commenting on this the Westliche Post says:

"Our smart Mr. Francis has made one mistake and suffered consequently a disappointment. He has elected the wrong traveling route.

"Instead of London, Paris and Berlin he should have arranged the trip to Berlin first, next Paris and then London.

"For, in the first place, the great success of our World's Fair was mainly due to the good will of the German Emperor and the grand participation of Germany in the same."

Sumatra Missionary's Harvest.

From Sumatra, the Rhenish Missionary Society reports a year of harvest such as it has never seen before. The number of pagans baptized during the year was 4712, besides 136 Mohammedans. The total of Christians is now 61,764. In 307 schools 14,519 boys and girls are under instruction.

DIAZ OBJECTS TO A CHANGE

Mexican and Iron Mountain Officials Conferring on Limited Train Service.

Commercial and financial institutions of St. Louis have acted with their own interest in view in joining with the officials of the Department of Communications of the Government of the Mexican republic, in an effort to have the special limited train service between St. Louis and the Mexican capital made daily. This point is among many others that is being discussed today at the Southern Hotel conference between H. C. Townsend, representing the passenger departments of the Iron Mountain, Texas & Pacific and International & Great Northern, over which lines the train is to be operated to the Rio Grande River, and General Manager Clark and General Passenger Agent Hibbard of the national lines of Mexico, over which the train reaches the Mexican capital.

The patronage of the service last season indicated that the growing commerce between the republic of Mexico and the financial and commercial interests of St. Louis were greatly facilitated, not being monopolized by tourists. St. Louis interests, along with those of Mexico, recognized that the train service added materially to placing the two centers of commercial and financial empire nearer together, and the railroad officials have been urged on both hands to make the service daily. Previous to the meeting this morning it was stated by the officials representing both lines that a tri-weekly service in place of a semi-weekly would be installed next November, and that if the service maintained the increase in patronage it had last season the service would no doubt be made daily, as the question of cost of equipment and the time necessary to get it after the order is given, enters largely into the matter.

It transpired before the conference this morning that there was a purpose in the recent visit of the private secretary to President Diaz, made to St. Louis two weeks ago, which has not been mentioned previously. It had been stated in Mexico that the officials of the Missouri Pacific system had proposed to change the name of the train from the Mexico-St. Louis Limited to the International Limited and the private secretary carried President Diaz's personal protest against such a change or any change that would omit the name of Mexico from the title.

While the officials of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain realize that the train service is of international character the name St. Louis-Mexico International Limited has received some approval. It is objected to on the other hand as being of too great length.

FURNITURE TAKEN AWAY.

R. C. Anderson Says His Office Was Stripped.

R. Coley Anderson filed suit in the Circuit Court Tuesday against William L. Musick and his wife, Lucy Musick, and William N. McCourtney, asking for $25,000 damages.

In his petition Anderson alleges that before June 1, 1906, he was in the real estate business at 816 Olive street. On that date he formed a partnership with Mr. and Mrs. Musick. He alleges that after he left his place of business Saturday the Musicks stripped the office of its furniture and wrecked the business. He asks for the dissolution of the partnership, the appointment of a receiver, an accounting and that the quit-claim deeds to property at 4390 McPherson avenue and 4328 Maryland avenue be set aside. This property was transferred by the Musicks, he alleges, to McCourtney, who is made a party to the suit.

ROBBED AFTER WARNING.

Girl Believes a Young Man Took Her Watch.

Miss Anna Kruger of 4242 Folsom avenue reported to the police Tuesday that she was robbed of a gold watch Monday evening at Eighteenth and Pine streets, by a young man who engaged her in conversation, telling her how dangerous the neighborhood was for a young woman without an escort.

Miss Kruger was waiting for a street car at 9 p. m. at the corner, she said, when the young man, who was well-dressed, stout, with dark hair and complexion, apparently 26 years old, asked her what she was doing there. She plained. He launched into a discourse assuring her that she was very careless to be alone there at that time of the evening. She missed the watch when she got on the car.

MYERS DECISION SOON.

The case of Mrs. Aggie Myers, who is under sentence to be hanged in Clay, Sept. 3, will be considered by Gov. Folk, he has announced, and a decision reached before he leaves Monday for New York to participate in the Bryan reception.

The Governor has received several lengthy petitions and a number of letters asking him to prevent the hanging of a woman in Missouri. No formal application has been made and no communication has been presented which bears on the facts in the case.

BURGLAR VERY CLUMSY

Thief Awakens Occupants of Three Homes, Flees.

Henry Schaeffer of 2110 De Kalb street was awakened at 1 a. m. Tuesday by the noise of a falling chair in his kitchen.

"Who's there?" shouted Schaeffer.

"Sh-h-h, I'm John Burke," said a burglar as he went out through the kitchen window.

An hour later Mrs. Elizabeth Burgess of 2115 De Kalb street heard a noise in her bedroom. She sat up in bed and observed a man at her dresser drawer. In opening the drawer the burglar had pulled it too far and it had fallen to the floor.

"Mercy!" screamed Mrs. Burgess.

The burglar did a somersault out of the window and escaped.

At 4 a. m. Peter Ziegler of 2424 Lemp avenue was awakened by hearing some one stumble over a kitchen chair.

"Wait a minute," said Ziegler as he sprang out of bed and started for the kitchen, but the burglar was deaf and dumb.

Ziegler saw the intruder go through the kitchen window and jump over the back fence.

BOARD ACCUSES TRIO.

Patrolman O'Gorman of the Mounted District is one of a trio of policeman who will be charged with offenses at Friday's meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners.

O'Gorman is accused of leaving the city without permission and with neglect of duty in failing to so report. O'Gorman and his family, formerly of 1547 Tamm avenue, moved to 7316 Marietta avenue, Maplewood March 17.

Patrolman Paul Girard will face trial on the charge of having wounded the fine St. Bernard dog of Mrs. Charles C. Swinford of 5721 Roosevelt place, Aug. 14. Mrs. Swinford, in her affidavit, states that the dog was in her back yard and she saw the policeman shoot him. She denies that the dog attacked Girard.

Patrolman John J. McCarthy has already resigned from the force, but the board will try him anyway on charges of neglect of duty, disobedience of orders and of violating his oath of office. It is charged that he was absent from his beat for one and a half hours Aug. 19, and when found by Sergt. William Tierney refused to make any statement. He declined to make any report on command of his Sergeant and threw his star down on the railing at the station and announced he had quit.

WALKED FROM WINDOW.

Aged Woman Who Mistook It for Door Dies.

Mrs. Mary R. Tully, 62 years old, died Monday at the City Hospital from injuries received Saturday night when she walked out of a second-story window of her home, 3019 Lawton avenue.

Mrs. Tull was awakened late at night by her son, Peter, who knocked on the door. Being so suddenly aroused, she was confused and mistook an open window for the door. She fell 20 feet to the ground. Her cries attracted the neighbors, who cared for her until she was sent to the hospital. Her son, who had gone away, knew nothing of the accident until he read it in the papers the next day. Mrs. Tully's right arm and several ribs were fractured.

LESLIE CARTER PUMMELS OFFICER

Constable Leaps Into Actress' Auto and She Treats Him as Highwayman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—As Mrs. Leslie Carter Payne, the actress, was speeding along the south country road in front of the Postoffice in Brookhaven, on Long Island, in her automobile, Constable Bumstead attempted to stop her. The constable signaled the chauffeur to stop, but he paid no attention, speeding on the faster.

To the amazement of the onlookers Bumstead leaped into the auto as it sped by. Instantly he was pummeled by both Mrs. Payne and her chauffeur.

"I am an officer of the law; I arrest you for speeding beyond the legal limits and I warn you to desist from further resistance," he said.

Hostilities at once ceased. Profuse apoligies were made and Bumstead was assured that he had been taken for a highwayman bent upon robbery and murder. Mrs. Payne was so sincere in her apologies and excuses that the gallant constable accepted them and permitted Mrs. Payne and the chauffeur to go on to Shelter Island, where she is spending the summer.

ST. LOUIS MAN NAMED.

He Will Aid in Formation of New Political Party.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—Arthur W. Kebfeldt of St. Louis has been selected as a member of the National Committee of the Reform party, the outgrowth of the wave of reform which recently swept the country. George F. Watson of San Francisco, the originator of the party, at the Gibson House last night gave out the selections he has made for the National Committee, which is to have one member in each city in the United States with a population of more than 30,000.

Out of 12 names recommended to him from each city he selected one at random. Only a few of them have been notified as yet. Anti-graft, anti-trust, honesty and truth are the principles of the new party. Mudslinging will not be tolerated in the campaigns.

There is no Kebfeldt in the St. Louis directory.

SHE ELOPED WITH FELLOW EMPLOYE.

MISS MARY E. MARSHALL.

ELOPED AND WED IN TERRE HAUTE

Friends of Miss Mary E. Marshall and Lester M. Finley Surprised.

Friends of Miss Mary E. Marshall of 4285 Olive street and Lester M. Finley of Shrewsbury Park have just heard that the couple eloped to Terre Haute, Ind., a week ago last Friday and, unknown even to Miss Marshall's parents, were married. Miss Marshall has for some time been a stenographer at the Garnett, Allen & Grubb Paper Co., Second street and Washington avenue, and Finley is a salesman for the same company.

Finley's first wife died last January, leaving him with two little children, the youngest now less than a year old.

Neither Miss Marshall's parents nor her most intimate friends suspected that the two were in love. Friends saw them out only two or three times together before the elopement.

The couple slipped quietly away to Terre Haute on the evening of Aug. 10 and were married. They gave no St. Louis addresses and did all in their power to keep the wedding a secret. It was not until Monday, when the news began to leak out at the office of the company, that the story of the elopement became known.

When the couple came back to St. Louis and Miss Marshall went home and told her parents that she was Mrs. Finley and not Miss Marshall any more they were dazed. It is said that it has been a long siege trying to reconcile the parents to the elopement, but the bride has been partially successful and expects to soon go to housekeeping at Shrewsbury Park, Finley's home before the elopement.

It is said that Miss Marshall's parents and friends thought another young man, prominent in society, had won the young lady's heart. Miss Marshall has been a prominent figure at several Veiled Prophet's balls during the last five or six years.

ALPS HIT MADE BY WYNNE WINSLOW

Conductor Franko Arranging Program for Next Children's Concert—Notes.

The new week at the Alps, introducing Miss Wynne Winslow, a St. Louis singer, as the soloist, opened with distinction Monday evening. Miss Winslow was heard in two regular numbers, the mad scene aria from Thomas' "Hamlet" and the ballad, "April Morn," and also in two encores, "Twickenham Ferry" and "Years of Spring." She was in excellent voice and greatly pleased her hearers. The orchestral program was of much attractiveness, including among other compositions a fantasie on the "Bohemian Girl" score, arranged as a trumpet solo for Mr. Otto Heim; St. Saens' "Coronation March," the wedding procession music from Rubinstein's "Feramors," two Grieg numbers, Anitra's dance from the Peer Gynt suite, and "In the Halls of the Mountain King" and Komzak's "Kaiser Josef" march.

Conductor Franko, whose leadership of the Alps orchestra is making the hit of the season, is arranging a program for next Sunday afternoon's concert, the second of the series for children for the benefit of the Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund, which is expected to prove irresistibly attractive. It will be accompanied by enlightening remarks touching on the life and work of the various composers represented and the significance of the compositions selected. The proceeds from all children's tickets sold for these Sunday afternoon concerts will go to the Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund.

An operatic program, comprising selections from the best known grand and light operas, will be offered Tuesday evening.

Columbia's New Bill.

Bert Leslie and company in "Hogan's Visit," presenting the inimitable Steve Hogan in a new playlet and with a fresh stock of the funniest slang extant, is the best feature of the Columbia's new bill, which was put on Monday afternoon. It is excellent entertainment. The Rialto Comedy Quartette is good, with a flirtatious yet bashful rustic in the person of the basso which is genuine comedy. Helene Gerard gives an interesting equestrian act with a big dapple-gray horse which she has trained to perform wonderful dancing feats. Aurie Dagwell, "the girl who sings the old songs," is fairly good, as are Smith and Campbell in a conversational stunt which would be better, however, for a bit of brightening up. "A Fisherman's Luck," presented by Jane Courthope and company, is based on an impossible situation and is over-acted along farcical lines. May Duryea and W. A. Mortimer in the Edmund Day playlet, "An Imposter," struggle with a slap-bang sketch that needs bright lines. Lazar and Lazar's comedy musical act is dull.

Suburban Garden's 1907 Plans.

The Suburban Garden management announces that Henrietta Browne, now appearing in "The Christian," has been signed to open the Suburban Garden season of 1907 with a two weeks' engagement. She will be followed by Amelia Bingham, who will remain five weeks, and then will come in succession Henrietta Crosman, Margaret Anglin, Blanche Walsh and, very probably, Louis Mann and Clara Lipman in "Julie Bonbon." The Messrs. Oppenheimer of the Suburban state that the success of the present season has encouraged them to make these important arrangements for an even more distinguished season next summer.

U. S. READY TO TAKE A HAND IN CUBAN UPRISING

American Charge D'Affaires at Havana Ordered to Keep Root Informed.

PALMA REMAINS SILENT

Leaves Uncle Sam to Judge for Himself When It's Time to Intervene.

CUBAN ARMY INCREASED

Rebels Capture Rural Guards—Fighting Reported West of Havana.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Close watch is being kept by the American Government on the developments of the revolutionary movement in Cuba for the purpose of determining whether this Government will be forced to intervene in the interest of peace.

Jacob Sleeper, the American Charge d'Affaires at Havana, has been directed to keep the State Department advised of the progress of the revolution. The question now being considered is whether the United States shall interfere of its own volition or whether it will wait until President Palma has made an appeal for assistance.

Under the provisions of the Platt amendment providing for turning Cuba over to its people and in a treaty between the United States and Cuba, the United States is given the right to interfere in the affairs of Cuba for the preservation of the sovereignty of Cuba against any foreign government, and also to interfere for the maintenance of peace and order if domestic conditions warrant such a course. This Government is given the right to judge whether or not the time has arrived in which to interfere.

No definite information has been received as to whether the Cuban Government is able to subdue the revolution which has broken out there. The American Minister has not given the Department any light on this matter. If President Palma decides that the situation is beyond his control it is not believed that he would make a direct appeal to the American Government, and it would, in all probability, come through the American Minister at Havana, or the Cuban Minister in Washington. If the situation there becomes serious this Government will interfere on its own motion.

Official advices of the revolutionary attempt to overthrow the Cuban Government were received at the Department of State from Jacob Sleeper, the Charge d'Affaires of the American Legation at Havana. He cabled that armed manifestations against the Cuban Government have occurred in the provinces of Pinar Del Rio and Havana. Several hundred men are said to have taken part in the Pinar Del Rio demonstration. In Havana the number is less, perhaps, than one hundred. No trouble is reported in the other provinces. Several of the known leaders have been arrested.

No advices have been received regarding the report that the rural guards, which is really the army of Cuba, has joined the revolutionists.

PALMA, UNDER GUARD, STRENGTHENS ARMY.

HAVANA, Aug. 21.—Following a secret session of the House to discuss the revolutionary uprisings in Cuba, President Palma has decreed the increase of the rural guards, the national army, to 4000 and has appointed Gen. Montalvo, Secretary of Public Works, to take direct charge of all military operations against the rebels.

The situation confronting the Cuban Republic is very grave. Many of the well-known revolutionary leaders have openly joined in the insurrection and the fidelity of the Government troops is doubted. The rebels are preparing to make their stand in the province of Pinar del Rio, and the Government is rushing troops to the scene. The rural guards are totally insufficient in numbers to cope with the rebellion. President Palma is confined to his palace, protected by a strong force of troops and detectives.

Havana is in gloom and business is almost paralyzed. The cigarmakers have gone out on a general strike, which is suspected of being politically inspired.

One of the rigorous measures adopted to stamp out the movement was a prohibition today on the departure of any automobiles from the city. It is feared that the enemy might use them for couriers.

25 Men Started Trouble.

Gen. Quintin Bandera, the negro who won fame in the war for independence by being the first to cross the Spanish trocha, is in command of the rebels. He started the uprising with a force of about 25 men, which he gathered about him at Arroyo Arenas, 12 miles west of Havana. As they marched west into the adjoining province they were joined by other bands, armed with guns and ammunition which had been sent to them by sympathizers in this city.

Fifty rural guards from Havana and 100 from Santa Clara were dispatched in pursuit. When these have formed a junction with the rural guards already in the province, which are said to number about 450, an engagement with the rebels may be expected. This is all the troops that are available for the crisis.

The first death resulting from the insurrection occurred yesterday. While Gov. Nunez was automobiling on the Guanajau road he overtook a detachment of 20 rural guards, who were following the trail of Gen. Bandera. Gov. Nunez joined the party, and suddenly one of Bandera's bands was encountered. In a rapid exchange of shots Lieut. Gregario Roque, commander of the rural guards, was killed. The band escaped, dragging with them two of their men, who are believed to have been mortally wounded.

Castillo and Gomez, who were arrested today, disclaim all treasonable designs. They assert that their sole activity was in the reorganization of the Liberal party. The same plea will be made by others who are in custody. The two prisoners were brought to Havana in a special train from Santiago, heavily escorted.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 21.—Because he "butted into" an argument between two of his fellow-countrymen, the tip of Anthony Snellkopf's tongue was cut off at Minooka last night.

He was one of the guests at a wedding celebration and his action precipitated a fight, from which he emerged with only three-quarters of his tongue.

DIES IN SANITARIUM.

Granddaughter of Original Astor Finally Succumbs.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Cecelia De Nottbeck, a granddaughter of the first John Jacob Astor, died yesterday in a private sanitarium in Fishkill Landing.

Twenty-five years ago, while she was riding in Central Park with her husband, the horses took fright and Gen. De Nottbeck was killed. Her mind has been unbalanced since.

The heirs to the $2,000,000 estate are her daughter, Cecilia, who lives in Manhattan, and Eugenia, who lives in Imatra, Russia, and a son and daughter, Peter and Gabrielle, who lived with their mother at Fishkill.

LIBRARY GETS $650,000.

Big Sum Paid in Cash for Central Block.

Nearly two-thirds of a million dollars in cash was realized by the Library Board in the sale of the old library block, between Olive and Locust streets and Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets. At the time of the sale to the Joliet Realty Co. $20,000 was paid in cash. Monday $630,000 was turned over to the board in return for the deed to the ground. This sum will be added to the building fund of $500,000 pledged by Andrew Carnegie for the central building, making possible a structure to cost $1,200,000. Although Carnegie gave a million for a library, one-half of this sum is to go for branch buildings and one-half for the central building.

Work will begin within a few months tearing down the old Music Hall and Coliseum. The foundation of the new library building will be laid next spring. The board has retained 181 feet of ground at the northeast corner of Seventeenth and Locust streets.

MORE than ONE MILLION people in the city of St. Louis and contiguous territory READ the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH EVERY Sunday.

DISEASED KIDNEYS

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Do Not Know It Until It Has Developed Into Bladder Trouble, Rheumatism, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, Which Will Prove Fatal If Not Attended to Promptly.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

IS A SURE CURE FOR ALL FORMS OF KIDNEY, LIVER, BLADDER AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT HAS CURED THOUSANDS, IT WILL CURE YOU. A TRIAL BOTTLE ABSOLUTELY FREE TO EVERY READER OF THE ST. LOUIS DAILY POST-DISPATCH.

MR. W. E. WHEELER.

Mr. W. E. Wheeler, Menasha, Wisconsin, Past Commander G. A. R. and Sergeant in the Civil War, who suffered intensely from kidney trouble for over forty years, wrote on May 10, 1906:

"Ever since the war I have suffered intensely with kidney and bladder trouble in its worst form and despaired of ever finding permanent relief. My back troubled me most of the time, and it was impossible to bend over without suffering acutely. Some years ago Safe Cure was recommended to me and I took a couple of bottles and then discontinued using it, as I obtained some relief. About six months ago I caught cold and my old trouble returned, but many times worse, so I began using Safe Cure again, using nine bottles in all. I firmly believe I have rid my system of any trace of kidney and bladder trouble, and certainly feel grateful to Warner's Safe Cure. W. E. Wheeler, Menasha Wisconsin, Past Commander of the G. A. R., also Sergeant in the Civil War."

CURES KIDNEY DISEASE

When the kidneys are diseased the uric acid is not carried off, and this causes Gout, Lumbago, Rheumatism of the Joints, Rheumatism of the Muscles, Rheumatism of the Heart, Rheumatism everywhere.

In Bright's Disease the bowels are often constipated and the liver torpid. Warner's Safe Pills quickly relieve this condition, and no ill after effect is experienced.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct, at 50 CENTS AND $1.00 A BOTTLE. Refuse substitutes containing harmful drugs which injure the system.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE. To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will cure them, a trial bottle will be sent, ABSOLUTELY FREE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in the St. Louis Daily Post-Dispatch. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed. Our doctors will also send medical booklet containing descriptions of symptoms and treatment of each disease and many convincing testimonials free to every one.

WIFE THROWS HIS HAT FROM TRAIN

Quarrel of Couple on Express Causes Amusement for Passengers.

HE HURLS BASKET OUT

"There Goes Your Hat!" She Then Cries, Suiting Action to Words.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—As the result of a quarrel between his wife and himself, in which she threw his hat through the open window of a swiftly moving train, C. H. Beard of 1301 Washington avenue, St. Louis, was fined $7.10 today in Justice Connolly's court. On payment of costs, $4, Beard was released and went on his way to Peoria, in company with his wife.

The quarrel furnished much amusement for the passengers on the northbound Chicago & Alton Prairie State Express. The couple boarded the train at St. Louis, and at intervals drank from a small bottle. When the train was nearing Springfield, Beard became angered at some remark made by his wife. He stooped down, picked up a big basked full of their belongings and poised it on the edge of the window.

"Here she goes," he shouted and dumped the basket from the window.

Before any one could interfere Mrs. Beard snatched her husband's hat from his head and flung it through the window, exclaiming, "Yes, and here goes your hat!"

Trainmen then interfered and quieted the couple. When the train reached the city, Beard remarked to his wife that she was too smart and that he would leave her. Mrs. Beard had no intention of being left and followed him from the train. When he entered a store to buy a new hat she went to Justice Connolly's office and got a warrant charging Beard with disorderly conduct. He spent the night in the city prison.

Seeks 17-Year-Old Bride.

Mrs. Bessie Tawney of 821 South Second street, a 17-year-old bride of 10 months, is being sought by the police at the request of her husband, Ernest R. Tawney. She disappeared Aug. 15. Tawney says he knows no reason for her leaving him. Before her marriage she lived at Greenup, Ky., where Tawney lived several years before coming to St. Louis. She came to St. Louis soon after Tawney left Kentucky, and they were married here. She is 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has light brown hair and brown eyes.

ALL ST. LOUIS WANTS TO INVITE KAISER HERE

Heads of City's Commercial Bodies Approve Post-Dispatch Suggestion.

COMMISSION IS DESIRED

Public Hospitality Should Be Personally Offered, Business Men Say.

MILLION CLUB IN LINE

Its Executive Committee Calls on Municipal Assembly to Act.

No plan for a public action in St. Louis ever received a more cordial and spontaneous indorsement than the suggestion of the Post-Dispatch that the city invite Emperor William of Germany to come here.

Commercial and civic organizations, cit yofficials and business men, indorse the plan, set forth in Monday's Post-Dispatch, as one that should be carried out without delay.

"Emperor William wants to come to the United States.

"The sooner I see the people of that great nation the better pleased I shall be," said he a few days ago in conversation with the American Ambassador, Charlemagne Tower.

As the head of a nation which had the greatest exhibit of all foreign nations at the World's Fair, St. Louis owes the German Emperor hearty good will. By ties of blood and friendship St. Louis is closely united to Germany.

Recently the Emperor was presented with a medal in commemoration of his services in behalf of the Exposition.

That he has a warm spot in his heart for St. Louis and St. Louisans is well known to Ambassador Tower and others who have talked with the Emperor about the great cities of the United States.

LEADING MEN INDORSE PLAN URGED BY THE POST-DISPATCH

LEO A. LANDAU,
President Franklin Avenue Merchants' Association, Who Introduced Into Million Club Resolution for Invitation to Kaiser.

GOV. FOLK: Missouri will be glad to welcome the Kaiser and make his stay in the State a memorable one.

MILLION CLUB: Resolved, That the invitation be presented in person to the Kaiser by a committee of representative St. Louisans.

PRESIDENT KINGSLAND, Manufacturers' Association: I heartily approve the Post-Dispatch suggestion that the people of St. Louis, through the Mayor and Municipal Assembly, invite Emperor William to visit our city.

PRESIDENT RICHMOND, Merchants' Exchange: Emperor William is one of the greatest men living. By all means let St. Louis extend to him such an invitation that he will make us a visit.

O. L. WHITELAW, Acting President Business Men's League: It would be a great thing for St. Louis if Emperor William were to honor us with his presence. Put the Business Men's League down as enthusiasticall in favor of the Post-Dispatch suggestion.

JOHN SCHROERS, Member Executive Committee Business Men's League: The commercial and civic organizations of St. Louis, the Mayor, Municipal Assembly, our Governor, Congressmen and Senators should unite to get Emperor William to visit the city.

PRESIDENT FORMAN of the City Council: Even if the invitation to Emperor William were not accepted, the episode would stretch hands across the sea from the Americans of German descent in St. Louis to Germans and Germany.

SPEAKER O'BRIEN of the House of Delegates: The Municipal Assembly should pass a concurrent resolution, to be signed by the Mayor, inviting Emperor William of Germany to visit St. Louis, in accordance with the excellent suggestion of the Post-Dispatch.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Million Population Club, held Monday night at the Monticello Hotel, the suggestion of the Post-Dispatch was indorsed in resolutions calling for immediate action. The resolutions, presented by Leo A. Landau, president of the Franklin Avenue Merchants' Association, are as follows:

"Whereas, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, with its usual alacrity in serving the public welfare in general and St. Louis in particular, makes the suggestion that the German Emperor be invited to visit St. Louis, and states the following very excellent reasons for such an invitation:

"1. The announcement of Emperor William's desire to visit this country.

"2. As the head of the foreign nation which had the best exhibit of all the foreign nations at the World's Fair, St. Louis owes the German Emperor hearty good will.

"3. St. Louis is closely united with Germany by ties of blood and friendship.

"4. A large part of the population of the city is of German birth and descent.

"5. The most cordial relations of friendship exist between representative Germans and representative St. Louisans.

"6. The generosity of the German nation in its treatment of the World's Fair, the hospitality of its representatives, the cordial entente between the people of this city and the Germans. And

"Whereas, the Post-Dispatch further suggests an official invitation from the Mayor and Municipal Assembly, personally presented by a special commission. And

"Whereas, the Post-Dispatch further suggests that the above action would reflect credit on the city, whether the Emperor decided to come or not.

"Be it resolved by the Million Population Club, which represents nearly every civic organization of St. Louis, that it heartily indorse the excellent suggestion of the Post-Dispatch, and recommend a formal invitation from the Mayor and Municipal Assembly of the city of St. Louis to the German Emperor requesting the honor of a visit from His Majesty to our city, and

"Be it further resolved, that the invitation be presented in person to the Kaiser by a committee of representative St. Louisans, and

"Be it further resolved, that the president of the Million Population Club inform the honorable Mayor and the honorable Municipal Assemblies of this city of the nature of our suggestions and respectfully request their co-operation."

The following members of the Executive Committee of the Million Club were present: L. D. Kingsland, Leo A. Landau, Manley G. Richmond, Ben Westhus, W. N. Aubuchon, E. P. Lampkin, J. H. McCabe, Otto F. Karbe and J. E. Spangler.

Business Leaders Approve.

The presidents of the Manufacturers' Association, the Business Men's League and Merchants' Exchange and the heads of other great commercial organizations declared that St. Louis should extend an immediate invitation to Emperor William:

Members of the City Council and the House of Delegates, seen Tuesday by Post-Dispatch reporters, indorsed the suggestion, as did President Forman of the Council and Speaker O'Brien of the House. The statements of members of the Assembly are as follows:

COUNCILMAN CRAMER: The idea is a magnificent one.

COUNCILMAN GARDNER: Should St. Louis succeed in bringing the Emperor to St. Louis, the event would hold a conspicuous place in World's history.

COUNCILMAN LINDE: By all means invite the Emperor of Germany to come to St. Louis.

DELEGATE OTTO, Ninth Ward: A visit from the German Emperor would mean vastly more to St. Louis than was the visit of his younger brother, to whom we certainly tendered a memorable reception.

DELEGATE KOLLAS, Twelfth Ward: The plan is a fine one, and I shall support it.

DELEGATE COALE, Twenty-eighth Ward: I favor the invitation to the Emperor. The trip to Germany would not occupy over 30 days and could be made at an expense of $5000 for a commission of six. The proper source from which to draw the money for the expense of the trip would be the contingent fund of the Mayor. If this fund of the Mayor cannot supply the money an appropriation should be made from the general revenue. St. Louis certainly owes the Kaiser an invitation after the hint he gave out, and whatever the city does should be done properly. A commission should carry the invitation.

DELEGATE WEEKE, Seventeenth Ward: The city should extend an official invitation to the Kaiser to come to St. Louis. I shall vote for it. I think, too, a commission should convey the invitation to the Kaiser. I believe, however, that before the city appropriates from $6000 to $10,000 for the expense of the commission, the plan should be canvassed of getting volunteers. I know men in St. Louis who would be glad to pay their own expenses to have the honor of being special ambassadors of the city to the Emperor of Germany.

DELEGATE GEVERS, Eighteenth Ward: I am in favor of inviting the Emperor of Germany to come to St. Louis, in view of his expressed desire to visit America. I think the invitation should be transmitted to him through the regular diplomatic channels or through a volunteer commission, whose members would pay their own expenses.

DELEGATE KAISER, Eighth Ward: The suggestion is original and attractive. Even if the Emperor's expression of a desire to visit America was merely a formal courtesy, it deserves a response. I favor extending the invitation through the proper official channels—the Municipal Assembly and the Mayor. Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well, and the invitation should be conveyed by a commission. I would favor both the invitation and a reasonable appropriation to pay the expenses of a commission to carry the invitation to the Emperor, if the expenses of such a commission cannot be paid out of the contingent fund of the Mayor.

DELEGATE PRIESMEYER, First Ward: The kind expression of the Emperor of Germany for America merits recognition on the part of St. Louis, and the proper recognition would be an invitation to do what he expressed a desire to do. The Municipal Assembly and the Mayor should give him an official invitation to come to St. Louis. I shall certainly do my part toward bringing this about. The only proper way of transmitting the invitation would be by personal messenger. I favor the appointment of a commission to carry the invitation to the Emperor.

DELEGATE WIEDMER, Thirteenth Ward: The invitation would exercise a profound influence on the trade of St. Louis. Whether or not a commission is sent all the way to Germany to carry the invitation, a big committee of representative citizens should meet the distinguished guest in Washington or in New York.

DELEGATE ZIMMERMANN, Sixth Ward: I would strongly support a resolution inviting the German Emperor to visit St. Louis. The invitation would advertise St. Louis in a land that sends as desirable a class of emigrants as any in the world. While St. Louis is working to raise its population to 1,000,000, it could find no better way to catch the eyes of this attractive emigrant class. Every German emigrant would want to come to the city that had invited the Kaiser to pay it a visit. Should the Kaiser accept the invitation St. Louis would benefit immensely. The Kaiser is a man of ideas and action. St. Louis could make him feel at home if any city in America could.

FOLK TO INVITE HIM TO MISSOUI.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 21.—Gov. Folk today expressed himself in favor of extending an invitation to the Emperor of Germany to visit St. Louis. The Governor said to a Post-Dispatch correspondent: "Missouri will, of course, be glad to welcome the Kaiser. If there is any likelihood of his coming, I should be pleased to extend him an official invitation."

YOUTH ESCAPES; POLICEMAN NEAR

After Shooting at Saloonkeeper, He Runs When Wagon Is Called.

The First District police are looking for James Bentewolf, 21 years old, of 7127 Idaho avenue, who fired two shots at John Petrewitsch, a saloonkeeper of 601 Robert avenue and escaped from Probationary Patrolman Reynolds after a chase.

Bentewolf was drinking in Petrowitsch's saloon as the proprietor was talking to another man. Bentewolf tried to get into the conversation and Petrowitsch ordered him out. He did not go and Petrowitsch put him out. He went home and procured his revolver.

When he returned to the saloon Mrs. Petrowitsch met him at the side door. He pointed a revolver at her and told her to get out of the way and said he was going to kill her husband.

She tried to grab the revolver. He replaced it in his pocket and struck her with his fist. Her husband came to the door and Bentewolf shot twice at him. One bullet passed through his cap and grazed his head. The other went wild.

Reynolds, at his home a block away, heard the shots, and ran there. He found Bentewolf with the revolver in his hand, took it from him and arrested him.

As he was calling for the wagon at a box across the street, Bentewolf broke away and dashed through the crowd and ran south on Vermont avenue. Reynolds and the crowd pursued him, but he distanced everybody and got away. In his flight he dropped his hat, which is held by the police. Bentewolf is well known in that part of the city.

"BOB" STURGEON TO ASK DIVORCE

Assistant Bank Cashier Will Seek Separation from Society Leader.

A member of the prominent Sturgeon family admitted Tuesday to a Post-Dispatch reporter that Robert T. Sturgeon, assistant cashier of the Merchants-Laclede National Bank, will in a few days file suit for divorce from Mrs. Amy T. Sturgeon. It is understood that allegations of general indignities will be the basis of the action.

The separation of the couple has been known in society circles for several weeks, and has been the topic of much discussion in their large circle of friends.

Mrs. Sturgeon has been popular in society for several years and became especially so during the World's Fair period, when she took an active part in many functions of note. She is considered an extremely attractive woman, and was a favorite before her marriage. She is a daughter of Joseph L. Bay of 5904A Clemens avenue, and it is said that she has been staying there since the separation, until a few days ago, when she left for a Tennessee resort. The Bay family refused Tuesday to discuss the separation.

Robert T. Sturgeon is a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families in St. Louis. He refused to discuss the divorce proceedings. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon lived at 4200 Maryland avenue before the separation. They were married in St. Louis Feb. 13, 1900.

Prisoner Is Not Brazee.

Acting Chief of Police Gillaspy was notified by wire Tuesday that the man arrested in English, Ind., in the belief that he was Roy Brazee, wanted in St. Louis on a charge of double murder, was another man. Sergt. Fields, who went to English to identify the prisoner, telegraphed the information.

CUBAN ANNEXATION.

The first echo in Washington of the Cuban revolution is the cry of annexation. It is assumed for annexation purposes that self-government in Cuba is a failure and that a protectorate is the immediate need of the people of the island.

Was there ever a new Government, dealing with new and difficult problems, which did not have internal dissensions and occasional revolts? We, who did not inherit the revolutionary habits which the Cubans have inherited, have had our internal troubles and one big rebellion which for a time made our Government look very much like a failure. Doubtless if there had been a friendly national patron strong enough to annex us we would have been annexed with the approval of all imperial-minded persons.

In this annexation cry the wish is father to the thought and the wish finds root in the soil of greed. Some powerful interests would be delighted to have Cuba governed for Americans. The Cubans will probably be able to handle their revolutionists, but if the revolution shall succeed, it will represent the Cubans better than the existing Government. It will at least be a government of Cubans by Cubans, which is better than a government of Cubans by any other people. Let us give the Cubans time to work out their problem of self-government.

THE ST. JAMES BRASS BAND.

Although circumstances over which it has no control have heretofore prevented the St. James (Mo.) brass band from becoming widely known to a world which needs as much good music as it can get, the truth is made evident that the band's enforced obscurity is purely accidental.

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene," the poet tells us, "the dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear; full many a flower is born to blush unseen, and waste its sweetness on the desert air," and the St. James band belonged in this category until a train wreck Sunday delayed two trainfuls of passengers for several hours within the band's easy reach. Whereupon the melodious wind jammers of the St. James band bore down upon the castaways and played so sweetly to them that its members, the news dispatches tell us, were fairly overwhelmed with invitations to come to St. Louis.

We hope they will come to St. Louis, because a band that can toot so mellifluously as to smooth the ruffled fronts of wrecked railway passengers must be a wonderful band. Enterprising managers of summer gardens should not miss the opportunity created by this epochal achievement of the St. James (Mo.) band. That organization has demonstrated its high deserving of a metropolitan engagement that shall send its name thundering down the corridors of fame by proving beyond all further question the truth of the poet's assertion that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast."

IS IT HONEST?

As a first lesson in the mathematics of the most important problem the people of the United States have to deal with now or in the immediate future, we should set it down 1440, divide it by 80 and multiply the quotient by 5.

This simple operation comes near covering the whole of the politics of high finance. The result of it is 90 and it should be committed to memory as $90.

The 1440 and the 80 stand for millions. Take 80,000 people, "capitalize" them so that they must pay dividends annually on $18 of capital for each man, woman and child, and you get $1,440,000,000 or nearly a billion and a half in watered stocks and bonds, to be listed as securities on the Stock Exchange, with a special collection of "blocks" set apart for purposes of "promotion and publicity."

In its reality, this is nothing but a process of assessing the people for taxation. It has little or no connection with property actually owned by those who make the assessment. It is "capital" based on the "earning power" and the earning power is calculated on the working power of the population at so much a head.

The whole calculation here deals with the "capital" of the United States Steel Co., so organized and capitalized by Andrew Carnegie and his associates that the head of every family of five in the entire population of the United States is assessed by them for payment of dividends on $90 of their "capital" annually, as if he owed them that amount.

Under their arrangements for publicity and promotion, certain blocks of this capital are now set apart to pay Dr. William T. Harris, late Federal Superintendent of Education, a pension of $3000 a year for meritorious services to education and philosophy.

His services are meritorious, but he is mistaken in the philosophy which leads him to thank Andrew Carnegie for the pension as an honor.

Neither Andrew Carnegie nor the United States Steel Corporation has given him a cent. All the money he or anyone else thus pensioned can draw under this system is drawn from the labor of the people as they are assessed for taxation under the Dingley system of monopoly by the simple arithmetical processes illustrated above.

The use of the "capital" devoted to publicity and promotion is as "bait." The hook it conceals for educators, philosophers and others who accept the system as a patron, is indorsement and support of the system.

There is nothing so complicated about this high finance but that it can be understood by anyone who can read the Ten Commandments and work out addition and division.

At the end of it we have the simple question: "Is it right, is it honest?"

INVITE EMPEROR WILLIAM.

We feel that all St. Louisans will give cordial assent and support to the Post-Dispatch's suggestion of an invitation to Emperor William of Germany to visit this city should he come to America. The people of St. Louis have the warmest sentiments of regard and good will for the Emperor and his people. We are mindful of his generous support of the World's Fair, which was expressed in the magnificent German exhibit and in the co-operation of the German representatives in the work of making the Exposition a success.

That Emperor William would be delighted to visit the United States there can be no doubt. He has frequently expressed his desire to make the visit and his remark the other day concerning the possibility of his coming indicates that the desire is taking the form of intention. If the Emperor should decide to come, the St. Louis invitation would be timely, and if not, it would not be amiss, but would indicate this city's good will and hospitality.

The invitation should be official, from the Mayor and Municipal Assembly. It should be presented to the Emperor by a committee appointed for that purpose. It should be supplemented by the indorsement of representative organizations.

If St. Louis will take the lead in this matter, others will follow. The Emperor might be induced to come and his visit would undoubtedly be productive of a better understanding and closer friendly relations between two great peoples who ought to be on the best footing of friendship.

THE LEX TALIONIS.

Commenting on Secretary Bonaparte's statement that the use of the lash might deter anarchists from violence, a well-known St. Louis preacher of the gospel of peace and good will cries out for a restoration of the ancient law of "a tooth for a tooth and eye for an eye." He says: "Give us the lash, which can be bought for 75 cents, and you can dismiss half our policemen, close all our jails and penitentiaries."

The so-called Lex Talionis—punishment based on pure revenge—survived the birth of Christianity many centuries, but this was not the fault of the founder of Christian ethics, who distinctly renounced it and formulated a new rule, the spirit of which is embodied in the words: "Resist not evil, but overcome evil with good."

The question of the efficacy and desirability of the lash and other brutal punishments has been thoroughly discussed during the past century and a half, and civilization has placed its condemnation upon such methods. The fact that they are sporadically advocated by a few writers or speakers seems to prove that the growth of human sympathy is still going on. These advocates of revenge are simply men or women who have become so sensitive that they cannot bear the thought of the wrongs for which they would substitute other wrongs. They forget that such substitution could only result in brutalizing the community.

THE MAN JUST FROM JAIL.

The most potent experiment in reclaiming ex-convicts which has been undertaken in years is about to be put to the test in Illinois. Beginning next Monday the State, through the agency of its free employment bureaus in Chicago and other cities, will provide employment for prisoners released from its penal and reformatory institutions and otherwise aid them. As a serious endeavor of society to efface from the criminal the prison hand it has stamped on him, it is likely to receive world-wide attention.

Some idea of what the Illinois experiment may accomplish in transferring the ticket of leave man into a useful member of society may be gained from the excellent work done at Hope Hall, the home for ex-convicts established by Mrs. Ballington Booth on Long Island. Since its institution in December, 1899, this charity has cared for 2800 discharged prisoners, to all of whom an opportunity and an incentive has been given to become good citizens. In only two cases was the conduct of a prisoner while in the colony so bad as to cause his rearrest, and only 5 per cent of those for whom employment was found are known to have reverted to evil ways. The home has been a financial success as well, its sale last July, previous to the removal of the colony to Rockland County, New York, realizing a profit of $20,000 on the investment of six years ago.

What private philanthropy has done in this instance to set the homeless convict on his feet and give him a new start the greater resources of a State should largely surpass. The Illinois experiment marks a long step in humanity from the time when the State turned out its prisoners to shift for themselves, with every man's hand raised against them.

COL. TODHUNTER

The Intrepid Dadblamer Avows His Intention to Fan the Glowing Embers of Bryanism in Missouri With a New Campaign Song Dedicated to the Nebraskan.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Ripley D. Saunders.

"WELL, suh," said Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, "music and eloquence go hand in hand to stir the emotions of the human race, and dog my cats if I haven't found the music that'll fit my oratory with as natural a kinship as two black-eyed peas when I start out to arouse Missouri for Col. William Jennings Bryan and Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter's slaying of the terrible octopus, suh.

"It's a song written and set to music by a woman, suh, Mrs. Helen B. Chamberlin, who fitly lives at Storm Lake, Io., it's entitled 'On to Victory,' it's dedicated to Col. Bryan, and you can play it either on the piano or the organ, it says on the cover. I don't care how you play it, suh, but I'll be dadblamed if it ain't going to accompany and emphasize my Missouri speeches till this whole imperial commonwealth rings with it from center to circumference if I have anything to say about the spellbinding features of the approaching Bryan campaign, suh. Here's how it starts out, suh:

" 'We hear our children crying for the bread we cannot win
Tho' we work from early dawn till close of day;
For monopoly has bound us as slaves in chains of gold,
We are rising now to break the tyrant's sway.
On to victory! A hundred thousand strong,
We are marching onward, marching day by day;
Bryan as our standard bearer, human life a sacred right,
We will triumph over all monopoly!'

"Ain't that got the right ring to it, suh? And true as gospel?—except that I venture to differ from Mrs. Chamberlin and assert that we're more'n a hundred thousand strong, a blamed sight more, suh! But that part about the 'chains of gold,' suh, and 'rising to break the tyrant's sway,' and 'triumphing over all monopoly'—odzounds, but that'll wake 'em up! And that ain't all, suh—you just listen:

" 'The oppressed of other nations turn to us in eager need,
For just laws to give them work and honest pay;
In the dollars which our fathers in their wisdom knew were right,
Good for rich and poor alike for every day!'

"There's a slogan for you, suh, with the old familiar 1896 ring—'the dollars which our fathers in their wisdom knew were right'—and getting 'em for 'the oppressed of other nations'—I'll be eternally condemned if I couldn't win votes for Col. Bryan anywhere he traveled in China on that melodious declaration of principles, suh. But that ain't all, either, suh—this here Mrs. Chamberlin has covered the whole shooting match with her great song. Just incline your soul to this poetic slam against the Philippines and the soulless corporations that transform God-made men into man-made machines:

" 'Should our wives be sadly weeping and our homes the house of woe,
For the loved ones cruelly slain so far away?
Shall we vote for human bondage to incorporated greed—
Blindly vote for wrong, then dare to Heaven to pray?'

"Never, suh—I'll be dadfrazzled if that won't be the popular response to Mrs. Chamberlin's impassioned question, no matter whether it's played and sung 'tempo di marcia,' as the printing on it says, or how it's sung. It's the sentiment of the song that'll arouse the great American people to frenzy, suh—and after they've heard one of Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter's oratorical outbursts, suh, and then we fire this song at 'em, well, suh, I'll eat my hat if the Republicans hadn't better hunt their holes, suh! The hot hinges of Hades will seem cool to 'em when a justly infuriated and patriotic free people get through with 'em, suh.

"I beg to announce, suh, that all is now ready for the great Todhunter tour of Missouri. It'll be the campaigning wonder of the century, suh."

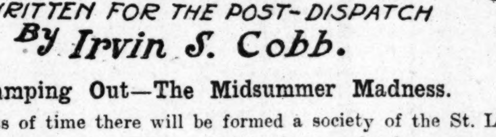
ST. LOUIS THROUGH FUNNY GLASSES



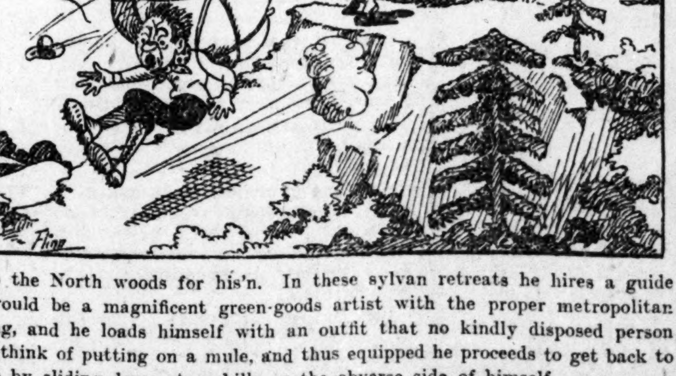
WRITTEN FOR THE POST-DISPATCH

By Irvin S. Cobb.

Camping Out—The Midsummer Madness.

IN the fullness of time there will be formed a society of the St. Louis Survivors of Camping Out. There will be a large and vehement membership. When a thorough organization has been effected a strong delegation will be sent forth to find the person who writes those fascinating works telling how a mere amateur, armed only with a copy of this book, some matches in a bottle and a toy hatchet, may live happily for months in the woods, meanwhile enjoying all the comforts of home. Having found him, they will, with their bare hands, pull him apart to see what makes him tick. And forever after the date of his taking-off will be a gladsome holiday in the annals of the society.

The fell influences of the mid-foolish season are believed to be responsible for the annual reappearance in this ill-starred community of the camping-out germ, which is a malignant microbe, increasing faster than a Swede family ond sparing neither the young nor the old. In milder forms of the disease it causes the patient to go no further than the tented shores of some lake or river, where, when he becomes rational again and yells for help, somebody will hear him. But more often the delirious victim gets a bad attack and goes pirooting away to the North woods, not because he knows anything about the North woods, but because it's expensive up there. A real camper never thinks he's having a time unles he spends a good deal of money.



I'M GOING, BUT I DON'T KNOW WHERE!
GOIN' BACK TER THE CITY SO SOON?
Flinn

So the North woods for his'n. In these sylvan retreats he hires a guide who would be a magnificent green-goods artist with the proper metropolitan training, and he loads himself with an outfit that no kindly disposed person would think of putting on a mule, and thus equipped he proceeds to get back to Nature by sliding down steep hills on the obverse side of himself.

The doomed author previously referred to goes very strong upon the delights of stretching in balmy, restful slumber upon a bed of balsam boughs. It makes you hate a hair mattress just to skim through his chapter devoted to sleeping. But you are pained to learn on a practical demonstration that every hemlock twig over five inches long knows half a million ways of stabbing a man, and goes through the entire curiculum every night.

And then the abounding joys of a rainy day when the firewood won't burn and the licker runs out, and you sit under a lean-to, or sieve, and acquire a disposition like an exposed nerve while cooped up with several others, also engaged in distilling the malt extract of murder in their hearts. Under such circumstances any one can, in a half day, discover two hundred thousand (200,000) things that he don't like in his best friend.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

This column is open for discussion of public questions. Letters should not exceed 150 words.

Replies to Mr. Bickley.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Representative Bickley, the distinguished author of House bill No. 746, vaults before the foot-lights and shouts, "I did it with my little hammer," then sighting Gov. Folk rounding the curve in the distance, flaps his wings, gasps and dies.

Supposing that St. Louis was empowered by legislature to own and operate its terminal system (a supposition not at all probable—the corporate interests will see to that), what show would it have of ever really owning and operating this system? Where would a municipality ever obtain the funds to render such a thing practicable? The relief which over-burdened St. Louisans have so long sought is not contemplated in House bill No. 746 or any other measure of its infantile proportions. We do not hunt for grizzlies with a penknife. Would you oppose the hiss of a goose to John I. Begg's Northwestern hurricane, which will surely blow a mile a minute? The conscience of a corporation is a minus quantity and this monster (the Terminal system), which has wound its talons about our fair city closer each year and is sapping the life blood out of our commerce, has never known quarter. The time for State or Government control of municipal public utilities has arrived. Gov. Folk is not a Socialist. This is not socialism; it is protection.

Mr. Bickley is not greater than the people he represents. He is my representative, and I say his constituents will "submit to legislation whose only result would be the creation of a despotic personal political machine and the deprivation of self-government of municipalities" because they believe that this is a misnomer; because legislation for their protection, for their very life, is not to be withheld for fear of its abuse.

J. MARX.

Drinking on Sunday.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It is well that Gov. Folk has declared himself in favor of making the dramshop law for closed saloons on Sunday an issue in this fall's campaign. Require all candidates for the Legislature to express their views so that the people may judge their qualifications. To wait until after the election will be too late. Those who favor repeal should say so, giving their reasons therefor. Those who believe that saloons should be closed during the forenoon on Sunday should give their reasons why this would be better.

Some say that the saloon is an evil. If so, why should it be permitted to do harm for six days and on the seventh repent? If one has the natural right to buy and drink beer on six days in the week, why require him to quench his thirst with filtered water on Sunday? If to buy and drink on Sunday is naturally bad, it would be equally bad to do so on any other day.

My idea is that the saloon business should be conducted with good behavior and all immoral dives and dens of iniquity totally eradicated. Laws that provide for such reform, and when impartially enforced, would do more good than the closing of saloons for one day in the week. The law as it applies to saloons having been in process of enforcement for more than a year, let us invite the ideas of the people generally, make comparisons, and request all the candidates to make public their ideas before the election. This will give us a chance to elect a Legislature that will serve the people in common.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

WOMEN IN SCIENCE.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

Every now and again we hear of the work done by some woman or other in the scientific world. Astronomy has had its Caroline Herschel and has its Lady Huggins and Miss Agnes Clerke. Physics also has its Mme. Curie. It is becoming quite a commonplace also to see a woman's name as second of two authors of a scientific paper. The work has been suggested and plotted out and supervised by some professor, but has been actually done by a woman.

I am in possession of no statistics, but certainly the number of women in this country who concern themselves with scientific research must be very rapidly increasing. In the list of recent papers at the end of Nature for last week the first paragraph consists of a summary of the results obtained by a woman from a microscopic study of the intimate structure of part of the spinal cord of a particular monkey. The third paragraph discusses a paper of which a woman is part author, and which deals with the origin of certain cells that bear upon the problem of cancer. Only a little further on the name of a woman occurs as a student of the "Diazo-derivatives of the mixed aliphatic aromatic benzene-sulphonylaminobenzyl amines." One is inclined to wish her joy of them. Within five lines there follows an account of a contribution made by a woman to the botany of Southern Rhodesia, and when one turns the page it is to encounter immediately a study made by a woman doctor of the dietaries of students' residences in Edinburgh.

Why Not "Female"?

The fortune of words, indeed, are subject to as many vicissitudes as the fortunes of individuals. But there is perhaps no one term which just now deserves more commiseration for the hard fate which has befallen it than the substantive female used as a synonym for "woman." It is turned out-of-doors by every corrector of the press. It is contemptuously spoken of as a vulgarism; modern ignorance has sometimes styled it a modern vulgarism.

Both as a substantive and as an adjective female goes back to the 14th century; but though then occasionally employed as a synonym for "woman," such usage can hardly be called common. Still it is found. The Wycliffite translation of the Bible, for illustration, reads in the 24th chapter of Matthew that two women shall be grinding at a quern, the one to be taken, the other left. But in the polemic treatise Wycliffe wrote, expounding this same chapter, the two "women" of the gospel appear as two "females." The word turns up occasionally from that time during the three centuries that follow.

It is clear that the elder writers, born and brought up amid the linguistic traditions of the earlier half of the 19th century, were not in the slightest degree under the influences now prevalent; and that the disrepute into which the word has fallen is mainly the work of the last 30 years. It is hard to tell under what circumstances the feeling of dislike to it arose, or what were the main determining agencies that brought about the state of feeling we recognize as existing to-day. If the remark will not seem invidious, I am inclined to attribute the disfavor in which it is now held to the ill-will entertained and expressed towards it by the members of the sex it denotes. It may be said that they ought to have a determining voice in choosing the appellations by which they are designated.—Thomas R. Lounsbury in Harper's for August.

HOW TO FIND IF SHE LOVES YOU.

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Betty Vincent.

FROM men the inquiry, "How can I find out if she loves me?" sounds almost ridiculous to me. There are a great many ways to tell if she loves you. Generally all you have to do is to give her a chance and she will show you.

No less than twenty letters contained that inquiry this morning, and it seems to me that the men are perhaps a little faint-hearted. Girls that are exceedingly independent and uppish require a very masterful, strong man, who has an abounding nerve and will take them off their feet and make them mind before they know what they are about.

Cunning little, demure, retiring propositions must be handled with care and treated gently, but there is nerve required here also. Never let the girl know, no matter what type she belongs to, that you can't face any situation or smooth over any difficulty.

Always display MUCH tact and be very generous (in every way).

Never be stingy with your compliments if there is anything good-looking about the woman you love; let her know all about it and often, too. Women love to be told nice things about themselves even if they know that the person who is telling the things draws on his imagination a little occasionally.

Try the ordinary simple treatment that is suggested in these lines, and then give her a chance to lead the conversation in the right channel and say what you have to say.

Never, NEVER, forget the little maxim about the faint heart and the fair lady.

Isn't It Nice to Breakfast in Peace and Comfort in the Peaceful Haven of Home?

By Roy L. McCardell.

"NOW, if you are going to read the paper at the table, Mr. Jarr, and let your breakfast get cold"—

"Well, it's a good paper, and that is more than can be said of the breakfast. Look at Emma washing her face in the milk! If you spent at little time in teaching the children manners instead of rowing at me, maybe I would prefer to eat than read!"

"How can you expect the children to have any manners when their father sets them the example? They have no respect for me because you show me none. I do my best"—

"For goodness' sake, Clara, let us have one morning meal without your throwing fits. I can stand bacon and eggs in midsummer, the bacon salty as Lot's wife and the eggs as strong as the coffee is weak, but one thing I can't stand, and that is the way you start the day snarling and jawing at me!"

"Children, leave the table! Your father is going to swear at your mother, as he always does! I have to put up with it, but at least you shall not be present and witness my humiliation!"

"You children stay right where you are! Do you hear me? I am your father, and even if your mother does try to make me ridiculous in my own home, by George! you children have got to mind me. I have to support you and feed and clothe you, but you've got to mind me so long as you are under my roof!"

"I might have known, Mr. Jarr, that you would turn my own children against me. I do everything I can to gain their respect and set a good example to them. Children, leave the room!"

"Do you think it is a good example to the children, Mrs. Jarr, to come down to breakfast in a dirty old wrapper, with your hair up in kid curlers, making you look like a Hottentot?"—

"And why do I come down to breakfast in a dirty old wrapper, Mr. Jarr? Because I haven't nice new silk kimonos like your sister has." ((This is a home thrust. Four years ago Mr. Jarr gave his sister a near-silk kimono as a Christmas gift. Mr. Jarr winces.)

"If you would dress a little neater, like my sister does for her husband, it would be much better, Mrs. Jarr! And if you didn't waste money that you do waste, you would have plenty of silk kimonos, but it would be better for this house if your mind was more set on running it with some order and cleanliness than to be all the time thinking of clothes to wear, running around the stores."

"Do you think I would run around in a kimono, Mr. Jarr? Children, leave the room!"

"You let the children stay where they are! If you looked after them a little better"—

"I look after them well enough! If you brought your money home so they could have a few decent things to wear, I wouldn't mind it, even if I went along as I do now, without a decent stitch to my back."

"By George! I have tried for the children's sake to be patient and not to say a word! But when a man gets up to have his breakfast, knowing there is a hard day's work ahead of him, and tries to be calm and patient when good food is burnt and ruined and set before a man who is trying his best! Darn it! I won't say more; I may lose my temper."

"Where are you going, Edward?"

"I'm going out to get something to eat!"

"Well, put your shoes on first!"

"Clara, you are enough to drive a man crazy! But I'm not going without kissing you good-by!"

"Well, sit down like a good little man and eat your breakfast with your family. Let me look at the paper. Now is a splendid time for bargain sales, and I need a whole lot of things for myself and the children!"

London's Motor Accidents.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

The extent to which the motor bus has multiplied the perils of the London streets is shown with startling clearness in the new official return. All the ordinary motor cars and motorcycles put together produced 1115 accidents in May and June, of which 347 led to personal injury and eight proved fatal. The motor bus by itself caused 790 accidents, of which 142 involved injury to the person and five had fatal results. The motor bus has thus made a huge addition to the number of street casualties, and one which, in proportion to its numbers, must be called simply intolerable. There were only 777 heavy motor vehicles in London on June 1 (that figure including motor vans as well as motor busses), compared with 10,826 motor cars, and the numbers given above show that every individual motor bus is involved in an accident more than six times a year upon the average.

A NEW DISH

Few cooks know the unlimited possibilities of Spaghetti. Most of them know of two or three ways to prepare it, but how many of them know twenty-three appetizing recipes for cooking this most nourishing of foods? Our booklet, "Spaghetti and Some of Its Uses," gives twenty-three new ways to cook Faust Spaghetti—all of them prepared especially for users of Faust Brand. This book is free to anyone on request—send for it.

Meanwhile, buy a package of Faust Spaghetti from your grocer and try the following recipe:

STEWED FAUST SPAGHETTI—Boil and drain one-fourth pound of Spaghetti; put into a sauce pan two ounces of butter; mix with two tablespoonfuls of flour; moisten with one-half pint of stock and one gill of cream; salt and white pepper to taste; put in the Spaghetti; let it boil, and serve while hot.

Roosevelt and the Limitation of Fortunes.

From Leslie's Weekly.

The best criticism that we have seen upon President Roosevelt's proposal for the limitation of fortunes "swollen beyond all healthy limits," is that the remedy proposed is ex post facto in its nature, a mere palliation rather than a cure of evil of which complaint is made. In this criticism we freely and heartily concur. If we would lay the ax at the foot of the tree here we must go further back and do something more than merely to impose taxes of any sort or name upon fortunes which have already been made, or are now in process of making. We must seek to apply the ounce of prevention rather than the pound of cure. To break up and scatter a great fortune through some method of taxation is about as unsatisfactory and superficial a way of solving the problem in view, and overcoming the hostility to the cumulators and the accumulations of undue wealth, as it is to dispose of these same fortunes through charities and benefactions. Neither is reconcilable with an economic or industrial system in which justice and equity for all men are cardinal principles. The thing to be sought for is such a readjustment of our industrial system, the establishment of such relations between capital and labor, that the latter shall receive a more just and equitable share than it does now of the product of toil.

The introduction of the principle of co-operation, or profit-sharing, wherever possible will do more, in our judgment, to settle our industrial troubles and keep fortunes within healthy limits than any system of taxation which can be devised.

FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS

Trades.

Sides are chosen. These stand apart from each other, inside the line of their den. One side chooses among themselves a trade, and then walks to the other side, imitating the actions pertaining to different parts of that trade and giving the initial letter. If the trade is guessed by the opposite side that side chooses the next trade and performs the actions. If the trade is not guessed the side is at liberty to choose another, and continue till one is guessed.

Another way of playing this is for some of the players to form a line. Then three others come up and say:

"Here are three men from Botany Bay. Got any work to give us today?"

The others ask: What can you do?"

To which they answer: "Anything."

And the others retort: "Set to work then." The three then begin some imaginary work, while those in the line have to guess what it is.

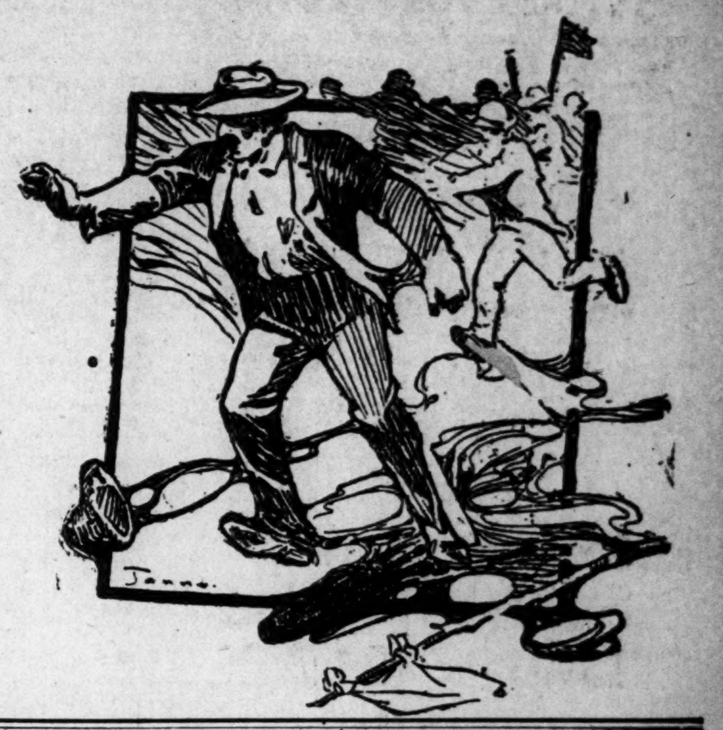
FIND A SOLDIER



Crime Among Youngsters.

From the Hartford Times.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, who has had notable success in dealing with juvenile delinquents and who has mastered the art of getting in close touch with boy life, declares that "1,000,000 children in this country are annually drifting into crime." This certainly is an important statement if true. But is it true? Anybody who has eyes to see and ears to hear knows that there are a great many juveniles who have developing tendencies in that direction. But to say that a million boys and girls are drifting into crime every year in the United States strikes us as absurd. We think that the Judge is too prodigal in the use of ciphers in his statistical utterances.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETINGS.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING—By order of the Board of Directors, a special meeting of the stockholders of the Copper Crown Mining Co. is hereby called to take place in the company's offices, 424-426 Rialto Bldg., St. Louis Mo., Sept. 11, 1906, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of amending the articles of association so as to provide for nine directors, to elect the necessary number of new directors and also for such other business as may properly be brought before said meeting.

COPPER CROWN MINING CO.,
By M. J. Hopkins, President.
Attest: Wm. R. Hopkins, Secretary.

Lost and Found

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—Advertise it here. It will be returned to you if an honest person finds it. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. All druggists receive Want Ads for the Post-Dispatch at office rates.

IF YOU FIND ANYTHING—Bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway. Get a claim check for it. Have it advertised. Reclaim it if the owner does not.

THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State law (sections 8475 to 8489, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899) is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisement and otherwise, and that a failure to do so involves a severe penalty if same can be proven.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Send for free book containing information of priceless value to all expectant mothers.

CLASH OVER POLICEMEN.

Belleville Men Are Arrested by Their Brothers.

Brothers of two members of the Belleville Police Department are nursing many bruises, following a discussion of the merits of their policemen-brothers.

The men were Jule Gebhardt and Alfred Yerk. The quarrel occurred in a saloon on South Spring street Monday night. It attracted so much attention that several policemen hurried to the scene. Gebhardt was arrested by Patrolman Henry Yerk, a brother of the man with whom he had quarreled. Yerk was arrested by Patrolman John Gebhardt, a brother of Jule Gebhardt. The prisoners wanted to settle their dispute as to which of the policemen was the doughtier by letting the policemen fight it out, but the guardians declined.

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health. —How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Alice Berryhill.

Mrs Alice Berryhill

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letters will be seen by a woman only. Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation and was in a serious condition.

"My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it, but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time.

"Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had womanly ills and who today are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."

Just as surely as Mrs. Berryhill was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

If you are sick write Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

THREE OVERCOME BY GASES IN CISTERN

Father and Son in Hospital After Trying to Recover Dustpan.

Three men were overcome in an attempt to recover a 10-cent dustpan from a gas-filled cistern. Guss Gawer, 47 years old, a hodcarrier, and his son Albert, 9, are recovering in the City Hospital. Robert Benninger, an ice wagon driver, was soon revived and is back at work.

After sweeping the house Monday, Lottie Gawer, 8 years old, went to an old cistern in the rear of her home, 2806 Salina street, to empty the dustpan. The cistern is almost filled with refuse. The pan slipped from the girl's hand and fell into the cistern. She called to her brother, Alfred, who was playing near, and he got a ladder and went into the hole to recover the pan.

He fell in a stupor as he reached the bottom, overcome with gas supposed to have been generated by the ashes and other refuse. His sister screamed and her mother ran to the cistern. She called to her husband, Guss Gawer, who immediately ran down the ladder for his son. He got the dustpan and walked partly up the ladder to hand it to Mrs. Gawer before he attempted to recover his boy. Then he returned to the bottom, struggled to get Alfred out, but inhaled so much gas that he fainted as he was mounting the ladder.

Benninger, the iceman, was in the house at the time, filling the refrigerator. Mrs. Gawer called him and he dragged the father and son to the surface, although he himself was almost overcome before he succeeded. He also fainted when he reached the top, but was soon revived.

Gawer and his son were hurried to the City Hospital. Both regained consciousness in an hour. Gawor went into a delirium, and his son quickly fell asleep. From 7 p. m. Monday until after 2 a. m. Tuesday, four physicians at the hospital had to hold Gawer in his bed. His bed was taken out on the "bridge" connecting the two buildings, in plain view of the street, and a large crowd watched him. About 2 a. m. he fell asleep and awoke at 4 to talk rationally for a few moments. He relapsed and has been in a delirium since.

JOHN D. SEEKS TO REFORM FEUDISTS

Sends Revivalists From Cleveland Church to Hazel Green, Kentucky.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 21.—John D. Rockefeller has become interested in the movement to reform the feudists of Kentucky. Through an appeal from H. J. Dethick of Hazel Green, Ky., the oil king has persuaded H. M. Briggs, assistant superintendent of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Sunday-school, and Cornelius Maloney, an attorney in the Williamson building, to lead revival meetings at Hazel Green.

"What we need down here," wrote Dethick, "is more religion and less fireworks."

The last revival held at Hazel Green resulted in the killing of three men.

The Standard Oil head had recovered sufficiently from an attack of indigestion to get downtown this morning. He went to the New England Building to see his dentist, but finding him occupied took a chair beside a cigar stand and watched the throngs pass for half an hour. Only two persons recognized him, one a lawyer who foremrly attended Rockefeller's church. They shook hands, and in response to an inquiry, the oil king said: "I'm feeling a little peaked, but I'm still able to totter around."

Finally word came down that the dentist would be unable to work on his teeth today, and Mr. Rockefeller climbed into his Limousin car and told George, the chauffeur, that "there are times when you can go faster than other times."

The heat had become oppressive and George carried his master home faster than he ever had done.

Prof. Elroy M. Avery announced that he is compiling a history of the Rockefeller and Avery families, which are closely allied.

He said that the billionaire is helping to defray his expenses, which included a trip abroad.

"I have traced Mr. Rockefeller's ancestry back to the royal families of Scotland, England, France, Spain and Germany," said Prof. Avery. "This is all that Mr. Rockefeller will permit me to say until the history is completed."

New Industry for Valley Park.

The Acme Truck and Tool Co., which recently bought out the Standard Truck and Forging Co. of 3101 North Broadway, and which has been capitalized for $600,000, has acquired a new site at Valley Park, and work on the new plant will begin within ninety days. Five acres of ground has been bought on the Meramec River in Valley Park. The deal was handled by J. M. Kreider & Co. The new plant will give employment to about two hundred men. The Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. of Valley Park holds a large block of stock in the new company. The officers are Frank J. Koehler, president; Henry Schwartzing, vice-president; William Schwartzing, treasurer, and F. W. Keck, secretary. These officers and William Klassing and Dr. Helmuth Kinder comprise the Board of Directors.

In a Hurry, Broke His Leg.

After quarreling with the proprietor of a lunch stand at Eighth and Market streets about the price of two sandwiches Harry Johnson, 24, and Robert Gardner, 23, both stopping at the Cozy House, Sixth and Morgan streets, announced that they would clean out the place. John Moore, the proprietor, and several of his employes started for Johnson and Gardner, and, in his rush to get away, Gardner fell and broke his left leg between the knee and hip.

Diamond Stolen on Car.

Hereafter A. E. Spaete of 2312 Easton avenue will treat with suspicion any stranger who wants to fondle the Spaete baby. While en route on a street car to West End Heights Monday night a man who seemed to be very fond of children leaned over Spaete's shoulder and caressed baby Spaete, who was sitting on its father's lap, under the chin. Mr. Spaete was proud of the attention the baby was receiving and was saying nice things under his breath about the kind stranger. Later Mr. Spaete discovered the loss of his diamond neck pin.

Thief Gets 350 Days.

George Muse, confessed rooming house thief, pleaded guilty to five charges of larceny in the Court of Criminal Correction Tuesday, and was sentenced to serve 70 days in the Workhouse on each of the charges, or a total of 350 days. Muse went about under the pretext of renting a room, and, after gaining access to a house, stole everything available. He was captured by Mrs. Mary Haughey of Pennsylvania avenue, who held a revolver at him until the arrival of a policeman. Muse was released from the Belleville Jail, July 4, after serving for larceny.

CIVIL WAR ON IN SANTO DOMINGO

Government Sends Army to Subdue Rebels Under Gen. Navarro.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, Aug. 21.—Advices received here from Guaybin, Santo Domingo, say that Gen. Guellito, at the head of 900 revolutionists, has left Dajabon to join the troops of Gen. Navarro, and make an attack upon Monte Cristi.

The Government of Santo Domingo has sent 1200 men from Moca against the revolutionists. It is believed that a desperate civil war will follow.

THIS COUNTY FAIR WILL HAVE NO PASSES.

Even Officers Pay Way in Kansas.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ABILENE, Kan., Aug. 21.—The Dickinson County Fair Association is squarely on the anti-pass platform. It gave its order for tickets and not a single complimentary ticket was ordered. None will be used—a unique record for fairs. The officers and directors have agreed to buy season tickets, the secretary, Dr. Wann, is to buy No. 1. The outside newspapers are paid cash for advertising at regular rates. The home newspapers donate many notices of course, but will be paid for display advertisements—and every editor and reporter will pay for his ticket.

The schedule of admission charges is: Single admission, 35 cents; children under 12 years, 15 cents; quarter stretch, 25 cents; season ticket, including grandstand, $1.25.

Lived Together Six Months.

Ruth Newman filed suit in the Circuit Court Tuesday asking for a divorce from Charles M. Newman and the restoration of her maiden name, Groves. The petition alleges that they were marrried July 15, 1905, and separated in January, 1906. Mrs. Newman alleges that her husband failed to support her, that he flirted with other women, and that he conducted himself as a single man and represented himself to be single.

COLLEGE ATHLETE WHIPS A BURGLAR

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 21.—In attempting to break into the house of Dr. G. M. Savage, a midnight burglar unwisely attacked B. S. Carpenter, a college athlete, and was so badly beaten that he wanted to beat a hasty retreat.

Dr. Savage, who is professor of philosophy in the Southwestern Baptist University, where Carpenter was a student last year, is on a vacation in Texas, and Carpenter is staying at his house to protect his family during his absence.

Shortly after midnight Carpenter heard someone trying to force an entrance into the kitchen, which is on the first floor, and arming himself with an unloaded pistol, went down to meet the burglar. He found him trying to open the back door leading to the porch, and as Carpenter opened the door to drive him off, the burglar struck him a heavy blow over the shoulders with a slung shot. Corpenter returned the blow, striking his assailant over the head with the butt end of his pistol and knocking him over some chairs. Picking up one of the chairs, he knocked him through a door in the floor of the porch into the cellar, where he was safely caged.

The police were called, but in the excitement no one thought to inform them that the back door was latticed up, making it impossible for the burglar to escape, and the policemen went away without making an arrest.

After things quieted down the burglar crawled over the lattice. It is supposed that the burglar entered the cellar during the afternoon and remained there until he thought the time was ripe to commit robbery. Dr. Savage's family is composed entirely of girls.

Fined for Annoying Girl.

John Schmidt, 70 years old, who works on the levee and boards nowhere in particular, was fined $50 in the Wyoming Street Police Court Tuesday for annoying Katie Weiser, 12 years old, 3504 South Compton avenue. The child testified that on July 31, when she went to a vacant lot at Pennsylvania avenue and Miami street to get some goslings that had strayed, Schmidt acted offensively toward her. She went home and told her parents and they called a policeman, but the man got away. He was arrested Tuesday at the same place. He protested his innocence vehemently and said he would kill himself if sent to the Workhouse.

Alleged Assailants of Girls Under $2000 Bond

MAMIE CROSS and HAZEL JACKSON.

Seven Men to Have Preliminary Hearing in Clayton Friday.

Seven men, identified as having taken part in the attack alleged to have been made early Monday on Hazel Jackson, 18 years old, and Mamie Cross, 19 years old, both of 6316 South Broadway, are locked up at the Clayton Jail. They are Robert Duffy, John Mahatens, Fred Naesens, William McDonough, E. J. Reilen and John Mertens.

Warrants were issued against the men by Justice Noerper. Bond was fixed at $2000 in each case. They could not give it and were taken to Clayton by Deputy Sheriff Olderworth and Constable Schaper. They will have their preliminary hearings Friday.

Louis Schaefer is held on the charge of complicity in the crime. He is at the First District Station. Thirteen other men who were arrested have been released, as the girls were unable to identify them.

CHICAGO DIVORCES ARE 2000 A YEAR

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Two thousand divorces each year has been Chicago's average for the last two decades, according to O. M. Pond of the United States Census Bureau, who is in charge of the taking of the "divorce census."

Twenty-two clerks are now at work tabulating the various entries which are to be made in each case. In the number of clerks required for this task, Chicago leads the country, New York being next, with 20, and Philadelphia next with 15.

When the last divorce census was taken, 20 years ago, Illinois and Chicago led the country. However, that census showed only 8134 divorces for Cook County—rather a paltry showing compared with the one expected this year.

E. St. Louis News

Miss Ethel Stirrat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Stirrt, celebrated her eighteenth birthday by giving a party and musical at her home, 1131 Cleveland avenue, Monday night. The following were present: Elizabeth Ahern, Golda Morgan, Katie Taylor, Mary Hampton, Anna Fosswick, Altheat Jordan, Annia Stirrat, Edna Shaw, Hal Davidson, Bessie Stone, E. Hallows, Ella Wieseman, J. F. Anderson, C. Bowers, C. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mospes, R. J. Stirrat, F. Hogan and R. G. Stirrat.

Henry Winkelmeyer, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Winkelmbeyer, 700 St. Clar avenue, died at the Henrietta Hospital Monday night of tetanus, resulting from running rusty nails in his feet. His injuries were dresed at home, but he was later taken to the hospital, where tetanus developed. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning from the family residence to Creve Coeur Lake Cemetery.

Edward Hopkins, who was arrested Monday charged with selling meal tickets for circus tickets at the show grounds, was fined $50 and costs for fraud, Tuesday morning, by Justice McKane, and will be sent to Belleville. He is said to have sold several of the bogus tickets for 25 cents each before he was caught.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary O. Summers, aged 36, who died of malarial fever Sunday night, will be held Wednesday morning from the family home on the Collinsville road to Sacred Heart Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, St. Louis.

The funeral of Michael Langan, aged 55, who died from heat prostration Sunday, was held Tuesday morning from Sacred Heart Church to Mount Carmel Cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas Wakefield, aged 35, of 1408 Illinois avenue, who died at St. Mary's Hospital of paralysis Monday, will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the family residence to Mount Hope Cemetery.

John Robinson, a negro living at Rush City, was struck by a car at Twenty-fourth street and Bond avenue Monday, and was injured internally. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

ORDER OF COURT FORBIDS HER LOVE

Mrs. McLatchie Placed Under Peace Warrant at Man's Application.

Mrs. Clarence C. Cuff of 4868A Theodosia avenue told a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday that she had no fear any other woman would win her husband's love. She made the remark knowing that her husband, an architect employed by Mauran, Russell & Garden, had sworn out a peace warrant for Mrs. Annie McLatchie of the Commercial Hotel, Ewing avenue and Morgan street, charging her with threatening to shoot him unless he should forsake his wife for Mrs. McLatchie.

On the service of the warrant, Mrs. McLatchie will be placed under bond to keep the peace.

"They kept this affair from me for some time, thinking it best I know nothing about it," said Mrs. Cuff. Finally her efforts were so open that I learned how she was pursuing him.

"But never once have I feared. He has been a good husband to me. The thought that he will leave me never enters my mind. The past is past; the present is what counts.

"I have seen this woman's letters to him. They were shown to me by my husband. I suppose I ought not talk about those letters, because I burned them. I didn't want anybody to read them by chance and know about our affairs.

"We moved from St. Louis a year ago last June. My husband became superintendent of a division of Government work at West Point. We returned here three months ago, and lived in Victor street. We have just moved into this house. The annoyances were repeated almost as soon as we returned."

The case was given a legal aspect when Cuff obtained a peace warrant Monday for Mrs. McLatchie in Justice Hanley's court. In applying for it, he swore to many annoyances, but said the climax came last Saturday, when Mrs. McLatchie met him as he left his office and threatened to shoot him and his wife unless he abandoned his wife for her.

Mrs. McLatchie lives with her daughter, Mamie McLatchie. She is young in appearance. Her daughter is just out of her teens, and has beautiful, regular features. She is a cloak model.

Mrs. McLatchie had business with various persons downtown and could not be seen at home. Miss McLatchie said Tuesday: "There are two sides to every case. I know mother is in the right, but I can't talk of the case."

Mrs. McLatchie has consulted with Attorneys Richey and Joy in the Oriel Building. A Post-Dispatch reporter asked Mr. Richey about the case.

"We will move for an early trial," said Mr. Richey. "I cannot discuss the case, except to say there is no love affair in it as far as I know.

"Cuff was formerly the guardian of Miss McLatchie."

Mr. Richey intimated that finances would play a strong lead to love when the defense is presented.

Cuff first met Mrs. McLatchie, he says, in Bulalo, 13 years ag. Later he saw her frequently in Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. McLatchie told a friend that she made no threat upon Cuff Saturday and met him quite by accident. He invited her for a car ride, she said, to talk over a financial matter, and while they were riding Cuff proposed that she call that evening, she said. Cuff's reason for leaving the city two years ago was a financial disagreement between them, she said.

BACK HOME TO DIE.

Frank Aehart, who died suddenly in front of the office of Dr. C. R. Kiser at Madison, was formerly a prosperous resident of Venice. He left 15 years ago, after a quarrel with his wife. His daughter died shortly after and he returned to the funeral, but went away again and all trace of him was lost. His wife got a divorce and married A. Rush of Madison.

Two weeks ago Aehart reappeared at Venice. Lerning that his wife had remarried he did not go to see her, but found shelter in a box car near Madison. He became ill there and for several days lay in the box car with a raging fever and nothing to eat.

Monday afternoon he dragged himself to the office of Dr. Kiser, who insisted upon his going to the hospital, but he refused. The doctor gave him medicine and he went out and sat on a ledge in front of the office. Presently he fell over and when he was picked up he was dead.

His body was taken to the Voorhees Undertaking establishment at Granite City. An inquest held by Deputy Coroner Voorhees resulted in a verdict that death was due to typhoid fever. Unless former friends of the man intervene, his body will be buried in Potters' field.

Aehart is said to have been worth $15,000 at one time. He never explained why he separated from his wife. It is supposed that he came back because he felt that he did not have much longer to live.

DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS

LOCAL STOCKS STEADY, FIRM

Missouri-Lincoln and Miscellaneous List Stocks Features in Trading.

BANK LIST INACTIVE

Sales Were Better Than for Several Days—Breweries Have Good Demand.

The local stock market opened firm and steady, with Reading and Missouri-Lincoln Trust bonds as the first feature. These scored an advance of 3 points, making a total advance of four since the market of Saturday. The last sales of Missouri-Lincoln were at $135.

The second feature of the market was the trading in Ely-Walker common at $110, which was steady. Candy common was in demand at $16.50.

While there were no bank bond transactions, the market was steady and firm on Third National of $310, bids of $608 finding no sales.

There was nothing doing in the tractions, the prices of which ruled steady and firm.

TO TRY PEONAGE CASES.

Judge Lewis and Court Officers Gone to Cape Girardeau.

Judge Robert E. Lewis and other Government officials departed Tuesday on the steamer Chester for Cape Girardeau, where they will summon a special petit jury to try the cases against the Smith brothers, farmers, near Sikeston, Mo., who are under indictment on peonage charges. They are accused of holding negro laborers under durance. The cases are set for Sept. 11.

The party expects to combine pleasure with business, and will spend some time hunting and fishing. Others in it were Senator Warner, United States Marshal Morsey, District Attorney Dyer, Deputy Marshal Nall, Clerk James R. Gray, Judge Reynolds and G. V. Dahlgren.

STOCK MARKET GETS A DECIDED SET BACK

Declines Are Marked in Several Standard Issues—St. Paul and Morgan Railroads in Southeast Are Advance Features—Fuels and Industrials Are at Better Prices.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—On reports of the opening of the London Stock Market at ¼ to ½ below parity for Americans, The New York Stock Market opened from ¼ to ½ lower with trading nominal.

The news from London is that the decline is marked in all securities on account of the disaster in Chile which it is feared will affect some of the best stocks.

On the New York market the Harriman stocks opened: Union Pacific, 183 and sold down to 182½, ¼ point off Monday's close; Southern Pacific opened at 90⅜, which was ½ point off from the close of Monday.

St. Paul opened strong on a sale of 3000 shares at 193, the close of Monday having been 192⅜.

There was a significant move in Erie at the opening, a sale of 1500 shares being made at 46¾, the close last night having been 46½.

The information to the effect that Morgan railroads would advance is being verified, as L. & N. opened this morning at 152, one point above the Monday's close of 151, and advanced to 153, on good demand.

The first quotations on Missouri Pacific were 99½, 99¼ and 99⅜, the decline being from Monday's close of 99⅝.

Fuels and the industrials generally opened fractionally lower and sold down on only slight demand, in keeping with London and the general market. The depression of the opening was unexpected and recovery under activity is looked for.

Only a few features of the market in the forenoon developed a continuance of the general advance in prices of the past 10 days. The weakness of Pennsylvania and allied properties was taken as due to realizing sales.

St. Paul and Erie were among the few to reach high levels, and Steel, big and little, were improved. The best figure on St. Paul was 193⅞, with the general belief that the 200 predicted would be reached tomorrow if not today.

Erie reached its highest price at 47 and is believed to be slated for higher.

There is reported to have been a heavy accumulation of Sugar shares, and as the market showed strength today the belief was expressed in some quarters that the stock would soon be a feature.

The sensational advances in the preferred stocks of Great Northern and Northern Pacific, both in the Northern Securities net, indicated the near approach of the announcement of the sale of Great Northern ore lands in Minnesota to the Steel corporation.

The fuels, Tennessee Coal and Iron and Colorado Fuel and Iron, both had substantial advances, and the performance of Colorado was unexplained. It opened ½ point up, declined to 57¼ low and then shot up to 61⅝. The great amount of steel rail and structural iron demanded for the next year is supposed to give the added value to fuel and iron stocks.

On the floor the opinion was that the advances in fuels and steel, which were simultaneous, was a carrying out of the plans of the big speculators to manipulate toward advance in concert with the railroads.

The upward trend of all stocks during the past ten days is characterized in some quarters as indicating the determination of the banking interests to force the public into the market to purchase and the argument is backed by the statement that the average sales of over two and one-half million shares per day for a week indicates the public is in the market more than it has been for five years.

Missouri Pacific and Rock Island sustained their quotations of Monday with an occasional variation of ⅛ to ¼.

Copper and Smelting stocks showed firmness on account of the near approach of the dividend meetings, for while Smelter is reported to be on the way from a 7 to a 10 per cent dividend, Copper, it is expected, will pay 7 per cent.

The failure of the Pacific stocks controlled by Harriman to preserve the high levels reached through the dividend declaration of Friday is not a surprise to the professionals who have not classed Union Pacific in the list with 190 and 200 railroad stocks.

Southern Railway and L. & N., the Morgan southeast railroad stocks, did not feel the weakness and decline of the market during the whole of the session. L. & N. was quoted at 152½ at noon and Southern Railway at 39⅜ at the same hour.

Lay Reader in Episcopal Church Was Popular in Alton.

Rev. H. M. Chittenden of Alton has been notified by Rt. Rev. Bishop Seymour of Springfield that the license of Alexander Childs, a lay-reader in the St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Alton, has been revoked and also that he is suspended from any rights to perform church services, pending an investigation of his character.

Childs lived in Alton at the home of H. G. Beatty of 1003 Alby street. He went away Friday leaving many unpaid bills. He came six months ago with a letter of recommendation from the Bishop of London. It is believed now that this letter was a forgery.

Childs was a good singer and before he had been in the church two months he led the choir. He was well posted in the services of the Episcopal Church and he participated in the services sas a lay-reader.

When he left Friday he neglected to pay his board bill of $20, and attempted to obtain two suits of clothes on credit at the tailoring firm of D. Seigel & Co. His measurement was taken and the goods cut up for the suits, but he failed to appear to make the first payment. Childs represented a company which manufactured chemicals. He dressed faultlessly and was always well groomed. He had a florid complexion, a brown mustache, was about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighed about 180 pounds. His pleasing manner and versatile accomplishments had made him a favorite with the congregation. Before leaving he attempted to borrow large sums of money from the rector and wealthy members of the church. It is not known that he obtained any.

Wife and Child Missing.

Mrs. Maggie Dodson of 1418 Salisbury street, 36 years old, is missing from her home with her 3-year-old daughter, Evelyn. Charles Dodson, her husband, asked the police Tuesday to help him find her. Mrs. Dodson has been missing since Aug. 15. Her husband says he has spent the interval in searching for her at the homes of relatives and friends and in hospitals. He is unable, he says, to account for her absence.

Water in the Pipes, Oh Joy!

Kirkwood and Clayton people had water Tuesday other than that which came from the clouds direct. Water flowed again through the pipes of the West St. Louis Water and Light Co. There had not been any flowing for two days and the people were very glad to get it.

Alton Man President

A. E. Bassett of Alton has been elected president of the Leffler Electric Co., a corporation organized in Chicago with $5,000,000 capital stock. The purpose of the company is to promote and exploit the inventions of Paul W. Leffler, a Chicago inventor, who says that he has discovered a new system of operating electric railway cars and trains.

FEATURELESS DAY IN GRAIN MARKET

Wheat, After Fluctuating in Sympathy With Liverpool, Closed Slightly Higher.

WERE NO NEW FACTORS

Corn Steady to Higher on Small Estimated Receipts —Oats Dull.

Today's trading in the local grain pit was dull, neither faction taking any decisive action in the absence of any new features that would affect prices. The news of the day was scant, and few really significant deals were consummated in the local pit. Prices were almost at a standstill, the market being characterized by the professionals as contrary. At the close prices showed a slight advance over yesterday.

The local market sympathized greatly with Liverpool, and almost duplicated that city's record for the day.

The cash market was firm, there being light offerings and a fair milling demand, and the good prices brought by all cash grains had a good effect on the future prices.

The foreign markets were highly irregular, Liverpool, which closed higher, after various fluctuations, being the only strong one among them.

Local wheat opened steady to about ⅛c higher in sympathy with strong Liverpool cables, and after being pounded by the bears to quarter of a point below yesterday's close, rallied on crop damage reports from the Northwest, and closed about ⅜c higher than Monday's close. The small estimate for tomorrow's receipts, which are the smallest of the year, had a good effect on prices, and prices in the local market were helped by the strength shown in Minneapolis, where a good advance was scored on the rumors of a disappointing yield in the Northwest, and reports of crop damage from excessive rains from the same region.

Corn closed about steady. The small estimate for tomorrow's receipts and the good demand for cash articles at slightly advanced prices, resulted in advancing September option about ⅜@⅝c. The close on this future was steady at the high price of the day. December and May futures did not follow in the rise, but held steady at a slight advance.

Oats were, as usual, dull, with few transactions of importance. The close of this cereal was steady, about on a par with Monday's close.

Farmers in several parts of the country are not satisfied with the prevailing prices in grain, and for the first time for quite a while are reported to be building granaries and warehouses, in which to store their grains, and await better prices before selling.

Reports from the corn regions state that the crop is a large one and doing finely, and with a few weeks more of the fine weather now prevailing will be out of all danger.

Broomhall cables state that the Liverpool wheat market opened with an advance of ⅜d under the influence of strong cables from America. The Liverpool wheat market acted irregularly, however, and after a decline of ⅛@¼d on the fine American grades there, and the indifferent spot demand, rallied and closed about ⅜d higher. The Liverpool corn market was strong and closed about ⅜d higher on the strength in America, and the strong spot demand.

Advices from abroad state that the foreign crops will fall far short of expectations, especially Russia. This had a steadying effect on the home markets and encouraged the buyers, for as our winnter crop will probably be a record-breaker and the spring variety is doing nicely, a foreign demand is needed to support prices. The export demand has so far been disappointing, but it is expected to pick up under the influence of short crops abroad.

Trolley Conductor Hurt.

W. H. Pritchett, a conductor on the Alton, Granite & St. Louis electric line, had hold of the trolley rope as his car was backing into a switch. A jerk of the car caused the spring which controls the trolley pole to give way and Pritchett's right arm was broken and his hand cut and his shoulder bruised. He was taken home.

"PUGS" POPULAR IN NEVADA CAMP

Nelson and Gans Given Large Welcome in Goldfield Diggings.

MONEY IS COMING EASY

Promoters of Fight Experience No Trouble in Securing Immense Guarantee.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Aug. 21.—The exploitation of gold mines has for the moment turned to the lighter pastime of promoting pugilism in this camp in the desert. It is not that the mines are not yielding as much bullion as ever, nor that new camps are not being opened up every day within easy travel from its center, but the men who have seen what nature has given up to them in two years since the first prospect was located here have decided that all work and no play will surely make Jack a dullard, and as their work has been strenuous so must their holiday season.

It took just 30 minutes for Tex Rickard to collect $52,000 from the business men of the camp and get it in the bank to cover the purse of $30,000 called for by Billy Nolan, the manager of Battling Nelson. Next he had Joe Gans and Nolan started on their way to Goldfields. He was not satisfied with that and met them at Reno and out-talked Eddie Graney, the fight promoter from San Francisco, who wanted to give $40,000, after admitting that it would be a welching trick for the pugilists to go back on the word they had pledged by wire.

Nelson's Spectacular Arrival.

Rickard won the talkfest and had them in the desert mining camp within 24 hours. Everything looked good to them both, and then came Nelson, sent for by his manager. To be sure, his coming was rather spectacular. That was the idea of Nolan, for the Battler has no idea of anything but straightforward business. Bat's train was seven hours late. That would have landed him in Goldfield at 4 o'clock in the morning, an hour when only the nighthawks are on the street. It was not satisfactorily spectacular for Billy Nolan, and he wired his man to remain in Tonopah until the forenoon and then come over in an automobile.

They picked out the fastest desert machine known in this section, and after the Dane had shown himself around Tonopah and given the glad mitt—which the boys always have ready—to everyone that elbowed his way through the crowd, the party loaded into the benzine buggy and hit the high places for Goldfield.

Bettors Fancy Gans.

The trip was made in 44 minutes and 30 seconds, and Bat has not finished talking of it yet. He says that it was the swiftest little ride that he ever had taken, and he isn't sure whether he wants to take another like it or not. Anyway, they chugged into Goldfield at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon and the crowd had been ribbed up to meet the fighting Dane.

The reception that Gans received, though enthusiastic, was not a marker to the one given Bat, simply because Joe came solely to fight, without any hurrah or eye to the theatrical. He came on the train at night, like any other traveler—he was his own manager, while Nolan was doing that stunt for Nelson.

Just the same, Gans is holding his own in the favor of the people, and the bets that are already being placed make him a 4-to-3 favorite.

He is training at the Merchants' Hotel in Columbia, a hamlet about a mile from Goldfield, and will make the weight like a mouse. While he has done no sparring yet, he gets up early in the morning and does his road work before the cool night breeze gives way to the rays of the desert sun. He will have Kid Sims for a sparring partner, while Frank McDonald has charge of his training. To show how easy it would be for him to make the required 133 pounds on Sept. 3, it is only necessary to mention that within a week after his arrival he stripped to 137. He is sure that the dry air of the desert at this altitude—nearly 6000 feet—will bring him to the scales in fine condition without any preparatory drying out of diet, and as to condition, he is in shape today if he were called on. Gans says that he wants no manager, that he is through with managers, and that when it gets to such a pass that he will have to have a manager he will have to have a man to fight his battles for him.

Bat thinks there is not much work required to get him into trim for the fight, as far as weight is concerned, though three days after his arrival he stripped at 139 pounds. He will get his heavy work out of George Gardner, while for footwork and lighter sparring he is using Jack Clifford, a local pugilist, and Bobby Lundy.

He says that at 133 he can whip any man of that weight in the world and is not worrying over the result. The articles were signed without much quibbling. Gans wanted to fight bad, so he did not stand out against Nolan's claim of $20,000 for Nelson against $10,000 for Gans, win or lose.

TENNIS PLAYERS THRONG NEWPORT

Great Wielders of the Racquet From All Parts of America Hasten to Championships.

MISS SUTTON ON VIEW

Famous Young Lady Who Created Sensation Abroad Will Take Part in Events.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21.—The lawn tennis players entered for the National Tournament that opened today arrived in goodly numbers and registered at the Casino. The prizes are on exhibition in the Casino lobby. They include the handsome gold cups, emblematic of the championship on doubles on which are inscribed the names of H. L. and R. F. Doherty, winners in 1902 and 1903, and of Holcombe Ward and Beals C. Wright, winners in 1904 and 1905. If Ward and Wright successfully defend their championship titles Wednesday the cups will become their personal property.

The large silver loving cup which is given by the National Association for the championship in singles, has four names inscribed on it as the champions of five different years—William A. Larned, 1901 and 1902; H. L. Doherty, 1903; Holcomb Ward, 1904, and Beals C. Wright, 1905. Larned has two wins on this cup, and if he defeats Wright for the championship will take the cup.

Many Valuable Prizes.

There is a Casino championship cup of gold for the championship in singles. This has the names of H. L. Doherty, Holcombe Ward and Beals C. Wright inscribed upon it. It has to be won only two years, not necessarily successive, to become anyone's property.

In addition to the cups there are two handsome vases with embossed open work in a rose design, for the winners of the East vs. West match in doubles, the interscholastic championship prize, a consolation prize, and large three-handle cups of silver for the winner and the runner-up in the national tournament.

Upon the arrival here of Miss May Sutton, the American woman lawn tennis champion, a tournament of mixed doubles was arranged to be played at the Casino. In the opening match Miss Sutton, who was paired with Mr. Willing Spencer, was pitted against Miss Edna Barger and Mr. J. D. E. Jones, the Rhode Island champion. It was an interesting match, the playing of Miss Sutton attracting a large attendance of summer residents. Miss Sutton and Mr. Spencer won in straight sets, 6—3, 6—2.

Notables on the Courts.

Immediately following this match, Mrs. Barger Wallach and Mr. Herbert M. Harriman played against Miss Eleanora Sears and Mr. Cyril Hatch. Mrs. Barger Wallach and her partner won the first set easily at 6—3, and looked like a sure winner in the second set, but early in the set Miss Sears and Mr. Hatch showed great improvement and won out, 6—2.

The third set was won, 6—4, by Miss Sears and Mr. Hatch. The match between Miss Sutton and Mr. Spencer and Miss Sears and Mr. Hatch will be played Wednesday on a private court. Later in the week a larger tournament in mixed doubles will be arranged to be started Saturday and to be played on Casino courts, as the progress of the national tournament will then be such as to give plenty of courts for this tournament. Miss Sutton, who is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Shaw Safe, will remain during the national tournament and will visit during her stay others of the summer residents.

RAVENS SURELY ARE CANDIED PEACHES

McAleer's Men Knock Waddell Out of Box and Win Second Athletic Game.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The Athletics and the Ravens are scheduled for a double-header today. The probable pitchers are Powell and Howell for St. Louis; Plank and Bender for Philadelphia.

Powell practiced before yesterday's game and appeared to be in fine condition. He is confident that he will annex his game. He wants O'Connor to catch him and it is probable that Jack, whose finger has been in bad shape for the past two weeks, will go in and receive his brother-in-law.

The Ravens annexed Monday's game, 7 to 1, making the series to date between the two clubs eight winning games for each.

Waddell and Glade were the pitchers Monday and the way the latter worked the Athletic batters was a wonder.

He caused the greatest surprise by his exhibition of a wonderful slow ball that he would unwind the same as his fast shoots. Jack O'Connor has taught him to throw it and the art of mixing 'em up and the result is being plainly shown in his work.

Harry Davis was particularly helpless before Glade. Time was when Harry used to look on Glade as one of his easiest propositions. That was some time ago, however, and the great American League batsman spends his time nowadays telling what a big help Glade would be to the Athletics.

Waddell twirled for the locals and was batted all over the lot. He appeared to have everything, but could not hold the bingling Ravens.

Koehler had another great day of it at the bat, in the field and on the bases.

O'Brien and Glade were the only St. Louisans who did not obtain hits. The former, however, distinguished himself by handling superbly six chances in the field.

FITZGERALD AND GRANT DEFEAT FIREMEN.

Gerald Fitzgerald and Dick Grant defeated John Mulvoy and William Murdoch, 21—12, 21—19, 21—14, Sunday, in an interesting handball match at No. 35's engine house, 5450 Arsenal street.

Fitzgerald and Grant claim the handball championship of the city in the 17-year-old class and are the holders of the St. Kevin's Cup, won in a recent tournament given under the auspices of Father Courtney of that church.

Fitzgerald and Grant have a standing challenge to play any pair of players under 20 at No. 7's court, Eighteenth and Rutger streets, for the St. Kevin's Cup.

POOR POLICING AT BIG REGATTA

No Adequate Precautions Were Taken to Protect Course at Lake Quinsigamund.

"If the National Rowing Association ever gives Lake Quinsigamund its national regatta again it should be with a guarantee that the policing of the course be improved," said William Surbled of the St. Louis Rowing Club, who returned from the scene of the rowing championships Monday.

Mr. Surbled, the members of the Mound City Four, who competed in the senior and international fours, and John J. Schaab, one of the directors of the National Rowing Association, spent a week together in the East before returning to St. Louis.

Mr. Surbled says that of all miserable failures in the way of protection from the interference of spectators' boats the regatta at Worcester stood head and shoulders above all others.

"No fewer than three crews, one of them the Mound Citys, were put hopelessly out of the race through the interference of outside craft," said Surbled.

"Not only during races, but chiefly between events, launches churned up the water until at times the swells resembled those which break on the coast line in summer. Shells had to surmount back-breaking rollers in almost every race. There is no telling how the results of several races were effected through this interference.

"They do many queer things in a rowing line in the old countries," continued Mr. Surbled, "but they know how to police a course.

"In fact they do not make it mandatory on the police to prevent interference. The spirit of sport-loving takes care of that."

Mr. Surbled ascribes the cause of the Mound City Fours' defeat to an ailment that seized the members of the Orange and Black crew and the Riversides of Boston who were stopping at the same hotel.

"All the boys became deathly sick," said Surbled, "and were weak and incapable of hardy competition the day of the finals.

"The race was hardly rowed to its true form, as the Mound City crew beat the winners of the finals—the Winnipegs—Friday, in faster time than the victors made in Saturday's event."

GEORGANTAS, THE GREEK, ARRIVES IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—George Georgantas, the Greek weight thrower and strong man, who competed in the Olympic games in St. Louis in 1904, and in Athens last summer, arrived here from Europe last week, and in all probability will be a contender in the coming national championships. It will be remembered that Georgantas defeated Sheridan in throwing the heavy stone at the Olympic games. To the Americans the contest was unsatisfactory. The Greek beat the Yankee by inches only, despite the fact that the latter man had a sprained knee and could not bear his full weight on it. Georgantas made an open boast of victory over Sheridan and vaunted that he could take the American into camp at any stage of the game. Georgantas' rather unsportsmanlike conduct has made the sinewy New Yorker rather sore. He does not say much, but whenever the Greek's name is mentioned there comes a flinty glint into Sheridan's naturally laughing eyes that implies much. The superiority of the men will in all probability soon be tested.

NAME OF JOHNNY DOBBS TAKEN OFF BLACK LIST.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Considerable surprise was manifested locally yesterday when the name of Johnny Dobbs was seen on the blacklist issued by the National Commission. President Ebbets said this morning that this was necessary under the rules, inasmuch as Dobbs had refused to go to Kansas City or Louisville when requested and had failed to report to Brooklyn afterward. He said, however, that Dobbs had always been a faithful player for Brooklyn, had never broken any rules, and had always conducted himself in a proper manner. As a consequence, he had wired to Manager Donovan, asking if he had any use for Dobbs, and if not, the player would get his unconditional release. In this way, President Ebbets hopes to remove any black mark on the enviable career of the ex-Superba.

COULON SEEKS BOUT WITH BOB GRESHAM

Little Chicago Boxer Anxious to Even Up With St. Louis Bantam Sparrer.

E. E. Coulon, father of Johnny Coulon, the 105-pound Chicago boxer who was beaten by Bob Gresham, has written to Tommy Sullivan asking the M. A. C.'s boxing instructor to try and arrange a match between the boys for the near future.

Mr. Coulon says that the decision Gresham obtained over his son is the only one that has ever been scored against the pride of Chicago.

Coulon says that if a special match cannot be arranged between the boys for the immediate future that he will bring down Johnny to St. Louis to compete in some of the open tournaments during the winter.

The Chicago boxer is a nephew of George McFadden, the former lightweight champion of the world. He is a manly, courageous little fellow, and early in the summer was awarded a medal for saving the life of a comrade who had fallen into the water. He was given a medal by one of the life-saving societies in recognition of his courageous act.

Gresham is anxious to meet Coulon and is confident that he will again beat the little Chicagoan. Difficulty is being experienced in getting the boys together, as there will be no boxing tournaments held until November, and by that time the Western Amateur Athletic Union's boxing championships will be held.

Gresham is already industriously preparing for competition in them, and it is not probable that he will be able to meet Coulon until the tourney is over.

PITCHED BALL BREAKS ARM

Well-Known Amateur Baseball Player Sustains Severe Injuries.

William Bascomb, one of the best-known amateur ball players in St. Louis, is carrying his arm about in a plaster of paris cast as a result of having it broken by a pitched ball last Saturday.

Bascomb was playing for the Triple A nine in a game with the St. Mark team, both organizations being members of the Triple A League.

Ryan, the St. Mark pitcher, is noted as one of the swiftest pitchers in the league and in the sixth inning of the game he hit Bascomb's arm below the elbow with a fast inshoot.

The blow was a terrific one and Bascomb dropped his bat, suffering excruciating pain.

A physician who was watching the game examined the arm and pronounced it broken above the elbow.

Bascomb does not expect to play again this year.

3 STARS FOR MICHIGAN.

Crack Athletes From Brown to Go to Ann Arbor.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 21.—Among the men who may come to Michigan this year with a view of entering athletics are the Ehmke brothers of Brown University.

They were both on the football team last year, Frank, the elder, playing end, and his brother full. It is very likely that Frank will not be eligible, but his brother, who weighs over 200 pounds, can probably make the 1907 team. He is also a star pitcher. Frank Ehmke held the discus record at 129 feet until Ralph Rose broke it, and he can also put the shot 44 feet 1 inch.

Russ, recent captain of the Brown eleven, will also come to Michigan this year, but he is not eligible to play.

BASEBALL BABBLE

Perhaps Ed Walsh, the rosy-cheeked pitcher of the White Sox, is not going some just now. At the start of the season he was not considered one of the regulars of Comiskey's pitching staff, and a few weeks ago he was not worked at all. Recently, however, he has been used ofteener than any other of the Chicago twirlers. That he is pitching good ball is shown by the scores, three of his last seven games, all of which have been victories, having been shutouts. To tell the truth, all of the Chicago twirlers are doing good work, Walsh, Patterson and White especially.

No Cardinal game Tuesday. Tenny's Beaneaters will open at League Park on Wednesday.

With the exception of Glade, O'Brien and Niles, every Raven made two hits. Niles made one and O'Brien and Glade failed to get any.

The Ravens will clash twice Tuesday with the Athletics.

Stone made a home run and a single and Hemphill made two doubles.

Koehler made a catch Monday that was almost an exact duplicate of the one he made in Washington.

The Giants and McGinnity got "theirs." Pfeister and the Cubs beat them, 3 to 0. Shannon got his daily hit.

McGraw was not in uniform. Muggsy mixed with the Chicagoans in the stand and saw the game.

A big yellow flag with the word Muggsy in black letters was flown near the Cubs' grounds. It so insulted Trainer Tuthill, who works for McGraw, that he cut the string which floated it, and was mobbed for his pains.

President Robert Lee Hedges of the St. Louis American League Club, is with the Ravens in the Eastern cities.

Danny Murphy, the Athletics' second-sacker, is out of the game as the result of an injury. Knight is covering second in his absence.

Wallace apparently is immune to bridegroomitis. He is playing an excellent game for McAleer. Tuesday he led the Ravens with the stick, getting three safeties.

Buster Brown, the Cardinal pitcher, spent Monday fishing. Brown is a sober, sedate young fellow, who does not smoke, drink or chew, and he finds solace and surcease from baseball cares beside the banks of little brooklets where bass are plentiful.

According to measurements of Groundkeeper Fensky, it is exactly 468 feet from the League Park home plate to the Cardinal clubhouse.

A New York paper states that if Chicago did not have such a big lead the Giants would be in first place. That looks like a good argument.

Donahue of Detroit, Hogg of New York and Eells of Cleveland are the only fielding pitchers in the American League without an error chalked up to their names.

Eddie Plank's brother, Ira, who is pitching for the Norwich club, is the leading pitcher of the Connecticut League, and also ranks with the crack batsmen of that organization. He is slated for faster company, as the Norwich club has a number of offers for him.

It is announced that Pitcher Doyle, the crack twirler of the Wheeling club, of the Central League, has been sold to the New York Americans for $2000.

Left Fielder Burke of the Lynn, New England League team, died as a result of being hit with a ball in the temple.

A second Silk O'Loughlin is what Umpire Buckley of the Southern League is called.

There have not been as many long games this season as last—the 16, 18 and 20 inning kind.

According to the Pittsburg Dispatch, Brooklynites can give Pittsburgers cards and spades when it comes to rooting.

Lack of a timely hit is the cause of many a defeat for the Brooklyn team. The Superbas can work a base, but fail to do the swatting necessary to get the runs.

Burch and Bennett are both very speedy in getting to first base. McCloskey has some likely youngsters in Burch and Hoeslkoetter. The latter can shoot the ball across the diamond and is a regular Billy Nash thrower.

"Foxy Griff," the New York American manager, is after two promising Chicago City League players, who will join his team soon.

Phil Nadeau, the former Brockton player, made a remarkable fly catch in Shreveport the other day, which resulted in a triple play.

John S. Ray, formerly manager of a "Kitty" League team, is planning to form a small league of six or eight teams in Tennessee.

Houston, Tex., landed 22 out of its first 28 games in the second season of the race down that way.

Hank O'Day was welcomed back into the National League by the players. An impartial, conscientious official, he is recognized as such by the men over whom he has charge.

There are but three big League batsmen who have made five hits in a game. They are Wagner, Clarke and Schulte.

First Baseman Grimshaw is leading the Boston Americans in both batting and fielding.

A Memphis dispatch confirms the report that the Athletic Club has purchased Nicholls, the fast and hard-hitting shortstop of the Memphis club. He will join the Athletics after Sept. 23.

Harris of the Boston team is a frequent loser in the box, but he is credited with 70 assists from his position this season.

There is but little chance of Cleveland securing any of the star Youngstown twirlers, Kennedy, Castleton or Schettler, for the reason that Manager Marty Hogan does not entertain the best of feeling toward the Cleveland management. In the spring Hogan wanted Shinke for third base, but Cleveland could not see it that way and turned down his request. Consequently Hogan does not intend to throw any players Cleveland's way. It is not known, however, that Cleveland wants any of Hogan's men.

KAUFFMAN WILL FIGHT.

Westerner to Meet Canadian Heavyweight in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 21.—Al Kauffman will meet Tommy Burns Sept. 12. He started last night from Philadelphia for Los Angeles. Kauffman once refused this fight because of theatrical plans, but later last night McCarey received a telegram accepting the terms of the match and asking for transportation to Los Angeles by way of San Francisco. The tickets were telegraphed at once.

SHEPARD TO DRIVE AUTO.

Well-Known Racer to Compete in Vanderbilt Cup Event.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Elliott F. Shepard has written to a friend here that he will sail for America on Sept. 2. He is to drive a Hotchkiss racer as a member of the French team in the Vanderbilt cup race, Oct. 6, and being especially anxious to give a good account of himself is coming over early, so as to have plenty of time to become accustomed to the course.

NAPS SECURE NEW OUTFIELDER.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Joe Birmingham of Elmira, the heavy-hitting and fast fielder of the A. J. and G. Club, has been sold to the Cleveland Americans for $1500. He will not join Cleveland until the close of the State League season.

THE SPORTSMAN'S NICHE

BY J. B. SHERIDAN

Take him to develop, if you can.
And hew the block off and get out the man.
—Pope.

The excellent Republic very pleasantly takes me to task for my statement that sentient man would trade Niles of the Ravens for Steinfeldt of Chicago, and asks me if I really mean it.

Quite. I may be wrong, but I consider Niles the finest piece of raw material that has ever come to the mills of baseball. Steinfeldt is hitting, but he is slow on his feet, and not a sound man any more. This is his one year. He is approaching what my most noble friend, Dick Nappes, calls the "sere and yellow." This year his hitting may have made him a more useful man than Niles. But there are years to come.

As for Niles, he is a subject with which I would like to deal. With a full appreciation of the value of superlatives, and with all coldness of blood in the world, I think that when he learns to play ball Niles will break up the game, or at least cause its governors to make new rules to bring him back to the average level of the other players.

When Niles came to St. Louis he was a raw amateur. It was necessary to lead him around the bases. He went at a fly ball like a Sunday morning amateur.

The boy has improved rapidly. He is getting around the bases faster than any man in the world, though he does not get a good start. He slides head first and flat, which is not at all equal to the feet first and foot-hook slide.

Beginning very poorly, Niles has hit well enough to make it interesting. Frankly I must admit that he does not know how to bat. He hits with a short circular swoop. There is no slash, no freedom, no cut or wheever in his batting stroke. But his eye is good and wrist firm. Why should he not hit?

I would give a great deal for Harry Niles' youth and speed and power and my own knowledge of how to apply such things. Were I Niles, knowing as much as I do, I would put that old game out of business next year.

He needs to learn a couple of batting strokes, the cut to left field, the drive to center and the pull to right. He does not possess any one of them. He hits with a hip swing, as an old lady sweeps floors. How he hits as well as he does I cannot understand any more than I can understand why pitchers do not keep the curve ball inside and low to George Stone, instead of giving him the straight one outside and high, where he can kill it.

But how easy it would be, should be, to learn these batting strokes. Were I young Niles I would go to California this winter and play amateur baseball on the lots and learn to hit. I would employ a pitcher to throw center balls as my order, the fast one outside for the cut, the slow and the curve for the pull, make him put them where I was weak and keep on hitting them. I would bunt by the hour and practice sliding by the week.

Will Niles do this? Hardly. When the season closes he will probably return to his snow-bound home in Northern Michigan and not touch a baseball or practice a stroke until spring training begins again.

No, I would not trade Niles for Steinfeldt, because I think that there is in Niles the material of a world wonder in the game of baseball.

Of course, the figures are against me. Steinfeldt is hitting 360, Niles 220. Yet I have always felt sorry for the man who can see no farther than the past.

When Lightfoot Lightbody tackles Melvin Sheppard in that mile championship we expect to see the West gather some wool.

One of the things which confirms me in the belief that baseball has not at all reached a stage of final perfection is that it is one of the few great games entirely lacking a literature.

Some books have been written on how to play baseball. These have had the names of great players attached to them. The manuscript has been supplied by avaricious baseball reporters who really possessed but a very superficial knowledge of the game and were not at all capable of entering into its spirit.

They merely transcribed and put into very common English the very common ideas held by very common baseball players upon the most uncommon of all games.

When we compare the literature of baseball with that of cricket, golf, polo, tennis, hunting, fishing, etc., we find the great national game at a very serious disadvantage. Golf possesses the finest literature of all the ball games chiefly because it is the favorite pastime of matured and highly educated men. University professors have given much time and thought to the Scotch game, and many great men of wide education have played it. It is, therefore, the best written of all the games.

Englishmen write their games very much better than we do. The cricket literature of England is of value of its depth and finish as well as for the technical information it conveys. The same may be said of football. It is only in field sport proper, such as hunting, fishing, shooting, etc., that we at all approach Englishmen in writing of sports.

So far it seems that not one man of even moderate literary powers and understanding, has undertaken to write baseball. Which cannot mean other than that our educated men have not learned or practiced baseball so thoroughly as to write of it with authority and decision. We have many men, professionals, who play baseball, but who do not really understand it, or if they do understand, do not possess the faculty of transferring their ideas to paper.

This can only be taken to mean one thing. Which is, that the minds of superior Americans have not yet been given to baseball and therefore that the game cannot have, by any means, reached anything like the stage of final perfection.

A. A. PLAYERS FOR BOSTON

The wholesale buying of players by the Cleveland team is said to be a proposition to strengthen the Boston outfit for next year. It is claimed that Berger and Hinchman will be turned over to the Boston team in the spring.

The American League policy is to strengthen its weak teams, and Ban Johnson is exerting every effort to put Boston on its feet again.

Denny Sullivan of Minneapolis, it is expected, will go to Boston.

The latest move is the purchase of Pitcher Oberlin of Milwaukee, ostensibly for Cleveland, but really for the Boston team.

Catcher Blue, Second Baseman Knabe and Shortstop Perrine are also likely to be bought for the same purpose.
